What Are They Going To Do Send Me To Vietnam:

To Vietnam in Vain Edward A. Hagan, 2015-12-01 American military advisors in South Vietnam came to know their allies personally as few American soldiers could. In addition to fighting the Viet Cong, advisors engaged in community building projects and local government initiatives. They dealt firsthand with corrupt American and South Vietnamese bureaucracies. Not many advisors would have been surprised to learn that 105mm artillery shells were being sold on the black market to the Viet Cong. Not many were surprised by the North Vietnamese victory in 1975. This memoir of a U.S. Army intelligence officer focuses on the province advisors who worked with local militias that were often disparaged by American units. The author describes his year 1969-1970 as a U.S. advisor to the South Vietnamese Regional and Popular Forces in the Mekong Delta.

What are They Going to Do, Send Me to Vietnam? Jack C. Stoddard, 2000 Vietnam Báo Chí Marc Phillip Yablonka, 2020-01-10 A military journalist shines a light on the unsung heroism and contributions of enlisted combat reporters in the Vietnam War in these revealing interviews. Vietnam Báo Chí brings together interviews with thirty-five combat correspondents who reported on the Vietnam War. These brave men and women wrote the stories, captured the images, and filmed the television coverage of their fellow servicepeople on battlefields from the Mekong Delta to the DMZ and from the Tet Offensive in 1968 to the fall of Saigon in 1975. Here you will meet Marine Dale Dye who would go on to play an integral role in the making of the film Platoon; Green Beret Jim Morris whose books including War Story recount the combat operations of Special Forces units in the Central Highlands; John Del Vecchio whose classic work of fiction The 13th Valley mirrors his own existence as a combat correspondent with the 101st Airborne Division; and US Navy Frogman Chip Maury renowned for his free fall and underwater photography in Vietnam. Yablonka's extensive experience as a military journalist brought him into contact with many of these combat correspondents, giving him a unique insight into their professions and lives. This book honors these brave chroniclers in uniform who brought the Vietnam War home to us. This valuable collection of profiles shines light on the all but forgotten role of American military book press in Vietnamese Publishers Weekly.

Why? Why Not Me? Sam Gaylord, 2020-04-26 At some point in your life you may have experienced a medical scare, felt the death of a loved one, or was forced to go through a life-changing crisis. Did you wonder WHY? Why is this happening to you? Why is this happening to your loved one? WHY? Why? Why NOT? Me provides the readers an insight into Sam Gaylord's life. There have been many stumbling blocks thrown at him. Sam has risen to the occasion, overcoming many obstacles. He shares with his readers how he climbed over hurdles and became more and more determined to make the best of his situation. Sam shares his doubts and fears. He learned to stop asking Why and starting asking Why not. Facing each one head on, he found the initiative and motivation to triumph, move forward, and become a stronger man. Some men see things as they are and say why. I dream things that never were and say why not. George Bernard Shaw. Adversity is the state in which a man most easily becomes acquainted with himself. John Wooden.

The Redcatcher Express Henry Mora, 2004-06-10 The Redcatcher Express is the author's Vietnam War memoirs. Drafted and sent to fight in the war, the author, a musician by trade, is thwarted in his attempts to get into an Army band. He is assigned to Recon Platoon E 4 12 of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade where he endures the adversity of war. The situation worsens when he is picked to be point man for Recon. At the forefront of battle, the author begins to feel that he is losing his senses. His prayers are answered when a reporter for the Stars and Stripes writes a story about his musical background. The Commanding General of the 199th reads the story and commissions the author to recruit members for a band to entertain the troops and raise the morale. He organizes The Redcatcher Express and the band, consisting of American GIs, becomes popular with the troops. He later discovers that raising the morale is instrumental in raising the enemy body count in the 199th's war campaign as well.

Rolling Coffins Brian Richard Esher, 2015-01-06 An infantryman's honest account of his experiences during the controversial Vietnam War, this book chronicles the courage and dedication that the American soldiers demonstrated while away from loved ones in a foreign land where hanging by a thread was the norm every day. It openly discusses the challenges and sacrifices each man had to make in order to survive and protect the lives of his comrades and it casts a light on the shortcomings of the US government and of those in authority who could have abated the terrifying number of casualties through proper planning and sound judgment. The author, Brian Richard Esher, had witnessed firsthand the horrors of the war and had many close encounters with death. He was sent to Vietnam in 1968, the worst year in terms of casualties. He served with the 25th Infantry Division 4th Battalion of the 23rd Infantry Mechanized and received several medals, including the second highest military award for valor, the Distinguished Service Cross.

Six Degrees of the Bracelet: Vietnam's Continuing Grip John Siegfried, 2011-07-25 Six degrees of separation refers to the idea that everyone is at most six steps away from or connected to any other person on Earth. While the Vietnam War was raging, silver bracelets were created to raise awareness of and show support for American servicemen who were prisoners of war (POW) or missing in action (MIA). After the war, black bracelets were produced to pay homage to any of our armed forces killed in action (KIA). The orange bracelet is more recent and symbolizes all those living and deceased who have suffered from diseases, combat wounds, and post-traumatic stress resulting from their Vietnam service. These bracelets honor the memory and sacrifice of our troops, one of the central goals of this book. In December 2009, John Siegfried discovered the silver POW/MIA bracelet that his mother-in-law had worn for over 20 years. Curiosity urged him to contact the person named on the bracelet, a contact that inspired him profoundly and set him on a path that resulted in this book. Colonel Myron Donald willingly shared the story of both his service and imprisonment as a POW in Vietnam. In a personal meeting with Colonel Donald, Siegfried learned the harrowing details of how Donald overcame over five years imprisonment in the horrid conditions of North Vietnamese prisons. This story opened his eyes to the harsh reality and bitter tragedy of a savage war and inspired him to begin researching the stories of others affected by the Vietnam War. This book contains many of those stories as well as compelling insights into Siegfried's own journey of discovery. All interviews within this book are true accounts and were conducted in person throughout the United States You will be riveted by the indescribable stories told by veterans about veterans and for veterans and by the families of the lost or still missing MIAs More than 3 400 000 men and women served in Southeast Asia Although close to 60 percent of all Vietnam veterans who served in country are no longer alive the families of all these veterans will continue to be affected by the Vietnam War for generations This book illustrates the misery and despair experienced by both soldiers and victims of this visceral war but also the exhilaration of combat and the camaraderie felt during their respective tours to present day The understanding of warfare combined with the appreciation of all the elements derived from combat is necessary to better comprehend the effects of battle on those who have sworn to protect our country Even if our soldiers did not incur flesh wounds they may have suffered irreparable damage to their emotions their psyche and their soul We civilians may never know or be able to comprehend the degradation caused to their human spirit and the violence and brutality they encountered We need also to continue to support these men and women in the aftermath of their courageous service Vietnam Magazine ,1971
