The Theology Of Food Eating And The Eucharist:

The Theology of Food Angel F. Méndez-Montoya, 2012-03-28 The links between religion and food have been known for centuries and yet we rarely examine or understand the nature of the relationship between food and spirituality or food and sin Drawing on literature politics and philosophy as well as theology this book unlocks the role food has played within religious tradition A fascinating book tracing the centuries old links between theology and food showing religion in a new and intriguing light Draws on examples from different religions the significance of the apple in the Christian Bible and the eating of bread as the body of Christ the eating and fasting around Ramadan for Muslims and how the dietary laws of Judaism are designed to create an awareness of living in the time and space of the Torah Explores ideas from the fields of literature politics and philosophy as well as theology Takes seriously the idea that food matters and that the many aspects of eating table fellowship culinary traditions the aesthetic ethical and political dimensions of food are important and complex and throw light on both religion and our relationship to food

Food and Faith Norman Wirzba, 2011-05-23 A comprehensive theological framework for assessing the significance of eating demonstrating that eating is of profound economic moral and theological significance

The Eucharist and World Hunger Izunna Okonkwo, 2011-12-21 Hunger is a menace in different parts of the globe It has more unnatural than natural causes Though efforts have been made towards alleviating its causes and consequences more actions still need to be taken for its genuine alleviation and eventual eradication in the world For Joseph Grassi painful hunger is a daily occurrence that must be countered by ongoing effective programs that enter into the lives of every Christian Such position not only recognises the frequency and excruciating nature of hunger but also suggests that Christians and other religious groups have a very important role to play in order to eradicate hunger and its devastating effects This book explores the nuances of hunger its causes dimensions and approaches as well as its connection to the Eucharist It argues that hunger can be eradicated and that the Eucharist stands out as a veritable model

Reinterpreting the Eucharist Anne F. Elvey, Carol Hogan, Kim Power, Claire Renkin, 2014-10-14 The Eucharist continues to be central to contemporary Christian religious tradition and to be the focus for a wide range of assumptions and disputes Chief amongst these disputes is the role of women in the theology and the ritual of the Eucharist Reinterpreting the Eucharist brings together a diverse range of voices with each using their own marginalized experience to explore other ways indigenous culture medieval and contemporary art social history and environmental ethics of engaging with the Eucharist Presenting new forms of theological and ethical engagement the book responds to the challenge of reconsidering the meaning of the Eucharist today

Trauma Theory, Trauma Story Sarah Emanuel, 2021-11-08 This work offers an overview of trauma theory s relations to biblical studies In addition to summarizing the theoretical landscape s it provides exegetical forays into Ezekiel and in part Exodus and the Eucharist The analysis will engage these materials traumatic ethoi including their connections to trauma informed eating and queerings so as to offer entryways into the wider critical conversation While these exegetical foci may seem arbitrary that is in part the point As readers will see trauma defies sense making Akin to postmodernist poststructuralist intertextualities trauma cannot be flattened into neat narration Trauma is capricious leaving survivors to carry with them multivalent and even paradoxical connections to their experiences This project thus attempts to perform trauma s plurisignification as much as it tries to explain it using a set of traditionally unexamined pairings to do so While not an exhaustive survey on trauma theory and the Bible such work could fill the space of multiple publications the following work provides a representation of both the theory of trauma and its applications within the biblical field

The Eucharistic Sacrifice Sergius Bulgakov, 2021-09-15 This first English translation represents Sergius Bulgakov s final fully developed word on the Eucharist The debate around the controversial doctrine of the Eucharist as sacrifice has dogged relations between Catholic Orthodox and Protestant churches since the Reformation In The Eucharistic Sacrifice the famous Russian theologian Sergius Bulgakov cuts through long standing polemics surrounding the notion of the Eucharist as sacrifice and offers a stunningly original intervention rooted in his distinctive theological vision This work written in 1940 belongs to Bulgakov s late period and is his last and most discerning word on eucharistic theology His primary thesis is that the Eucharist is an extension of the sacrificial self giving love of God in the Trinity or what he famously refers to as kenosis Throughout the book Bulgakov points to the fact that although the eucharistic sacrifice at the Last Supper took place in time before the actual crucifixion of Christ both events are part of a single act that occurs outside of time This is Bulgakov s concluding volume of three works on the Eucharist The other two The Eucharistic Dogma and The Holy Grail were translated and published together in 1997 This third volume was only first published in the original Russian version in 2005 and has remained unavailable in English until now The introduction provides a brief history of Bulgakov s theological career and a description of the structure of The Eucharistic Sacrifice This clear and accessible translation will appeal to scholars and students of theology ecumenism and Russian religious thought

The Meal That Reconnects Mary E. McGann, 2020-02-15 2021 Catholic Media Association Award first place award in Catholic Social Teaching In The Meal That Reconnects Dr Mary McGann RSCJ invites readers to a more profound appreciation of the sacredness of eating the planetary interdependence that food and the sharing of food entails and the destructiveness of the industrial food system that is supplying food to tables globally She presents the food crisis as a spiritual crisis a call to rediscover the theological ecological and spiritual significance of eating and to probe its challenge to Christian eucharistic practice Drawing on the origins of Eucharist in Jesus s meal fellowship and the worship of early Christians McGann invites communities to reclaim the foundational meal character of eucharistic celebration while offering pertinent strategies for this renewal

Bread of Life in Broken Britain Charles Pemberton, 2020-04-30 The return of Christian social service to the centre of British political life through the emergence of the foodbank movement has elicited a range of ecclesial responses However in their urgency and brevity these Church responses fail to systematically integrate political critique and social analysis nor do they undertake a sustained integration of the recent gains in political theology with the realities of our current mixed economy of welfare Charles Pemberton draws on interviews with foodbank users and volunteers to defend and advance a Christian vision of welfare beyond emergency food provision He suggests that behind the day to day struggles of those using foodbanks there are wider much concerns about loneliness marginalisation and the wholesale fragmentation of society The Doctrinal Theology of the Evangelical Lutheran Church Heinrich Schmid,1899 The Theology of Saint Paul Ferdinand Prat,1927 A Theology of Eucharistic Sacrifice Brian Byron,1974 Many Christians fear that the Roman Catholic belief in the sacrifice of the Mass is a down grading of the once for all sacrifice of Christ on the Cross The Windsor Statement of the Anglican Roman Catholic International Commission has gone some of the way towards meeting these misgivings but the simple fact is that Roman Catholic theology has been groping for centuries trying to explain in what sense the Mass is a sacrifice The author s attempt to solve this problem deserves very careful consideration To put it briefly his view is that Calvary is a sacrifice analogically and transcendently but not literally a sacrifice and a representation of the analogical sacrifice of Calvary and which conveys the grace of Calvary In this Eucharistic sacrifice the priest offers Christ himself under the forms of bread and wine
