about Turning 80

By Maya Anthony

At eighty, they should slow down,
But this one wears a different crown,
Adventures wild, with zest untamed,
In their ageless spirit, they're acclaimed.

With each journey, a tale to tell,
Their adventures, a fascinating swell,
At eighty, they're the bravest soul,
In their ageless quest, they're on a roll.

So here's to them, in their daring stride,
Age is just a number, they've defied,
The ageless adventurer, bold and bright,
In their eighties, a shining light.

Scenes of Projection Jill H. Casid, 2015-01-01 Theorizing vision and power at the intersections of the histories of psychoanalysis media scientific method and colonization Scenes of Projection poaches the prized instruments at the heart of the so called scientific revolution the projecting telescope camera obscura magic lantern solar microscope and prism From the beginnings of what is retrospectively enshrined as the origins of the Enlightenment and in the wake of colonization the scene of projection has functioned as a contraption for creating a fantasy subject of discarnate vision for the exercise of reason Jill H Casid demonstrates across a range of sites that the scene of projection is neither a static diagram of power nor a fixed architecture but rather a pedagogical setup that operates as an influencing machine of persistent training Thinking with queer and feminist art projects that take up old devices for casting an image to reorient this apparatus of power that produces its subject Scenes of Projection offers a set of theses on the possibilities for felt embodiment out of the Places that the map can't contain: Poetics in the Anthropocene

 Julia Fiedorczuk, Paweł Piszczatowski, 2023-07-10 Inspired by Lynn Keller's notion of the self-conscious Anthropocene the book sets out to consider poetry as a privileged space for rethinking our basic epistemological assumptions Poetry does not have the kind of agency a direct political intervention has in fact as W H Auden famously put it poetry makes nothing happen On the other hand poetry is crucial when it comes to awakening our individual and collective imagination Considering the statement by Lawrence Buell that the current ecological crisis is in the first place a crisis of the imagination this function of poetry comes through as particularly important

The Networked Recluse Carolyn Vega, Susan Howe, Richard Wilbur, 2017-01-17 The image is so well known it is practically iconic The reclusive poet feminine and fragile weaving verse of beguiling complexity from the room in which she kept herself sequestered from the world The Belle of Amherst the distinctive American voice the singer of the soul's mysteries Emily Dickinson Yet that image scarcely captures the fullness and vitality of Dickinson's life most notably her many connections to family to friends to correspondents to the literary tastemakers of her day even to the unnamed and perhaps unknowable Master to whom she addressed three of her most breathtaking works of prose Through an exploration of a relatively small group of items from Dickinson's vast literary remains this volume an accompaniment to an exhibition on Dickinson mounted at The Morgan Library Museum in New York demonstrates the complex ways in which these often humble objects came into conversation with other people places and events in the poet s life Seeing the network of connections and influences that shaped Dickinson s life presents us with a different understanding of this most enigmatic yet elegiac poet in American letters and allows us more fully to appreciate both her uniqueness and her humanity The materials collected here make clear that the story of Dickinson s manuscripts her life and her work is still unfolding While the image of Dickinson as the reclusive poet dressed only in white remains a popular myth details of Dickinson s life continue to emerge Several items included both in the exhibit and in this volume were not known to exist until the present century The scrap of biographical intelligence recorded by Sarah Tuthill in a Mount Holyoke catalogue or the concern about Dickinson s salvation expressed by Abby Wood in a private letter to Abiah Root were acquired by Amherst College in the last fifteen years What additional pieces of evidence remain to be uncovered and identified in the attics and basements of New England Published to accompany The Morgan Library Museum s pathbreaking exhibit I m Nobody Who are You The Life and Poetry of Emily Dickinson part of a series of exhibits at the Morgan celebrating and exploring the creative lives of significant women authors The Networked Recluse offers the reader an account of the exhibit itself together with a series of contributions by curators scholars of Dickinson and poets whose own work her words have influenced
