Literature Marija Knežević, 2011-09-22 If we have established that our approach to the phenomena that are other to us is always a matter of semiosis and that even in an attempt to naturalize phenomenology like the one made by Maurice Merleau Ponty who points to the corporeity of consciousness as much as an intentionality of the body it appears that our most negligible movements present our cultural being or habituality cf Iris Young Throwing Like a Girl 1990 2005 However many thinkers have claimed for example the novelist D H Lawrence or philosopher Luce Irigaray that we know by touch and intuition The papers collected in this book examine our approach to these issues in an essentially post theory world particularly enquiring if twentieth century theory has left us clear directions of where we are supposed to be looking for new ways of understanding and representing the phenomenological The way the Other exists in the consciousness that as Hegel said always pursues its death becomes especially interesting in the context of the development of Anglo American studies in the post postmodern world which sees the West as a changeable cultural and geographical concept that incorporates a multiplicity of others Yet at the same time a number of contemporary Anglo American writers insists on the prolonged effects of colonialism in the modern world in which outbursts of violence and hatred aimed at the Other prove that the modern world still cannot approach the Other without bigotry More Than a Scenic Mountain Landscape Kurt Frederick Anschuetz, 2007 This study focuses on the cultural historical environment of the 88 900 acre 35 560 ha Valles Caldera National Preserve VCNP over the past four centuries of Spanish Mexican and U S governance It includes a review and synthesis of available published and unpublished historical ethnohistorical and ethnographic literature about the human occupation of the area now contained within the VCNP Documents include historical maps texts letters diaries business records photographs land and mineral patents and court testimony This study presents a cultural historical framework of VCNP land use that will be useful to land managers and researchers in assessing the historical ecology of the property It provides VCNP administrators and agents the cultural historical background needed to develop management plans that acknowledge traditional associations with the Preserve and offers managers additional background for structuring and acting on consultations with affiliated communities Proceedings, American Philosophical Society (vol. 149, no. 4, 2005) ,

American Archaeology. Annual Meeting,2002 Is there evidence of children in the archaeological record Some would answer no that subadults can only be distinguished when there is osteological confirmation Others might suggest that the reason children don t exist in prehistory is because no one has looked for them much as no one had looked for women in the same context until recently Focusing on the Southwest contributors to this volume attempt to find some of those children or at least show how they might be found They address two issues what was the cultural construction of childhood What were childrens lives like Determining how cultures with written records have constructed childhood in the past is hard enough but the difficulty is magnified in the case of ancient Puebloan societies The contributors here offer approaches from careful analysis of artifacts and skeletal remains to ethnographic evidence in rock art Topics include ceramics and evidence of child manufacture and painting cradleboards evidence of child labor and osteological evidence of health conditions New
