Armed and dangerous, these men are being held for collective evidence against them. The unit is being held for evidence against them. The unit is being held for evidence against them.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to define the problem. This involves identifying the symptoms of the problem and determining the scope of the problem. For example, if a company is experiencing a decline in sales, the first step would be to identify the symptoms of the decline and determine the scope of the decline.
