Understanding Mainland Puerto Rican Pov:

Understanding Mainland Puerto Rican Poverty Susan S. Baker, 2002 For too long the study of impoverished Puerto Ricans living in the fifty states has been undermined by the use of broad generalizations Puerto Ricans have been statistically grouped with all Latinos studied with models developed for understanding African American life and written about as if New York's Puerto Rican community was the only such community worthy of detailed study This book changes all that In this important new work Susan Baker looks beyond the traditional models and rewrites the origins current state and reasons behind Puerto Rican poverty The book tells the story of how Puerto Ricans have left the Rustbelt cities to return to the island or to seek job opportunities elsewhere Those left behind are predominantly poor women with dependents who live in segregated neighborhoods with little chance of finding low skilled jobs because of competition from non citizen non politicized workers In her alternative explanation the author presents data from across the country and puts forth an explanation that is grounded in Puerto Rican history and sensitive not only to the interconnectedness of the island and mainland population but also the increasing distress faced by Puerto Rican women and the sad truth that Puerto Rican citizenship in this country is a second class one Author note Susan S Baker is Assistant Practical Theology Coordinator and Instructor at Westminster Theological Seminary

Lester, 2019-09-16 By the year 2050 the population of the United States is projected to be approximately half white and half non white Yet the knowledge of child development within ethnic minority groups lags markedly behind knowledge of child development for white Americans and it is increasingly clear that the rich diversity within minority groups is masked by studies focusing on between group comparisons Children of Color Research Health and Public Policy Issues a collection of original essays brings together researchers from the fields of education family and child ecology nursing psychology sociology pediatrics anthropology and social work to explore the rich cultural familial and individual diversity of all ethnic minority groups The essays were generated by round table discussions sponsored by the Society for Research in Child Development and the Irving Harris Foundation and they cover a broad range of topics including immigration policy social policy health status of immigrant infants children and families and educational policies related to minority children
