Private Law in the External Relations of the EU Marise Cremona, Hans-W Micklitz, 2016-03-18 Private Law in the External Relations of the EU is an innovative study of the interactions between EU external relations law and private law two unrelated fields of law inverted if private law is understood as regulatory private law the space where regulatory law intersects with private economic activity Here the link between the Internal Market and the global market and thereby international law is much more prominent In this book key questions about the relationship between EU external relations law and private law are answered including in what ways might European private law act as a tool to achieve EU external policy objectives particularly in regulatory fields How might the quickly developing EU external competence over the procedural dimensions of private law including private international law impact on substantive law both externally and internally And how is the legal position of private parties affected by EU external relations In asking these questions this edited collection opens up a field of enquiry into the so far underexplored relationship between these two fields of law In doing so it addresses three different aspects of the relationship i the evolution of the EU competence ii the ways in which EU private law extends its reach beyond the boundaries of the internal market and iii the ways in which the EU contributes to the formation of private regulation at the international level

Diplomacy and lobbying during Turkey's Europeanisation Bilge Firat, 2019-09-26 This book presents intricate backstage negotiations of interests and compromises between diplomats and lobbyists through the corridors of power which drove Turkey both closer to and farther apart from the EU Turkey's Integration Into the European Union Zeki Kütük, 2003 Turkey and the European Union Esra LaGro, 2007-06-15 This volume provides a thorough analysis of Turkey's accession to the EU and contributes to ongoing debates about the future relationship. It is a highly dynamic encounter and both questions and answers related to the accession seem constantly in flux. The book provides valuable information on the present and future state of affairs.

The Political Economy of Financial Transformation in Turkey Galip Yalman, Thomas Marois, Ali Rıza Güngen, 2018-10-03 This volume provides a comprehensive study of Turkey's financial transformation into one of the most dynamic if not trouble-free emerging capitalisms. While this financial evolution has underwritten Turkey's dramatic economic growth, it has done so without ameliorating the persistently exploitative and unequal social structures that characterize neoliberalism today. This edited volume, written by an interdisciplinary range of political economists, critically examines Turkey's financial transformation, contributing to debates on the nature of peripheral financialization. Eschewing economic interpretations, The Political Economy of Financial Transformation in Turkey underscores both the quantitative significance of exponential growth in financial flows and investments and the qualitative importance of the state's institutional restructuring around financial imperatives. The book presents today's reality as historically rooted. By understanding the choices made under the new Republic from 1923 onwards, one can better locate the changes launched as a newly liberalizing society since 1980. Likewise, the decisions made in response to Turkey's 2001 financial crisis spurred a tectonic break in state-market-society financial relations. The waves of change have reached far and wide, from corporate strategies of accumulation and growth to small and medium-sized enterprises' strategies of financial survival, from how finance has penetrated the provisioning of housing to how households have become financialized. Put together, one grasps the complexity and historicity of the power of contemporary finance. One also sees that the changes made have not been class-neutral but have entailed elevating the interests of major capital groups, particularly financial capital, above the interests of the poor and workers in Turkey. Nor are these changes constrained to its national borders, as what transpires domestically contributes to the making of a financialized world market. Through this Made in Turkey approach, the contributions in this volume thus challenge dominant understandings of financialization, which are derived from the advanced capitalisms, by sharing the specificity of emerging capitalisms such as Turkey. Turkey's Accession to the European Union Constantine Arvanitopoulos, 2008-12-28 European views on Turkey's membership in the EU have been split.

between those in support of its full integration and those advocating a privileged partnership To the extent that many of the latter proposals imply that Turkey will be partially integrated within Europe in certain areas the question of Turkey s accession is probably not about if but about how much integration there will be within the Union s structures The purpose of this book is not to offer a definitive response to this question The book aims instead to examine the complexity of the issues pertaining to Turkey s prospective EU membership by presenting several often divergent accounts of the political security and socio economic dimensions of the entire process The book provides a forum for an exchange of views among distinguished scholars and researchers from different national backgrounds in order to contribute to the ongoing public discussion of Turkey s accession Sophisticated informative and refreshing in its argumentation the book provides an excellent overview of the complexities of Turkey s accession to the EU membership Professor Mustafa Aydin TOBB University of Economics and Technology A refreshing view from the European periphery an original mirror of the Union s central challenges Professor Georges Prevelakis University of Paris 1 Panth on Sorbonne

