Wise Up The Challenge Of Lifelong Learning:

Wise Up Guy Claxton,1999-09-18 A new science of learning is emerging and Guy Claxton is at the forefront It was recently thought that one's learning was a matter of intelligence or of how hard one tried and that the differences in achievement were due to ability or effort Widespread attitudes to learning currently disable rather than enable because they concentrate almost exclusively on conscious reason This new science of learning tells us that everyone's learning power can be enormously increased Good learners need to know when to mull and drift as well as when to be analytical and focussed The methods that Claxton advocates allows the individual to be comfortable with uncertainty teaching the individual to rely on resourcefulness resilience and reflection qualities we have need for learning and growing into the future Wise Up Guy Claxton,1999 Readings for Reflective Teaching Andrew Pollard,2002-01-01 This unique book provides the reader with a mini library of over one hundred readings containing both classic and contemporary readings international contributors material drawn from books and journals An essential reference resource in its own right Readings for Reflective Teaching also contains numerous cross references to Andrew Pollard's Reflective Teaching Wise Up! Christian Jerusalem,2025-09-15 Part One presents the challenge of the Silver Tsunami providing evidence of the disruptive nature of this unprecedented demographic shift It shows why ignoring the challenges of an aging workforce negatively affects innovation and competitiveness You will learn why a well implemented Wise Organization strategy leverages the strengths of each generation ensuring long term success and driving innovation in today's rapidly evolving business landscape Part Two shares insights for what you need to consider when taking action These chapters go into debunking myths about older workers and what it looks like when age management goes wrong This section also examines the critical role of the People and Culture function and reframes Inclusion in the context of an aging workplace The chapter closes with an outline for how to navigate the Wise Management agenda as a strategic priority Part Three provides a clear step by step guide on how to build a Wise Organization that unleashes the full potential of your mature workforce while optimizing inter generational synergies You will learn how building a Wise Organization gives your company a distinct competitive advantage allowing you to achieve your corporate goals more effectively Part Four focuses on the future As demographic change becomes an unstoppable force organizations will have to get ready for the longevity economy Learn how visionary leaders will continue to transform their workplaces to thrive amid shifting age dynamics ensuring their organizations remain resilient and relevant for generations of employees yet to come Creating a Learning to Learn School Toby Greany,Jillian Rodd,2003-01-01 Creating a learning to learn school is a book for heads senior managers and teachers interested in developing better schools classrooms and learners It is based on two years of ground breaking research in 25 schools by over 100 teachers and many thousands of pupils The research explored a variety of approaches to teaching pupils how they learn and evaluated the impact on standards pupil motivation and teacher morale Creating a learning to learn school sets out what we mean by learning to
