The Western Pacific Challenge Of Sustainable Growth:

The Western Pacific Alan Alexander Burnett, 1992 The economic miracle of the Western Pacific is under threat from recent increases in population growth energy demand and environmental degradation In this wide ranging book Alan Burnett assesses the economic and political prospects of the four groups of Western Pacific countries experiencing major environmental changes Australasia South Asia Indo China and North East Asia including China The Western Pacific discusses the challenges facing the government as a consequence of population pressures and the degradation of forest rural industrial and urban environments Alan Burnett concludes that recent literature on sustainable growth including the Brundtland Report of 1987 appears little better than utopian as world population steadily rises towards eight billion This instructive and illuminating book successfully bridges the areas of economic development environmental studies and international relations in a powerful statement that will be essential reading for economists political scientists and policymakers throughout the world

The Western Pacific Alexander Burnett, 1994 China's Economic Growth T. Cannon, 2000-06-01 Economic reforms in China began in 1979 and initiated some of the most fundamental changes ever to occur in any country While allowing some of the most astonishing economic growth the world has seen they have also induced some of the most profound social and environmental shifts The Far East and Australasia 2003 Europa Publications, 2002 A unique survey of each country in the region It includes an extensive collection of facts statistics analysis and directory information in one accessible volume The United Nations in Southeast Asia and the South Pacific Roderic Alley, 2016-07-27 This study of the United Nations in Southeast Asia and the South Pacific evaluates the organization's role and performance in Cambodia and over refugees regarding human rights development environment and the needs of women within regional cooperation and as an instrument of state policy These cases illustrate how multilateral conduct through the United Nations provides a barometer indicating the intensity with which policy initiatives and values are sustained by relevant governmental interests alike In the regional settings considered conduct towards and within the UN has amplified unresolved value differences regarding relations with major powers sustainability and national identity The Geopolitics of Australia's Regional Relations D. Rumley, 2001-06-30 The origins of this book go back 30 years to the stimulation and interest generated by the political geography seminars led by John House at the University of Newcastle Upon Tyne I was very fortunate to graduate among its extremely capable sporty and enthusiastic class of 68 from where several academic geographers emerged Equally fortunately some of them and their predecessors had already blazed a trail to undertake graduate studies in Canada At the University of British Columbia I was supervised at different times by Julian Minghi and Victor Prescott both of whom are not only extremely capable academics but are also very fine people I owe an enormous debt to John Julian and Victor and to the British and Canadian taxpayers who provided financial support for my University studies In 1974 I began an academic career at the University of Western Australia where I have been ever since save for a two year period from 1991-3 as Professor of Australian Studies in the Department of International Relations at the University of Tokyo Viewing Australia and the Asia Pacific region from this different perspective within an extremely supportive Japanese environment had a profound impact I am especially grateful for the support provided by so many Japanese academic colleagues and friends beginning as early as 1976 Three individuals deserve special mention for their help guidance and enduring friendship George Ohshima Hiroshi Tanabe and Akihiro Kinda Greening Industrialization in Asian Transitional Economies A. P. J. Mol, Joost C. L. van Buuren, 2003-01-01 Studying transition economies is one of the most challenging tasks faced by those who wish to understand the political social and economic changes that the world has undergone since the end of the Cold War Greening Industrialization in Asian Transitional Economies is a collection of essays which examine environmental performance and the transition to market economies particularly in China and Vietnam A comprehensive assessment of the state of industrial environmental management this informative volume looks at the movement for cleaner production from many perspectives analyzing its historical roots its political influences its implementation and its economic and technological feasibility Readers of these excellent essays will be left with an in depth understanding of both the necessity for environmental improvements in rapidly industrializing economies and the difficulties and challenges which this goal entails An ambitious and important project Greening Industrialization in Asian Transitional Economies provides a wide ranging analysis of a vital topic

