Trust In Electronic Commerce Trust In Electronic Commerce:

Trust in Electronic Commerce: The Role of Trust from a Legal, an Organizational, and a Technical Point of View J. E. J. Prins, P. M. A. Ribbers, Henk C. A. Van Tilborg, 2002-07-03 Electronic commerce is here to stay No matter how big the dot com crisis was or how far the e entrepreneurs shares fell in the market the fact remains that there is still confidence in electronic trading At least it would appear that investors are confident in e companies again However not only trust of venture capitalists is of importance consumers also have to have faith in on line business After all without consumers there is no e business Interacting lawyers technicians and economists are needed to create a trustworthy electronic commerce environment To achieve this environment thorough and inter disciplinary research is required and that is exactly what this book is about Researchers of the project Enabling Electronic Commerce from the Dutch universities of Tilburg and Eindhoven have chosen a number of e topics to elaborate on trust from their point of view This volume makes clear that the various disciplines can and will play a role in developing conditions for trust and thus contribute to a successful electronic market

Consumer Trust in Electronic Commerce Ronald Bruin, 2002-08-28 This multi disciplinary book provides insight in how to establish consumer trust in electronic commerce It goes into detail on a broad variety of consumer trust criteria with regard to the security and reliability of electronic consumer transactions what information must be provided to consumers how to create a legally binding contract online confidence in electronic payments the resolution of disputes what law applies to the electronic consumer contract which body is entitled to settle the dispute and personal data protection By means of these criteria it is assessed into what extent consumer trust is ensured by the application of a public key infrastructure which supports cryptographic services such as electronic signatures and encryption An assessment is also made on the European Union cryptography policy and the European Union policy on consumer protection in electronic commerce In addition a wide range of co regulation and self regulation initiatives within the European Union and Northern America are assessed Finally this book provides a consumer trust framework which learns that various ingredients at different levels are required to build consumer trust in electronic commerce As such it clarifies the roles and responsibilities of government industry and consumer organisations businesses as well as consumers themselves

Focusing on Consumer-to-consumer Trust in Electronic Commerce with Age and Gender Factors Hyun Shik Yoon, 2009 The importance of trust in building and maintaining consumer relationship in e commerce environment is recognized in the Information Systems literature since prior researches show that general lack of trust in e commerce is a significant factor in inhibiting online purchases A key challenge for researchers is to identify antecedent variables that engender consumer trust in ecommerce including business to consumer B2C and consumer to consumer C2C Although C2C has been found to be more popular than the B2C e commerce main stream tends to focus on B2C ecommerce without making a distinction between B2C and C2C This study expected that two influences internal facts including natural propensity to trust and perception of web site quality and external facts including other s trust of buyers sellers and third party recognition would affect an individual s trust in C2C e commerce This research extended this model of an individual s trust in C2C e commerce to include age and gender as control variables The Initial Stages of Consumer Trust Building in E-commerce Kyösti Pennanen,2009