Anthropological Perspectives on Transnational Encounters in Turkey: War, Migration and Experiences of Coexistence Meryem Bulut, Kadriye Şahin, 2019-10-02 This book includes studies conducted on the basis of field research by academics specialised in social anthropology in various universities in Turkey Anthropological studies on migration date back a long way Leaving their desk in the office anthropologists have taken to the field placing participatory observations and in depth interviews at the centre of their research The story of this book emerged from the thoughts of anthropologists who had made presentations on migration coming together during a symposium and discussing how to write about such a topic A qualitative research method was used in work containing examples from Ankara Istanbul Burdur Van Ardahan Sivas and Hatay The focal groups had been displaced and or had witnessed war This book is composed of eleven chapters The majority of the studies were conducted with the participation of Syrian immigrants The wave of compulsory emigration from Syria due to the continuing conflict in the country has affected Turkey deeply Syrians under temporary protection have been living in almost every Turkish city since the early years of the war The book also includes papers on groups who have come from Iraq Afghanistan and Somalia to Turkey settling in various places in the country in addition to Syrian immigrants

Broekman,1999 Is the European Union a new Walden Although a contrast in form and format the Union is surprisingly close to the latter s underlying philosophy One can read this proximity in the Treaties or the many facets of the European idea which mirrors in the Union s emerging legal system Today there is no longer a Union of a limited number of Nation States desiring to end divisions among themselves to acquire mutual respect and prosperity or a higher standard of living and working conditions for its members European citizenship shows a global orientation and is in continuous competition with the discourse of a globalizing economy and its Internet democracy Analyses of concepts such as political geography global supra national and regional citizenship democracy learning society native tongue and market lead to the insight that the Union s legal system wishes to ensure its citizens a legally engendered formatted and protected global position for action Walden s philosophy has a new face The European Union and the Modernization of the Turkish Education System Bulent Tarman,2008 The European Union and the Modernization of the Turkish Education System examines the reconstruction of Turkish history social studies curriculum and assesses how well the program conforms to the established European Union EU directions and norms In this age of globalization the extent to which the EU can impose its educational norms on Turkish education as the membership process unfolds is in question Therefore the problem addressed in this study concerns the relationship between educational and national development in Turkey and the degree of influence the EU can exercise appropriately on that development The complexity of integrating one nation with another is significantly difficult in itself The challenge of integrating culturally distinct national entities into a functioning peaceful community of states increases this difficulty by several orders of magnitude This book explores the conflicting imperatives and the efforts to establish commonality In this area the influence of history social studies education becomes the focus as it is the vanguard for establishing permanently altered mindsets for the ultimate good of both Turkey and the European community Finally of ultimate importance to this study is the status of evolutionary change in Turkish history social studies education Based upon the assumption that EU membership for Turkey is a positive step toward avoiding marginalization in the increasing integration motivated by globalization an evaluation of the current status and the necessary progression of change is not only logical but also imperative for this study s value This landmark book examines the role of education as Turkey transits from a nationalistic orientation toward EU membership and its inherent multinational multicultural integration Of particular concern in this regard are the following 1 the issues of sovereign and supra nationalism which challenge Turkey s candidacy for membership in the EU in general 2 the tense relationship between formal education and political power in Turkey 3 the specific tension and its reflection in the new social studies program and 4 under these circumstances the progress challenges and needed reforms to accomplish history social studies education reforms for both Turkey and EU candidacy requirements

This study strives to reconcile the issues of Turkish accession the implementation of EU educational standards and policies the influence of political change with regard to the EU on history social studies texts in Turkey and the differences between traditional pedagogy and curricular reforms for the whole of Turkish Education This study considers the historical framework of the relationship between Turkey and the EU Turkey s efforts toward educational modernization the rationale for such initiatives and their role as creating complicating factors for both national education reform and simultaneously EU acceptance of Turkey as a nation and in particular its history social studies curriculum The European Union and the Modernization of the Turkish Education System is an important book for all history social studies educators and policy makers Estonia and the European Union Peèter Vares,1999 The Law and Economics of the European Union Paul B. Stephan,Francesco Parisi,Ben Depoorter,2003 This new book examines the economic foundations of the European Union and seeks to give the reader a solid grounding of the core concepts that explain why EU law looks and works as it does Law and Economics of the European Union emphasizes case law and comparisons to analogous doctrines and problems that arise in the implementation of U S federalism The authors strike a balance between the constitutional aspects of the EU the establishment and the delineation of the institutions with emphasis on their powers vis vis the states that make up the Union and the regulatory product of the European Community in particular the law that implements the freedom of movement of goods services persons and capital The final chapter looks at competition law in the EU with multiple comparisons to U S antitrust law This book reflects the authors judgment that the EU as an institution and the source of a body of law has played and will continue to play an important role in contemporary international and business life European Union with Turkey Sedat Laçiner,Mehmet Özcan,İhsan Bal,2005
