Unspeakable Love Gay And Lesbian Life In The Middle East:

Unspeakable Love Brian Whitaker, 2006 Draws long overdue attention to the rights of homosexuals in the Middle East Here Guardian journalist Brian Whitaker paints a disturbing picture of people who live secretive fearful lives often jailed or beaten and ostracised by their families or sent to be cured by psychiatrists The Greenwood Encyclopedia of LGBT Issues Worldwide Chuck Stewart, 2009-12-18 This set has an ambitious scope with the goal of offering the most up to date international overview of key issues in the lives of lesbian gay bisexual and transgender individuals HIV AIDS has been a major media focus but this set fosters a broader understanding of the status of LGBT individuals in their society More than 70 countries are represented The clear accessible prose is appropriate for high school student research on up The material is especially needed in a cultural climate that increasingly supports and requires information about LGBT populations The content is useful for a paper on a hot topic health classes discussion groups and gay straight alliance groups Israel Denial Cary Nelson, 2019-06-07 A work of rigorous intellectual inquiry critiquing the BDS movement in academia Jewish Journal Israel Denial is the first book to offer detailed analyses of the work faculty members have published individually and collectively in support of the Boycott Divestment and Sanctions BDS movement it contrasts their claims with options for promoting peace The faculty discussed here have devoted a significant part of their professional lives to delegitimizing the Jewish state While there are beliefs they hold in common including the conviction that there is nothing good to say about Israel they also develop distinctive arguments designed to recruit converts to their cause in novel ways They do so both as writers and as teachers Israel Denial is the first to give substantial attention to anti Zionist pedagogy No effort to understand the BDS movement s impact on the academy and public policy can be complete without the kind of understanding this book offers A co publication of the Academic Engagement Network Desiring Arabs Joseph A. Massad, 2008-09-15 Sexual desire has long played a key role in Western judgments about the value of Arab civilization In the past Westerners viewed the Arab world as licentious and Western intolerance of sex led them to brand Arabs as decadent but as Western society became more sexually open the supposedly prudish Arabs soon became viewed as backward Rather than focusing exclusively on how these views developed in the West in Desiring Arabs Joseph A Massad reveals the history of how Arabs represented their own sexual desires To this aim he assembles a massive and diverse compendium of Arabic writing from the nineteenth century to the present in order to chart the changes in Arab sexual attitudes and their links to Arab notions of cultural heritage and civilization A work of impressive scope and erudition Massad s chronicle of both the history and modern permutations of the debate over representations of sexual desires and practices in the Arab world is a crucial addition to our understanding of a frequently oversimplified and vilified culture A pioneering work on a very timely yet frustratingly neglected topic I know of no other study that can even begin to compare with the detail and scope of this work Khaled El Rouayheb Middle East Report In Desiring Arabs Edward Said s disciple Joseph A Massad corroborates his mentor s thesis that orientalist writing was racist and dehumanizing Massad brilliantly goes on to trace the legacy of this racist internalized orientalist discourse up to the present Financial Times

Cultural Studies of Rights John Nguyet Erni, 2014-06-11 At a time of global uncertainties and erosion of liberties how will cultural studies clear a space for a parallel intellectual and political engagement with human rights practice How will human rights thinking be liberated from its doctrinal approach to ethics and legal justice This book forges an alliance between cultural studies and human rights scholarships to help us better understand the changing and complex political context that continuously shapes contemporary violence To date interdisciplinary dialogue or institutional collaboration remains rare across the two domains resulting in critical interpretive work appearing too vacuous at times and institutional legal work often trapped in doctrinalism By opening a door for a new and engaging scholarship this book will re ignite debates and passions within communication and critical cultural studies in the search for global justice This book was originally published as a special issue of Communication and Critical Cultural Studies

