Vector Borne Disease Control In Humans Through Rice Agroecosystem Management:

Vector-borne Disease Control in Humans Through Rice Agroecosystem Management, 1988 Overview Impact of engineering agronomy and water management practices on disease vectors Strategies for vector borne disease control Integrated vector control strategies Vector-borne Disease Control in Humans Through Rice Agroecosystem Management W. H. Smith, 1988 Advances in Disease Vector Research, 2012-12-06 Entomology plant pathology and virology are a few of the disciplines covered by this well reviewed series It also covers the spectrum of vectors from mosquitos and leafhoppers to nematodes and pathogens from viruses to mycoplasmas to protozoa Articles deal with the emerging science of vector ecology and consider both biotic and abiotic environmental influences on disease transmission As a form to present current thinking in this field the series is an important resource for researchers and students involved in understanding and overcoming the many vector borne diseases of plants animals and humans Biology and Management of the Floodwater Ecosystem in Rice Fields Pierre A. Roger, 1996 Health and Irrigation, 1998 An overview of vector borne diseases associated with irrigation Abstracts of research papers presented Vector control linked to small scale irrigation in Sri Lanka Irrigation and schistosomiasis in Africa ecological aspects Association between rice production systems and vector borne diseases in west Africa Continuing tragedy of misguided water management along the senegal river Abstracts of research proposals Alternate wetting and drying irrigation systems for vector control Water management interventions for the control of schistosomiasis in irrigated areas Health aspects of nonagricultural use of irrigation water Alternate Wet/dry Irrigation in Rice Cultivation Wim van der Hoek, R. Sakthivadivel, Melanie Renshaw, John B. Silver, Martin H. Birley, Flemming Konradsen, 2001 More irrigated land is devoted to rice than to any other crop A method to save water in irrigated rice cultivation is the intermittent drying of the rice fields known as alternate wet dry irrigation AWDI This report reviews previous studies in AWDI with a focus on mosquito vector control water saving and rice yields Examples are provided from a number of countries Planetary health approaches to understand and control vector-borne diseases Kimberley Fornace, Jan Conn, Maria Anice Mureb, Leonardo Suveges Moreira Chaves, James Logan, 2023-12-21 Mosquitoes transmit many of the pathogens that cause zoonotic diseases from wildlife and livestock to people with devastating consequences for public health The factors affecting the ecology and evolution of the transmission dynamics of these mosquito borne pathogens can be revealed using multidisciplinary research approaches This 7th volume of the ECVD series focuses on the ecological factors that determine the transmission dynamics of mosquito borne pathogens naturally circulating between animals of different taxa and their importance for human health The authors revise the current knowledge on the pathogens that affect wildlife including those maintained in captivity as well as the use of cutting edge techniques for the identification of potential vectors of these pathogens In addition this volume explores the role of factors related to global change including changes in landscape use deforestation and urbanization as major drivers of the distribution of mosquito vectors and the dynamics of pathogen transmission Finally updated information on the approaches used to identify and control mosquito borne diseases is presented with a particular focus on those affecting humans In summary this book provides an updated review of the different mosquito borne pathogens affecting animals and their public health relevance A.I.D. Written by authorities from various related specialties this book presents the most complete treatment possible of the conditions responsible for water and sanitation related diseases the pathogens and their biology morbidity and mortality resulting from lack of safe water and sanitation distribution of these diseases and the conditions that must be met to reduce or eradicate them Preventive measures and solutions are presented throughout This book is an essential resource for all graduate students postdoctoral scholars and professionals in infectious disease public health and medicine chemical and environmental engineering and international affairs Key features Provides a comprehensive understanding of the interconnection among many factors related to water related diseases sanitation and hygiene Brings together experts from various specialties to address each area covered and to assist in bringing about the understanding of those interconnections Provides examples of successful interventions with knowledge about how they were brought about so that information can be use to replicate the initiative in full or in part Provides an appreciation of the concerns and solutions addressed from an international perspective with high and low technological solutions Provides insight into the international dimension of these concerns and how they can be best addressed Sustainability of Irrigated Agriculture L.S. Pereira,R.A. Feddes,J.R. Gilley,B. Lesaffre,2013-03-09 Irrigated agriculture and the use of water resources in agriculture face the challenges of sustainable development Research has advanced our knowledge of water use by crops soil water solutes interactions and the engineering and managerial tools needed to mobilize convey distribute control and apply water for agricultural production However the achievements booked in user practice have revealed the need for new developments in the areas of resource conservation control of environmental and health impacts modernisation of technologies and management economic viability and the social acceptance of changes The contributions to Sustainability of Irrigated Agriculture cover most of the relevant disciplines Besides its multidisciplinary the different origins experience backgrounds and practices of the authors provide a wide in depth analysis of the various aspects of water resource utilization in agriculture The papers review scientific technical and managerial aspects highlighting the main problems issues and future developments The book covers the different aspects of sustainability including environmental technical economic institutional and social ones Advances in irrigation science and engineering are dealt with both on and off farm Special attention is paid to the different components of water quality management to the transfer of technology and to capacity building Changing Faunal Ecology in the Thar

