Truth Commissions and Criminal Courts Alison Bisset, 2012-04-16 This detailed evaluation of the relationship between trials and truth commissions challenges their assumed compatibility through an analysis of their operational features at national inter state and international levels Alison Bisset conducts case study analyses of national practice in South Africa East Timor and Sierra Leone evaluates the problems posed by the International Criminal Court and considers the challenges presented by the possibility of bystander state prosecutions At each level she highlights potential operational conflicts and formulates targeted proposals to enable effective coexistence Impact, Legitimacy, and Limitations of Truth Commissions Angela D. Nichols, 2019-02-06 This book develops a theoretical understanding of how truth commissions achieve legitimacy and contribute to peace and stability Angela D Nichols argues that truth commissions are most likely to impact society when they possess certain institutional characteristics characteristics that send important political signals to the state and broader society alike If these signals suggest greater degrees of authority a break with the past and transparency in both its investigations and its findings the truth commission is more likely to impact society In particular Nichols examines whether or not states that adopt truth commissions with these characteristics are more likely to respect human rights and experience lower levels of violence She concludes with an analysis of Colombia s newly established Truth Coexistence and Non Recurrence Commission Documentation from Truth and Reconciliation Commissions Proscovia Svård, Bonny Ibhawoh, 2024-08-12 Documentation from Truth and Reconciliation Commissions highlights the need for post conflict societies to have access to and to use Truth Reconciliation Commissions TRCs documentation to achieve reconciliation and to work towards a democratic society Including international contributions from a range of disciplines the volume discusses the challenges that surround TRCs documentation Considering the impact of the politicization of documentation chapters also highlight the lack of political will to democratize information the lack of dissemination and the preservation infrastructures that hinder access and its effective use and re use Arguing that TRCs documentation should be used to inform policy improve governance and to promote justice healing and reconciliation the volume considers the ethical challenges involved in disseminating such information Contributing authors argue that information professionals should play a major role in the planning for the TRCs information management infrastructures if they are to facilitate access effectively manage the generated documentation deal with preservation of the compound records and promote the dissemination of the TRC findings Documentation from Truth and Reconciliation Commissions demonstrates that TRCs documentation provides validation of human rights violations and that it helps to promote an understanding of the causes of conflict As such it will be essential reading for academics and students working in Archival Studies Information Science History Transitional Justice and Peace and Conflict Studies Leaving the shadow of Pain. A cross-cultural exploration of truth, forgiveness, reconciliation and healing Doris H. Gray, 2020-08-21 In this small volume Doris H Gray shares her reflections on human responses to trauma especially when it is kept secret and on attempts at healing that transcend boundaries She offers insights on how individuals recover from trauma in particular when official procedures for redress and professional help are not available She challenges conventional notions of forgiveness and reconciliation which often put the pressure on victims to move forward Most of all Gray finds that victims efforts to come to terms with trauma are not disconnected but are related across time culture religion and geography Part of this book narrates Gray s personal experiences of growing up with her father who was a Holocaust survivor the sudden death of her oldest child her own rape and soon thereafter the death of her husband She describes how these events shaped her scholarly research especially that on women who were victims of torture and extreme discrimination during the Tunisian dictatorship of Zine El Abidine Ben Ali 1989 2011 It is the sum of these experiences that lays the foundation for this brave book Dr Doris H Gray was Director of the Hillary Clinton Center for Women s Empowerment at Al Akhawayn University in Ifrane Morocco where she also served as Professor of Women and Gender Studies Before moving to Morocco she taught in the Gender Studies Program and the Department of Modern Languages at Florida State University in Tallahassee Florida USA Her research focuses on gender and women s rights and transitional justice in Tunisia Morocco and Algeria She has previously published three books

Transitional Justice in Ghana Marian Yankson-Mensah, 2020-04-08 This book situates Ghana s truth telling process which took place from 2002 to 2004 within the discourse on the effectiveness of the different mechanisms used by post conflict and post dictatorship societies to address gross human rights violations The National Reconciliation Commission was the most comprehensive transitional justice mechanism employed during Ghana s transitional process in addition to amnesties reparations and minimal institutional reforms Due to a blanket amnesty that derailed all prospects of resorting to judicial mechanisms to address gross human rights violations the commission was established as an alternative to prosecutions Against this background the author undertakes a holistic assessment of the National Reconciliation Commission s features mandate procedure and aftermath to ascertain the loopholes in Ghana s transitional process She defines criteria for the assessment which can be utilised with some modifications to assess the impact of other transitional justice mechanisms Furthermore she also reflects on the options and possible setbacks for future attempts to address the gaps in the mechanisms utilised With a detailed account of the human rights violations perpetrated in Ghana from 1957 to 1993 this volume of the International Criminal Justice Series provides a useful insight into the factors that shape the outcomes of transitional justice processes Given its combination of normative comparative and empirical approaches the book will be useful to academics students practitioners and policy makers by fostering their understanding of the implications of the different features of truth commissions the methods for assessing transitional justice mechanisms and the different factors to consider when designing mechanisms to address gross human rights violations in the aftermath of a conflict or dictatorship Marian Yankson Mensah is a Researcher and Project Officer at the International Nuremberg Principles Academy in Nuremberg Germany

Truth, Reparations and Social Cohesion Elisabeth Bunselmeyer, 2020-02-25 This book addresses the effectiveness of transitional justice mechanisms for repairing social cohesion Truth commissions and reparation programs are implemented worldwide to enhance social cohesion peace and democracy in post conflict settings Most claims about transitional justice measures are however normatively and not empirically based The book questions whether attention from a truth and reconciliation commission can truly change the lives of the violence affected people and whether monetary compensations or communal projects in form of milk cows can ever truly repair the harm suffered The within country comparative case study analyzes the effects of the commission and reparation program in Peru It studies the post conflict situation and the development of social cohesion in communities affected by the internal armed conflict Using detailed empirical data this analysis reveals why the reparation of social cohesion in Peru was an impossible task Contributing to a broader understanding of the impact of nationally applied transitional justice instruments in local settings the book further offers a new framework for analyzing social cohesion as one of the aims of transitional justice processes Offering a detailed account of transitional justice processes and social cohesion on the micro level as well as an important analysis of their relationship this innovative monograph will be invaluable for transitional justice scholars and students as well as for international political and societal actors who are involved in transitional justice measures

Historical Dictionary of Human Rights Jacques Fomerand, 2021-03-29 The second edition of Historical Dictionary of Human Rights explores both the theory and the practice of international human rights with a focus on the norms and institutions that make up the architecture of the global human rights regime and the tools processes and procedures through which such norms are realized and enforced Particular attention is given to the contextual political and sociological factors that shape and constrain the operation and functioning of international human rights institutions and their state and non state actors This is done through a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 1 000 cross referenced entries on terminology conventions treaties intergovernmental organizations in the United Nations and non governmental organizations as well as some of the pioneers and defenders This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about human rights

Transitional Justice and Economic, Social and Cultural Rights United Nations. Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights, 2014 The failure to fulfil economic social and cultural rights and the outright violation of these rights are often at the root of conflict Furthermore the actions and omissions by States and non State actors during conflict can also amount to violations of economic social and cultural rights and particularly affect the most vulnerable Yet there has been no widespread move in transitional justice processes to examine the root causes of the conflict or to look into violations of economic social and cultural rights The Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights has explored in greater depth the ways in which transitional justice processes have addressed or could address violations of economic social and cultural rights This publication presents the outcome of that work