What Makes a Man? Rashid al-Daif, Joachim Helfer, 2015-01-15 In 2003 Lebanese writer Rashid al Daif spent several weeks in Germany as part of the West East Divan program a cultural exchange effort meant to improve mutual awareness of German and Middle Eastern cultures He was paired with German author Joachim Helfer who then returned the visit to al Daif in Lebanon Following their time together al Daif published in Arabic a literary reportage of his encounter with Helfer in which he focuses on the German writer s homosexuality His frank observations have been variously read as trenchant na ve or offensive In response Helfer provided an equally frank point by point riposte to al Daif s text Together these writers offer a rare exploration of attitudes toward sex love and gender across cultural lines By stretching the limits of both fiction and essay they highlight the importance of literary sensitivity in understanding the Other Rashid al Daif s novelized biography and Joachim Helfer s commentary appear for the first time in English translation in What Makes a Man Sex Talk in Beirut and Berlin Also included in this volume are essays by specialists in Arabic and German literature that shed light on the discourse around sex between these two authors from different cultural contexts

2007, Sexuality in the Arab World Samir Khalaf, John H. Gagnon, 2006 Illuminating essays by prominent sociologists

Sable, 2005 What's Really Wrong with the Middle East Brian Whitaker, 2009 A counter blast to simplistic Western views about the Middle East

The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Love, Courtship, & Sexuality Through History: The modern world James W. Howell, 2008 Sex and love are central to daily life and to all nations Despite the universality of these sentiments their expression is largely shaped by the cultures in which they occur This set explores sex love and culture around the world and across time

I Am You Ilhām Maṣṣūr, 2008 A groundbreaking work which was first published in Beirut in the year 2000 by Riad el Rayyes I Am You Ana Hiya Anti is the only novel in Arabic which deals exclusively with the subject of female homosexuality in the Middle East This critical translation of Elham Mansour s Lebanese novel provides a rare insight into the prevalent attitudes towards lesbianism in the Arabic mainstream whilst also casting a light on that which is often hidden from the public gaze the lives of some gay and bisexual women This long awaited critical translation provides the English reader access to a novel which deals candidly and positively with one of the most important and taboo issues of contemporary Arab society homo sexuality The novel is translated and introduced by Samar Habib author of Female Homosexuality in the Middle East with a foreword by Rebecca Beirne editor of Televising Queer Women A Reader both critical commentaries help the reader situate the novel within a dynamic historical framework and a broader LGBTIQ context This book provides a narrative that depicts everyday lives of lesbians in the Middle East moving beyond seeing victims of homophobic laws in order to explore their desires and the possibilities for living life outside societal parameters I Am You is unique in that it is the first novel published in Arabic to truly take up lesbianism as an issue and I would argue a cause For indeed it is a highly political novel questioning every prevailing societal belief about homosexuality and contending that homosexuality is a natural phenomenon As the first text of its kind I Am You will no doubt one day take its place as a lesbian literary classic but more importantly it outs lesbianism in the Arab world and specifically in Lebanon acting as survival literature and perhaps opening up a door for further lesbian representation in Arabic culture Dr Rebecca Beirne Author of Lesbians in Television and Text after the Millennium and editor of Televising Queer Women A Reader The Nation ,2006 Journal of Palestine Studies ,2006 Challenging Homophobia Lutz van Dijk,Barry van Driel,2007 This international collection shows how educators in Britain North America South Africa Poland Holland and Belgium are dealing with prejudice discrimination stereotyping and violence against sexual minorities Examples of positive projects and resources for combating homophobia are described Foreword by Desmond Tutu Sex and Gender in Ancient Egypt Carolyn Graves-Brown,2008 This volume offers new research on an essential but often controversial aspect of life in Dynastic Egypt Its originality lies in combining research which uses Egyptology s traditional strengths philological and iconographic with reflections on material culture and on the discipline of Egyptology itself The authors are internationally recognized authorities in their fields Journal of South Asian and Middle Eastern Studies ,2006 The Publishers Weekly ,2006 Lebanon, Lebanon Anna Wilson,2006 Charity anthology for Save the Children in Lebanon New Books on Women and Feminism ,2005