Desert B.K. Tyagi, Q.H. Baqri, 2005-05-01 Changing Faunal Ecology in the Thar Desert dedicated to the fond memory of Professor Dr Ishwar Prakash the legendary rodentologist is a unique mlang of scientific investigations on diversified ecological subjects pertaining to different organism groups from as tiny as protozoa to as giant as mammals Altogether sixteen contributions including an original up to date and authentic bio bibliography of Dr I Prakash make this volume an exceptional treatise penned by 24 expert scientist authors many of whom have spent a life in arid ecosystems including the Thar Desert The book provides a crystal clear proof of the constantly changing behavioural ecology of animals in the Thar Desert which has been under an ever increasing impact of among several imminent factors the Indira Gandhi Nahar Pariyojana IGNP one of the worlds largest irrigation systems of its type in a xeric environment The change is discernible not only in structure and distribution of animals but in their resting feeding breeding and as evident in case of parasites the extent of parasitism as well as pathogenecity Finally this book offers the first well documented evidence of immense behavioral transformation in various different animal groups in the Tharp Desert a phenomenon of enormous significance for both conservation management and diversity inventorization activities of its faunal wealth

Publications of the International Agricultural Research and Development Centers, 1989 Biological and Environmental Control of Disease Vectors Mary M. Cameron, Lena M. Lorenz, 2013 Covering the theory and practice of non insecticidal control of insect vectors of human disease this book provides an overview of methods including the use of botanical biocides and insect derived semiochemicals with an overall focus on integrated vector management strategies While the mainstay of malaria control programmes relies on pesticides there is a resurgence in the research and utilisation of non insecticidal control measures due to concerns over rapid development and spread of insecticide resistance and long term environmental impacts This book provides examples of successful applications in the field and recommendations for future use

Malaria in irrigated agriculture: Papers and abstracts for the SIMA Special Seminar at the ICID 18th International Congress on Irrigation and Drainage, Montreal, 23 July 2002 Eline Boelee, Flemming Konradsen, Wim van der Hoek, 2002 The Special SIMA Seminar on Malaria in Irrigated Agriculture at the 18th ICID International Congress on Irrigation and Drainage was one of the activities aimed at increasing awareness in the agricultural community on the potential of environmental interventions to reduce malaria under Output 4 of SIMA This document contains papers and abstracts submitted for this seminar in Montreal Canada The authors themselves are responsible for their contributions and it is hoped that the publication of these proceedings will stimulate discussions among participants of the seminar as well as in the wider SIMA Network This seminar is organized by SIMA the CGIAR Systemwide Initiative on Malaria and Agriculture in collaboration with the International Water Management Institute IWMI This and subsequent scientific seminars will gather experts on malaria and agriculture to contribute to the development of a comprehensive knowledge base on malaria and agriculture

Mosquitoes of India Brij Kishore Tyagi, 2025-06-09 This is an up to date and comprehensive handbook that presents a
