The Mayong Times-Chapter: Three (EPUB Version) Hreeshyat Talukdar,2025-11-07 Mayong has always existed in the liminal spaces where cartography fails a geography that resists documentation where ancient traditions persist not through preservation but through conscious evolution This third chapter chronicles the Post Colonial Era 1900s 1947 when India s violent birthing pains intersected with supernatural infrastructures older than the empires contesting dominion over them What you are about to read is documentary reconstruction filtered through testimonies that official history dismissed as folkloric embellishment The Baak Jokhini Ghorapak and Bira are not metaphors for psychological trauma or political resistance they are operational entities engineered through tantric protocols that treated consciousness as primary material rather than emergent property

Remenyi,2007-11-03 This is a biography and a ghost story set in various parts of the world including the slums of post war Dublin and the plush life of colonial Africa From his arrival in Ireland from Hungary as a Radio Officer on board the ship Vicia in 1941 Steve Remenyi was faced with what might have been for others insurmountable problems His ship was trapped in Dublin He couldn't speak English and he didn't know anyone in Ireland But Steve was both an optimist and a survivor and made the most of the challenges facing him So he started a business Make / Believe John Hartley,2025-01-23 This book illustrates that mediated popular culture and science based knowledge systems entangled and compromised as both have become are still a robust crucible for system change for the future when they combine forces Planetary crises require responses from everyone This means that collective action is not simply a scientific or political problem It is a problem of culture and media But modern politics journalism and science were not designed for global climate action They've divided humans into competitive and often hostile we and they groups Identity news and knowledge are all weaponized Culture makes groups groups make knowledge and knowledge makes enemies What can be done to prevent global conflict and the drift to war Make Believe turns to popular culture and social media to argue for an alternative storyline While the Great Powers are making new enemies emergent classes led by children are using planetary connectivity to make new worlds A digital planet generates new kinds of strategic stories for pan human action based on difference intersectionality and cooperation for a sustainable Earth system Make Believe shows how alternatives to the Great Game of global contestation are gathering strength in unlikely places among women children lifestyle and pop culture Popular digital media literacy is now a prerequisite for the remediation of the planet ePub - Research Supervision for Supervisors and Their Students Dan
