Icons and Saints of the Eastern Orthodox Church Alfredo Tradigo,2006 An icon from the Greek word eikon image is a wooden panel painting of a holy person or scene from Orthodox Christianity the religion of the Byzantine Empire that is practiced today mainly in Greece and Russia It was believed that these works acted as intermediaries between worshipers and the holy personages they depicted Their pictorial language is stylized and primarily symbolic rather than literal and narrative Indeed every attitude pose and color depicted in an icon has a precise meaning and their painters usually monks followed prescribed models from iconographic manuals The goal of this book is to catalogue the vast heritage of images according to iconographic type and subject from the most ancient at the Monastery of Saint Catherine in the Sinai to those from Greece Constantinople and Russia Chapters focus on the role of icons in the Orthodox liturgy and on common iconic subjects including the fathers and saints of the Eastern Church and the life of Jesus and his followers As with other volumes in the Guide to Imagery series this book includes a wealth of color illustrations in which details are called out for discussion

New Books on Women, Gender and Feminism ,2013 New Books on Women and Feminism ,2013 Icons in Time, Persons in Eternity C.A. Tsakiridou,2016-05-13 Icons in Time Persons in Eternity presents a critical interdisciplinary examination of contemporary theological and philosophical studies of the Christian image and redefines this within the Orthodox tradition by exploring the ontological and aesthetic implications of Orthodox ascetic and mystical theology It finds Modernist interest in the aesthetic peculiarity of icons significant and essential for re evaluating their relationship to non representational art Drawing on classical Greek art criticism Byzantine ekphraseis and hymnography and the theologies of St Maximus the Confessor St Symeon the New Theologian and St Gregory Palamas the author argues that the ancient Greek concept of enargeia best conveys the expression of theophany and theosis in art The qualities that define enargeia inherent liveliness expressive autonomy and self subsisting form are identified in exemplary Greek and Russian icons and considered in the context of the hesychastic theology that lies at the heart of Orthodox Christianity An Orthodox aesthetics is thus outlined that recognizes the transcendent being of art and is open to dialogue with diverse pictorial and iconographic traditions An examination of Chinese Zen art theory and a comparison of icons with paintings by Wassily Kandinsky Pablo Picasso Mark Rothko and Marc Chagall and by Japanese artists influenced by Zen Buddhism reveal intriguing points of convergence and difference The reader will find in these pages reasons to reconcile Modernism with the Christian image and Orthodox tradition with creative form in art

Truth Matters John G. Trapani,2004 Drawing upon the richness and breadth of Jacques Maritain s thought the contributors to this volume engage readers with philosophical essays about the search for truth in human life and civic engagement The essays examine a broad range of topics from those that are more properly theoretical such as God science natural law practical reason education and democracy to those that are more practical such as capital punishment eugenics friendship love and art In each essay the author implicitly challenges the claims of relativism and postmodernism specifically the idea that there is no real truth and that what matters is merely the perspective of one's own frame of reference The essays argue instead that theoretical truth claims have practical consequences that truth matters to those who are affected by it In addition to the editor the contributors are Gavin T Colvert John A D Cuddeback Raymond Dennehy Bernard E Doering Desmond J FitzGerald Sarah J Fodor William J Fossati W Matthews Grant James G Hanink Katie Hollenberg Gregory Kerr James P Mesa Peter Pagan Matthew S Pugh James V Schall S J Michael D Torre John R Traffas Cornelia A Tsakiridou Timothy S Valentine S J A Leo White Anne M Wiles and Henk E S Woldring John G Trapani Jr is Professor of Philosophy and Chair of the Humanities Division at Walsh University in North Canton Ohio

Meditatio - Refashioning the Self, 2010-12-07 The late medieval and early modern period is a particularly interesting chapter in the development of meditation and self reflection Meditation may best be described as a self imposed disciplinary regime consisting of mental and physical exercises that allowed the practitioner to engender and evaluate his self image and thence to emend and refashion it The volume aims at examining the forms and functions ways and means of meditation from c 1300 to c 1600 It tries to analyze the internal exercises that mobilized the sensitive faculties of motion emotion and sense both external and internal and the intellectual faculties of reason memory and will with a view to reforming the soul and the techniques of visualization that were frequently utilized to engage the soul's mediating function as vinculum mundi its pivotal position in the great chain of being between heaven and earth temporal and spiritual experience Contributors include Barbara Baert Wietse de Boer Feike Dietz Jan Frans van Dijkhuizen Karl Enenkel Jan de Jong Walter Melion Wolfgang Neuber Hilmar Pabel Jan Papy Paul Smith Diana Stanciu Nikolaus Staubach Jacob Vance and Geert Warnar

