Youth Suicide Prevention Programs Patrick W. O'Carroll, Centers for Disease Control (U.S.), 1992 Youth Suicide Prevention Programs, 1993-12 Describes the rationale and evidence for the effectiveness of various youth suicide prevention strategies Identifies model programs that incorporate these different strategies For use by persons who are interested in developing or augmenting suicide prevention programs in their own communities Public Health Reports, 1993 Public Health Reports, 1993 Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report, 1994 Resources in Education, 2001 Handbook of Health Promotion and Disease Prevention James M. Raczynski, Ralph J. DiClemente, 2013-11-11 The idea for this volume developed when we were co teaching our introductory master's level course in the Department of Health Behavior at the UAB School of Public Health a core course for all masters of public health students in the school regardless of the department in which they enrolled or the focus of their studies Hence in the course we sought to provide both students in our department as well as those who might not ever again take a health behavior course with an overview that would both truly represent the field and substantially provide educational research and public health practice benefits This was and continues to be a challenge with the diversity of students specializing in fields that include not only health behavior but also bio statistics environmental health sciences epidemiology health care organization and policy international health and maternal and child health The course that we taught attempted to provide the students with an overview of some of the important health promotion and disease prevention theories methods and policy issues while reviewing applications of these theories and methods to promoting health and preventing disease through a variety of channels for a variety of disease outcomes and among a variety of populations Since no one text provided this variety of readings we depended on readings and guest lectures Adolescent Suicide Paul R. Robbins, 1997-11-15 Suicide is now the third leading cause of death among adolescents in the United States and some studies suggest that as many as 75 percent of all teenagers have considered killing themselves Current research on young people who are suicidal those who attempt and those who succeed is discussed in a plain way Among the wide ranging topics covered are the prevalence of adolescent suicide racial and gender differences methods used in the study of suicidal behavior associated behavioral problems e.g. drugs and alcohol psychological profiles precipitating events for suicide attempts teenage suicide clusters the effects of suicide on family and friends the treatment of suicidal adolescents and most importantly strategies for intervention and prevention Injury Prevention and Control Dinesh Mohan, G.N. Tiwari, 2000-02-17 At least 5 million people die each year from injuries and about half the deaths in the 10-24 age group are accountable to them This is a major health problem for which a number of strategies for prevention and control can be developed This book presents a series of the plenary and state of the art presentations from the 5th World Conference on Making Healthy Decisions for Injury, 1997
