Paul Goldberger, 2009-10-13 PAUL GOLDBERGER ON THE AGE OF ARCHITECTURE The Guggenheim Museum Bilbao by Frank Gehry the CCTV Headquarters by Rem Koolhaas the Getty Center by Richard Meier the Times Building by Renzo Piano Pulitzer Prize winning critic Paul Goldberger's tenure at The New Yorker has documented a captivating era in the world of architecture one in which larger than life buildings urban schemes historic preservation battles and personalities have commanded an international stage Goldberger's keen observations and sharp wit make him one of the most insightful and passionate architectural voices of our time In this collection of fifty seven essays the critic Tracy Kidder called America's foremost interpreter of public architecture ranges from Havana to Beijing from Chicago to Las Vegas dissecting everything from skyscrapers by Norman Foster and museums by Tadao Ando to airports monuments suburban shopping malls and white brick apartment houses This is a comprehensive account of the best and the worst of the age of architecture On Norman Foster Norman Foster is the Mozart of modernism He is nimble and prolific and his buildings are marked by lightness and grace He works very hard but his designs don't show the effort He brings an air of unnerving aplomb to everything he creates from skyscrapers to airports research laboratories to art galleries chairs to doorknobs His ability to produce surprising work that doesn't feel labored must drive his competitors crazy On the Westin Hotel The forty five story Westin is the most garish tall building that has gone up in New York in as long as I can remember It is fascinating if only because it makes Times Square vulgar in a whole new way extending up into the sky It is not easy these days to go beyond the bounds of taste If the architects the Miami based firm Arquitectonica had been trying to allude to bad taste one could perhaps respect what they came up with But they simply wanted like most architects today to entertain us On Mies van der Rohe Mies's buildings look like the simplest things you could imagine yet they are among the richest works of architecture ever created Modern architecture was supposed to remake the world and Mies was at the center of the revolution but he was also a counterrevolutionary who designed beautiful things His spare minimalist objects are exquisite He is the only modernist who created a language that ranks with the architectural languages of the past and while this has sometimes been troubling for his reputation his architectural forms become more astonishing as time goes on The Design of Childhood Alexandra Lange, 2018-06-12 Pulitzer Prize winning design critic Alexandra Lange's eye opening exploration of how children's playthings and physical surroundings affect their development from building blocks to city blocks Parents obsess over their children's playdates kindergarten curriculum and every bump and bruise but the toys classrooms playgrounds and neighborhoods little ones engage with are just as important These objects and spaces encode decades even centuries of changing ideas about what makes for good child rearing and what does not Do you choose wooden toys or plastic or increasingly digital What do youngsters lose when seesaws are deemed too dangerous and slides are designed primarily for safety How can the built environment help children cultivate self reliance In these debates parents educators and kids themselves are often caught in the middle Now prominent design critic Alexandra Lange reveals the surprising histories

behind the human made elements of our children's pint size landscape Her fascinating investigation shows how the seemingly innocuous universe of stuff affects kids behavior values and health often in subtle ways And she reveals how years of decisions by toymakers architects and urban planners have helped and hindered American youngsters journeys toward independence Seen through Lange's eyes everything from the sandbox to the street becomes vibrant with buried meaning The Design of Childhood will change the way you view your children's world and your own The Challenge of Change Dirk van den Heuvel,2008 Conservation of architecture and the conversation of Modern architecture in particular has assumed new challenges Rather than attempting to return a Modern building to its resumed original state the challenge of these proceedings is to revalue the essence of the manifold manifestations of Modern architecture and redefine its meanings in a rapidly changing world of digital revolution worldwide mobility and environmental awareness This volume aims to provide a variety of platforms for the exchange of ideas and experience A large international group of architects historians scholars preservationists and other parties involved in the processes of preserving renovating and transforming Modern buildings has been invited to investigate the paradox of the Modern monument and to reflect on the manifold dilemmas of change and continuity The general theme is elaborated through five sub themes The sub theme Change and Continuity addresses the tensions between change and continuity from a historical theoretical perspective Restructuring Cities and Landscapes focuses on the larger scale of city and landscape while Shifts in Programme and Flexibility draws attention to the scale of the building or building complex and questions limits of re use and flexibility The fourth sub theme deals with education and the fifth sub theme Progress Technology and Sustainability considers specific issues of techniques and materials Interior Architecture: From Brief to Build Jennifer Hudson,2010-10-11 Interior Architecture provides an in depth study of the creative and construction processes behind 30 contemporary interior designs Covering a broad range of international projects the book illustrates the working methods and creative concerns of both long established and emerging international designers Every stage of the project is included from the demands of the original brief through early sketches and design development to investigation of building regulations and collaboration with engineers contractors builders and suppliers Each project is presented through an explanatory overview shots of production and construction processes and details of fixtures fittings customized furnishings and decoration Interior Architecture offers both students and professional designers an inspiring and informative overview of how today's major interior architectural projects are designed and built
