Through The Unknowable Family Life With Depression Alcohol And Love:

Through the Unknowable Elsa Campion, 2012-03-16 A heartbreaking memoir from a psychiatrist who must reexamine the meaning of depression and addiction when they strike her own daughter Now rather than helping her patients to survive Elsa must look inward for strength and courage She employs all of her expertise motherly love and endless empathy to face the hardest questions a parent can ask What do I say to reach my daughter How do I help her Can I help her Through the Unknowable is an intimate and fiercely honest look inside a family falling apart and a mother who never stops trying to pick up the pieces This book is a must read for anyone who knows or wonders how it feels to wander through the unknowable

Through the Unknowable Elsa Campion, 2011-11-04 Elsa Campion a psychiatrist specializing in helping patients struggling with depression and drug and alcohol abuse reexamines the meanings of these psychological diseases while learning how to use her professional background in coping with her daughter's journey into depression addiction and suicide

Loving Beyond Your Theology Larry L. Love Unknown Thomas Travisano, 2019-11-05 An illuminating new biography of one of the greatest American poets of the twentieth century Elizabeth Bishop Love Unknown points movingly to the many relationships that moored Bishop keeping her together even as life and her own self destructive tendencies threatened to split her apart The Wall Street Journal Elizabeth Bishop's friend James Merrill once observed that Elizabeth had more talent for life and for poetry than anyone else I've known This new biography reveals just how she learned to marry her talent for life with her talent for writing in order to create a brilliant array of poems prose and letters a remarkable body of work that would make her one of America's most beloved and celebrated poets In Love Unknown Thomas Travisano founding president of the Elizabeth Bishop Society tells the story of the famous poet and traveler's life Bishop moved through extraordinary mid twentieth century worlds with relationships among an extensive international array of literati visual artists musicians scholars and politicians along with a cosmopolitan gay underground that was then nearly invisible to the dominant culture Drawing on fresh interviews and newly discovered manuscript materials Travisano illuminates that the art of losing that Bishop celebrated with such poignant irony in her poem One Art perhaps her most famous was linked in equal part to an art of finding that Bishop's art and life was devoted to the sort of encounters and epiphanies that so often appear in her work

The Heart Is Unknown Country L. A. Rebhun, 1999 This is a study of love specifically of men's and women's emotional roles vis vis one another in Northeast Brazil of how people form conjugal relationships in this region and of the impact of rapid socioeconomic change on courtship marriage cohabitation and infidelity Rapid urbanization and expansion of the cash economy have transformed the region in a few decades Among the transformations are shifts in how people conduct courtship form marriages view the proprieties of sexual behavior and assess the proper social and economic roles of men and women These changes have altered the relative importance of physical economic and emotional intimacy in conjugal relationships transforming the nature of marriage once defined as a largely economic relationship into a largely emotional relationship as ideas of romance once associated with infidelity concubinage and courtship are increasingly attached to marriage The book is largely based on interviews with men and women who talked about their often complicated love lives with wit and passion and the book is rich in personal stories and quotations Women were asked to discuss the nature of men and women and men were asked to talk about women Both sexes were questioned about their views on prostitution concubinage and promiscuity as well as their definitions of love Parents were asked for their views about marriage and child rearing especially differences in raising boys and girls their relations with their own parents lovers spouses and friends and their views on virginity and sexual propriety The bluntness and articulateness of the informants about their motivations and experiences not only demonstrated that men and women viewed conjugal relationships very differently but enabled the author to specify and explore these differences in unusually interesting ways

Rethinking Excessive Habits and Addictive Behaviors Tony Bevacqua, 2015-07-02

Twelve step programs are the foundation of conventional thinking and treatment for people with addictive behaviors But are they truly the best Here Tony Bevacqua explains why these one size fits all approaches are not appropriate for everyone since each person is a unique human being This book takes a humanistic perspective that offers guidance for sufferers their families and friends practitioners and anyone interested in understanding the nature of addictive behaviors What do we know about addictive behavior and mental health Bevacqua maintains our common perceptions are loaded with outdated emotionally charged and deficit based vocabulary Words like addiction addict alcoholic denial recovery clean and others have become absorbed into our vocabulary but conjure up the worst case descriptions of undesirable behavior These labels are generalized to all behaviors and to all people regardless of the details of their specific circumstances By rethinking and changing the language new learning can take place and new approaches to treatment can emerge While biology may play a role in addiction the author argues that the disease model strips sufferers of their ability to see their issues as within their control to address Understanding the role of learning and behavior allows people to redefine addiction in terms of their own personal circumstances allowing that the brain is an organ of social adaptation and is constantly able to wire and rewire itself through enriched environments and new learning Bevacqua proposes a language that also supports an individual with kindness compassion and empathy and suggests ways in which this new perspective and approach can help individuals improve the quality of their thinking which will improve the quality of their behavior
