Two Cities On Exile History And The Imagination:

Two Cities Adam Zagajewski, 2002 First published in the United States in 1995 by Farrar Strauss and Giroux Through the Poet's Eye Bozena Shallcross, 2009-02-20 Though best known as poets Adam Zagajewski born 1945 Zbigniew Herbert 1924 98 and Joseph Brodsky 1940 96 wrote some of the most original prose of this century It is this prose remarkable for its cross cultural complexity and interdisciplinary richness that concerns Bozena Shallcross in Through the Poet's Eye The travels undertaken by these Eastern European poets who each journeyed to the West under different circumstances give Shallcross her point of departure as she explores the connections between the sensory experience of travel and the revelatory perception of the visual arts manifest in their writings Book Jacket Into the Heart of European Poetry John Taylor, 2017-07-05 John Taylor's brilliant new book examines the work of many of the major poets who have deeply marked modern and contemporary European literature Venturing far and wide from the France in which he has lived since the late 1970s the polyglot writer critic not only delves into the more widely translated literatures of Italy Greece Germany and Austria but also discovers impressive and overlooked work in Slovenia Bosnia Hungary Finland Norway and the Netherlands in this book that ranges over nearly all of Europe including Russia While providing this stimulating and far ranging critical panorama Taylor brings to light key themes of European writing the depth of everyday life the quest of the thing in itself metaphysical aspiration and anxiety the dialectics of negativity and affirmation subjectivity and self effacement and uprootedness as a category that is as ontological as it is geographical historical political or cultural The book pays careful attention to the intersection of writing and history or politics as several poets featured here have faced the Second World War the Holocaust Communism the fall of Communism or the war in the former Yugoslavia Taylor gives the work of renowned upcoming and still little known poets a thorough look all the while scrutinizing recent translations of their verse He highlights several poets who are also masters of the prose poem He includes a few novelists who have fashioned a particularly original kind of poetic prose that stylistic category that has proved so difficult for critics to define Into the Heart of European Poetry should be of immediate interest to any reader curious about the aesthetic and philosophical ideas underlying major trends of contemporary European writing In a day and age when much too little is translated and thus known about foreign literature and when Europeans themselves are pondering the common denominators of their own culture this book is a From Old Times to New Europe Agata Fijalkowski, 2016-04-22 From Old Times to New Europe considers the post totalitarian legal framework in today's Europe arguing that the study of totalitarianism and post totalitarianism continues to be significant as ever Drawing mainly on the Polish experience this analysis focuses on the significant part played by history in the development of the region's identity and preferences concerning the role of the state in public and private life It examines the political socio economic and legal aspects of key events and draws comparisons with other CEE states whilst implementing key socio legal theories to explain trends and strains in this post Communist and post totalitarian period With the benefit of access to archival sources in Poland and Russia this book will be of interest to students and researchers of European law law and society and international criminal justice The Elsewhere Adam Zachary Newton,2005-08-03 The Elsewhere Or midbar biblical Hebrew for both wilderness and speech A place of possession and dispossession loss and nostalgia But also a place that speaks Ingeniously using a Talmudic interpretive formula about the disposition of boundaries Newton explores narratives of place flight border and beyond The writers of The Elsewhere are a disparate company of twentieth century memoirists and fabulists from the Levant Palestine Israel Egypt and East Central Europe Together their texts cunningly paired so as to speak to one another in mutually revelatory ways narrate the paradox of the near distance European Literary Immigration Into the French Language Tijana Miletić,2008 The critical emotional and intellectual change which every immigrant is obliged to endure and confront is experienced with singular intensity by immigrant writers who have also adopted another language for their literary expression Concentrating on European authors of the second half of the twentieth century who have chosen French as a language for their literary expression and in particular the novels by Romain Gary Agota Kristof Milan Kundera and Jorge Semprun with reference to many others European Literary Immigration into the French Language explores some of the common elements in these works of fiction which despite the varied personal circumstances and literary aesthetics of the authors follow a similar path in the building of a literary identity and legitimacy in the new language The choice of the French language is inextricably linked with the subsequent literary choices of these writers This study charts a new territory within Francophone and European literary studies in treating the European immigrants as a separate group and in applying linguistic sociological and psychoanalytical ideas in the analysis of the works of fiction and thus represents a relevant contribution to the understanding of European cultural identity This volume is relevant to French and European literature scholars and anyone with interest in immigration European identity or second language adoption The Crooked Mirror Louise Steinman,2013-11-05 A lyrical literary memoir that explores the exhilarating discomfiting and ultimately healing process of Polish Jewish reconciliation taking place in Poland today Although an estimated 80 percent of American Jews are of Polish descent many in the postwar generation and those born later know little about their families connection to their ancestral home In fact many Jews continue to think of Poland as a bastion of anti Semitism since nearly the entire population of Polish Jewry was killed in the Holocaust The reality is more complex although German occupied Poland was the site of great persecution towards Jews it was also the epicenter of European Jewish life for centuries Louise Steinman sets out to examine the burgeoning Polish Jewish reconciliation movement through the lens of her own family s history joining the ranks of Jews of Polish descent who are confronting both Poland s heroism and occupation afflicted atrocities and who are seeking to reconnect with their families Polish roots Over the Wall/After the Fall Sibelan Forrester,Magdalena J. Zaborowska,Elena Gapova,2004-10-29 a hot subject in today s scholarship and a groundbreaking project of vital significance to the field of cultural studies at both western and eastern geographical locations Elwira Grossman Over the Wall After the Fall maps a new discourse on the evolution of cultural life in Eastern Europe following the end of communism Departing from traditional binary views of East West the contributors to this volume consider the countries and the peoples of the region on their own terms Drawing on insights from cultural studies gender theory and postcolonial studies this lively collection addresses gender issues and sexual politics consumerism high and popular culture architecture media art and theater Among the themes of the essays are the Western pop success of Bulgarian folk choirs the Czechs reception of Frank Gehry s unconventional building in the center of Prague bohemians in Lviv and cryptographic art installations from Bratislava

