David McCallie, 2011-06-22 Thomas Hooke McCallie wrote a memoir in 1902 reporting for the benefit of his children what he knew of his family's immigration to the New World of his education at Union Theological Seminary in New York City of his courtship and marriage and in more detail the trials and tribulations that befell him his family and his church during the tumultuous years of the Civil War THM as the editor calls him throughout the book opposed secession by his home state of Tennessee and refused to support the Confederacy either as a soldier or as a minister And with equal vigor he opposed the Federal government's resolve to preserve the Union by force of arms His determination not to support either side of the conflict was the perfect formula for being harassed by both sides Much of the memoir turns on the troubled existence resulting for THM his family and his church because of his fixed view of right and wrong at this catastrophic moment in our nation's history In spite of the detailed reporting of pain and privation suffered during the war the editor feels the real theme of the story is the way THM and his wife face every new crisis with prayer prayer and faith that their prayers would be heard Early in the war THM preached to Confederate soldiers who found their way to his church and later in the war after the Union Army occupied Chattanooga to Union soldiers never changing the message because of the color of the uniform The message That every man whether dressed in blue or gray must know the saving Grace of Jesus Christ

Chatterji, 2014-12-01 The essays in this book explore the critical possibilities that have been opened by Veena Das's work Taking off from her writing on pain as a call for acknowledgment several essays explore how social sciences render pain suffering and the claims of the other as part of an ethics of responsibility They search for disciplinary resources to contest the implicit division between those whose pain receives attention and those whose pain is seen as out of sync with the times and hence written out of the historical record Another theme is the co constitution of the event and the everyday especially in the context of violence Das's groundbreaking formulation of the everyday provides a frame for understanding how both violence and healing might grow out of it Drawing on notions of life and voice and the struggle to write one's own narrative the contributors provide rich ethnographies of what it is to inhabit a devastated world Ethics as a form of attentiveness to the other especially in the context of poverty deprivation and the corrosion of everyday life appears in several of the essays They take up the classic themes of kinship and obligation but give them entirely new meaning Finally anthropology's affinities with the literary are reflected in a final set of essays that show how forms of knowing in art and in anthropology are related through work with painters performance artists and writers Manushi, 1986 Harper's Weekly John Bonner, George William Curtis, Henry Mills Alden, Samuel Stillman Conant, Montgomery Schuyler, John Foord, Richard Harding Davis, Carl Schurz, Henry Loomis Nelson, John Kendrick Bangs, George Brinton McClellan Harvey, Norman Hapgood, 1894