The Composer Embalmed Abigail Fine, 2025-06-05 The first granular study of nineteenth century composer devotion a network of devotees who preserved tangible traces of composers through relics rituals pilgrimage exhumation and embalming During the nineteenth century music institutions promoted artworks they deemed timeless and made composers into figureheads of a lasting Western canon Alongside this institutional face of the canon was a more intimate impulse to preserve touch and embrace the residues of the dead In Germany and Austria between 1870 and 1930 music lovers venerated the bodies houses and belongings of composers as relics shrines and talismans In The Composer Embalmed Abigail Fine documents the vernacular and eccentric ways that composers have been remembered Fine navigates a wealth of unknown archival material to recover the stories of devotees from pilgrims who felt time stop in historic houses to music loving doctors who made skulls into sacred specimens dilettantes who displayed Beethoven's mask as a relic of the beautiful death and interwar critics of those dilettantes who disparaged piety as a false religion a kitsch replica In isolation these practices may look like simple acts of affection But in the aggregate Fine asserts acts of devotion constituted what we might broadly understand as relic culture a culture that sought to possess the body of the departed genius and that superimposed habits of anthropological collecting onto artifacts of Austro German heritage By excavating objects ephemera amateur lyric visitors books letters and travelogues The Composer Embalmed reveals the underbelly of the canon where guilty pleasures blur the boundary between sanctity and desecration

The Icon and the Square Maria Taroutina, 2018-11-26 In The Icon and the Square Maria Taroutina examines how the traditional interests of institutions such as the crown the church and the Imperial Academy of Arts temporarily aligned with the radical leftist and revolutionary avant garde at the turn of the twentieth century through a shared interest in the Byzantine past offering a counternarrative to prevailing notions of Russian modernism Focusing on the works of four different artists Mikhail Vrubel Vasily Kandinsky Kazimir Malevich and Vladimir Tatlin Taroutina shows how engagement with medieval pictorial traditions drove each artist to transform his own practice pushing beyond the established boundaries of his respective artistic and intellectual milieu She also contextualizes and complements her study of the work of these artists with an examination of the activities of a number of important cultural associations and institutions over the course of several decades As a result The Icon and the Square gives a more complete picture of Russian modernism one that attends to the dialogue between generations of artists curators collectors critics and theorists The Icon and the Square retrieves a neglected but vital history that was deliberately suppressed by the atheist Soviet regime and subsequently ignored in favor of the secular formalism of mainstream modernist criticism Taroutina's timely study which coincides with the centennial reassessments of Russian and Soviet modernism is sure to invigorate conversation among scholars of art history modernism and Russian culture

Resurrection in the New Testament Jan Lambrecht, 2002 Resurrection in the New Testament is a Festschrift offered to J Lambrecht on the occasion of his seventy fifth birthday Among the many scholarly interests of Professor Lambrecht the theme of the resurrection seemed best suited to honour his academic achievement The 27 contributions cover many of the books of the New Testament The first two articles in this volume discuss influences on the New Testament treatment of resurrection from the Greco Roman Dieter Zeller and Jewish Daniel J Harrington backgrounds H J de Jonge considers visionary experiences of the Old Testament as an interpretive clue for understanding New Testament references to appearances The articles by Martin Rese Benoit Standaert Otfried Hofius and Gergely Juhasz deal with interpretive questions that range through several books of the New Testament and to varying degrees again bring into discussion previously debated issues From this point with the exception of the final two the articles appear in canonical order Adelbert Denaux and Wim J C Weren treat issues in Matthew John Gillman in Luke Acts Maarten J J Menken and Thomas Soding in John John J Kilgallen and Florence Morgan Gillman in Acts Veronica Koperski Margaret E Thrall and Johan S Vos in the Pauline letters in general Morna D Hooker and Eduard Lohse in Romans Joel Delobel and Peter J Tomson in 1 Corinthians Frank J Matera in 2 Corinthians John Reumann in Philippians Raymond F Collins in the Pastoral Epistles and Jacques Schlosser in 1 Peter Joseph Verheyden discusses the witness of Mary Magdalene and the Women at the tomb in the extra canonical Gospel of Peter Finally Barbara Baert contributes a discussion on how the Resurrection was portrayed in visual art during the Middle Ages with striking illustrative examples

Nonfictional Romantic Prose Steven P. Sondrup, Virgil Nemoianu, 2004-03-31 Nonfictional Romantic Prose Expanding Borders surveys a broad range of expository polemical and analytical literary forms that came into prominence during the last two decades of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth They stand in contrast to better known romantic fiction in that they endeavor to address the world of daily empirical experience rather than that of more explicitly self referential fanciful creation Among them are genres that have since the nineteenth century come to characterize many aspects of modern life like the periodical or the psychological case study others flourished and enjoyed wide spread popularity during the nineteenth century but are much less well known today like the almanac and the diary Travel narratives pamphlets religious and theological texts familiar essays autobiographies literary critical and philosophical studies and discussions of the visual arts and music all had deep historical roots when appropriated by romantic writers but prospered in their hands and assumed distinctive contours indicative of the breadth of romantic thought

SPECIAL OFFER 30% discount for a complete set order 5 vols The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series total contents Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age