Knowing One's Place in Contemporary Irish and Polish Poetry Magdalena Kay, 2012-02-23 Are we allowed to choose where we belong What pressures make us feel that we should belong somewhere This book brings together four major poets Heaney Mahon Zagajewski and Hartwig who ask themselves these questions throughout their lives They start by assuming that we can choose not to belong but know this is easier said than done Something in them is awry leading them to travel emigrate and return dissatisfied with all forms of belonging Writer after writer has suggested that Polish and Irish literature bear some uncanny similarities particularly in the 20th century but few have explored these similarities in depth Ireland and Poland with their tangled histories of colonization place a large premium upon knowing one s place What happens though when a poet makes a career out of refusing to know her place in the way her culture expects This book explores the consequences of this refusal allowing these poets to answer such questions through their own poems leading to surprising conclusions about the connection of knowledge and belonging roots and identity

The House at Ujazdowskie 16 Karen Auerbach, 2018-11-01 The compelling history of ten Jewish families rebuilding their lives in Warsaw after the Holocaust amply illustrated the book reverberates with hope Jewish Book Council Warsaw Poland once described as the Paris of the East had been transformed into a landscape of ruin by the ravages of World War II Among the few areas of the city center that escaped Nazi decimation was Ujazdowskie Avenue where German officials lived during the occupation In the late 1940s while most surviving Polish Jews were making their homes in new countries ten Jewish families reclaimed a once elegant building at 16 Ujazdowskie Avenue and began reconstructing their lives These families rebuilt on the rubble of the Polish capital and created new communities as they sought to distance themselves from the memory of a painful past Based on interviews with family members extensive archival research and the families personal papers and correspondence Karen Auerbach presents an engrossing story of loss and rebirth political faith and disillusionment and the persistence of Jewishness