Pacific Asia? Melvin Gurtov, 2002 Emphasizing human and environmental security over traditional power politics Mel Gurtov offers a provocative reinterpretation of security in the Asia Pacific region The author questions a number of prevailing assumptions such as the China threat a U S centered balance of power and the necessity of a greater Japanese security role He argues instead for a cooperative framework for future security that focuses on people s basic needs is sensitive to Asian nationalism and gradually replaces military power with developmental priorities With its concise appraisals of the security policies of the United States China Japan the two Koreas and the ASEAN countries this work will be a valued reference for policymakers scholars and students alike Globalization and Environmental Reform Arthur P. J. Mol, 2003 A balanced look at globalization and its potential environmental effects both destructive and beneficial The Thai Economy Chris Dixon, 1998-12-03 The Thai Economy examines the origins and consequences of the Thai economy s accelerated growth since the mid 1980s The authors place a particular emphasis on the historical development and contemporary economic structure that tends to set Thailand apart from other developing countries Asia in the Pacific Islands R. G. Crocombe, 2007 A spectacular transition is under way in the Pacific Islands as a result of which all our lives will be radically different In the last fifty years or so Asia has begun to play a bigger and bigger role in all aspects of Islands life migration trade and investment aid and development information and media religion culture and sport It is replacing the West The process is irreversible With his trademark breadth and depth of knowledge and understanding of the region based on over half a century of experience study and deliberation Ron Crocombe documents the early connections between Asia and the Pacific details recent and continuing changes and poses challenging theories about the future Publisher Governance in the Asia-Pacific David Goldblatt, Richard Maidment, Jeremy Mitchell, 2005-06-27 Governance in the Asia Pacific is a student friendly textbook which examines the governance of nation states in this diverse and rapidly changing region It sets out the range of political beliefs and styles that flourish and the similarities and differences between individual states and the ways in which they choose to govern Wide ranging in scope and clearly written to help students get to the bottom of important issues the book addresses many key areas including the Anglo American powers Japan independence movements the politics of economic development social movements the politics of the environment the pressures for political change in the region And these issues are all analysed within the broad context of governance in the Asia Pacific more generally The authors also identify factors which explain the political underpinning of the dramatic economic development in the region The Pacific Islands and the USA R. G. Crocombe, 1995 The world's most powerful nation and more than a dozen of the world's smallest have been interacting for 200 years Beginning with whaling in the 1700s it has continued through many trades investment education churches media diplomacy and strategic issues As significant as the movement of Americans to the Pacific is that of 150 000 Pacific Islanders to the USA This important book documents the growing interaction with the USA to the pinnacle of involvement in World War II The importance of USA to the Pacific Islands remained high until the end of the 1980s but has declined since then on almost every dimension While USA will remain significant for the Pacific Islands its relative profile will continue to decline Back cover Bibliographie Mensuelle United Nations Library (Geneva, Switzerland), 1993 East Asia Imperilled Alan Dupont, 2001-10-15 Security issues have traditionally been defined in military terms yet the post Cold War security landscape contains numerous non military challenges to security In this 2001 analysis Alan Dupont argues that an emerging new class of non military threats has the potential to destabilize East Asia and reverse decades of hard won economic and social development He shows that these transnational shifts must be grasped and dealt with by governments and non government organizations both regionally and internationally if conflict is to be avoided Transnational threats stem from overpopulation deforestation and pollution global warming unregulated population movements transnational crime virulent new strains of infectious diseases and other issues not previously associated with international security Collectively they represent a new agenda and pose novel challenges for foreign and defence policy This highly informative compelling and authoritative book is essential reading for East Asia specialists and makes a significant contribution to international security debates Political Science Abstracts, 2012-12-06 Political Science Abstracts is an annual supplement to the Political Science Government and Public Policy Series of The Universal Reference System which was first published in 1967 All back issues are still available Asia-Pacific Raymond Frederick Watters, T. G. McGee, Ginny Sullivan, 1997 The great processes reshaping our world today can be summed up by the term globalisation Together with the communications revolution and massive urbanisation it is reshaping the organisation of global space It is illustrated by technological change pronounced economic growth the dominance of giant corporations ever more open markets and universal consumption Dramatic developments have occurred in Asia Pacific trade investment labour movements and political cooperation marked for example by APEC a giant free trade area designed to encompass about 60% of the world's population and half the world's economy But the processes also create social tension political reaction and local resistance as a result of regional restructuring widening regional disparities the neglect of backward areas or imposed modernisation Asia Pacific New Geographies of the Pacific Rim written by leading scholars from the region examines the extent to which Pacific Rim economies especially East Asia and Southeast Asia are increasingly integrated and considers the economic political and cultural forces at work In the process many new geographies are being created or reconstructed At the same time the local global dialectic whereby local forces react to negotiate with resist or capitulate to global forces is examined Part I analyses globalisation and the emergence of sub global regions Part II the processes of change in Asia Pacific and Part III the national responses to globalisation Part IV addresses local reactions to global forces resistance negotiations or capitulation Finally the editors enumerate the challenges to the region which centre on the crucial need to manage this era of globalisation so that sustainable societies can continue This vast region needs careful management of globalisation in which the forces of free trade and economic growth are the central determinants For the time being these forces seem to be in the ascendant
