Stadtgeschichten Claudia Schnurmann, Iris Wigger, 2006 Tales of Two Cities compares both metropolises and soon discovers differences as well as similarities American and German experts from different fields for example historians geographers architects journalists or Americanists join our guided tours through Chicago and Hamburg They introduce the reader to the sister cities as migration magnets and spaces of different interests They discuss challenges and chances of urban life city planning safety measures or media cities within an Atlantic context The volume includes contributions in German as well as English Claudia Schnurmann is a researcher at the Department of History at the University of Hamburg Germany Iris Wigger is a researcher at the School of Sociology at University College in Dublin Ireland Europe, the State and Globalisation Simon Sweeney, 2014-09-11 Europe the State and Globalisation explores the interplay between the state and state sovereignty nationalism European integration and globalisation It provides essential foundations in all these areas while using stimulating arguments to prompt discussion and provoke interest in the relationships between these processes Throughout Europe the State and Globalisation addresses various issues of historical and theoretical importance including the institutions of the European Union integration theory regional policy multilevel governance and EU enlargement International Relations theory the nature and impact of globalisation the challenges of transnational government and the changing nature of the state The text is ideal for undergraduate courses in European Politics Coming Soon Keith M. Johnston, 2009-09-12 The audience's first exposure to a new movie is often in the form of a coming attraction trailer and short previews are also a vanguard for emerging technology and visual techniques This book demonstrates how the trailer has educated audiences in new film technologies such as synchronized sound widescreen and 3 D tracing the trailer's status as a trailblazer on to new media screens and outlets such as television the Internet and the iPod The impact and use of new technologies and the evolution of trailers beyond the big screen is followed into the digital era The British Sitcom Spinoff Film Stephen Glynn, 2023-12-07 This book constitutes the first full volume dedicated to an academic analysis of theatrically released spinoff films derived from British radio and television sitcoms Regularly maligned as the nadir of British film production and marginalised as a last resort for the financially bereft industry during the 1970s this study demonstrates that the sitcom spinoff film has instead been a persistent and important presence in British cinema from the 1940s to the present day and includes occasional works with distinct artistic merit Alongside an investigation of the economic imperative underpinning these productions i.e the exploitation of proven product with a ready made audience it is argued that with a longevity stretching from Arthur Askey and his wartime Band Waggon 1940 to the crew of Krupt FM and their recent People Just Do Nothing Big in Japan 2021 the British sitcom spinoff can be interpreted as following a full generic life cycle Starting with the formative stage where works from Hi Gang 1941 to I Only Arsked 1958 establish the genre's characteristics the spinoff genre moves to its classic stage where secure for form and content it enjoys considerable popular success with films like Till Death Us Do Part 1969 On the Buses 1971 The Likely Lads 1976 and Rising Damp 1980 the genre's revival since the late 1990s reveals a more parodic final stage with films like The League of Gentlemen's Apocalypse 2005 adopting a consciously self reflective mode It is also posited that the sitcom spinoff film is a viable source for social history with the often stereotypical re presentations of characters and events an often blatant ideological metonym for the concerns of wider British society notably in issues of class race gender and sexuality

Horror Films of the 1980s John Kenneth Muir,2010-07-28 John Kenneth Muir is back This time the author of the acclaimed Horror Films of the 1970s turns his attention to 300 films from the 1980s From horror franchises like Friday the 13th and Hellraiser to obscurities like The Children and The Boogens Muir is our informative guide Muir introduces the scope of the decade s horrors and offers a history that draws parallels between current events and the nightmares unfolding on cinema screens Each of the 300 films is discussed with detailed credits a brief synopsis a critical commentary and where applicable notes on the film s legacy beyond the 80s Also included is the author s ranking of the 15 best horror films of the 80s

Interpreting Rock Movies Andrew Caine,2004 Andrew Caine details the reaction to British and American pop films during the 1950s and 1960s to provide a valuable insight into British film criticism teenage culture during the 1950s and 1960s and the generic status of rock films teen movies and cultural hierarchies

Heritage Film Audiences Claire Monk,2011-06-30 The concept of heritage cinema is now firmly established as an influential as well as much debated and contested critical framework for the discussion of period or historical representation in film most prominently with reference to British heritage and post heritage film successes since the 1980s but also to comparable examples from Europe North America and beyond These successes have ranged from Merchant Ivory s A Room with a View Maurice Howards End and The Remains of the Day via Jane Austen adaptations such as Ang Lee s Sense and Sensibility to post heritage adaptations such as Sally Potter s Orlando Yet the very idea of the heritage film has rested on untested assumptions about its audiences This book breaks significant new ground in the scholarship on contemporary period films and makes a distinctive new contribution to the growing field of film audience studies by presenting the first empirically based study of the audiences for quality period films Monk engages directly with two highly contrasting sections of these audiences surveyed in the UK in the late 1990s to explore their identities their wider patterns of film taste and above all their attitudes and pleasures in relation to the period films they enjoy and on issues central to debates around the heritage film literary adaptation and cultural value with illuminating and unpredicted results

Masculine Jealousy and Contemporary Cinema C. Yates,2007-09-12 This study provides new insights into the link between masculinity and jealousy through a study of representations of male jealousy in modern Hollywood cinema It argues through examples of films and their reception in the press that male jealousy has played a key role in the psychocultural shaping of Western masculinities and male fantasy
