Cholbi, 2017-01-26 This book addresses key historical scientific legal and philosophical issues surrounding euthanasia and assisted suicide in the United States as well as in other countries and cultures Euthanasia was practiced by Greek physicians as early as 500 BC In the 20th century legal and ethical controversies surrounding assisted dying exploded Many religions and medical organizations led the way in opposition citing the incompatibility of assisted dying with various religious traditions and with the obligations of medical personnel toward their patients Today these practices remain highly controversial both in the United States and around the world Comprising contributions from an international group of experts this book thoroughly investigates euthanasia and assisted suicide from an interdisciplinary and global perspective It presents the ethical arguments for and against assisted dying highlights how assisted dying is perceived in various cultural and philosophical traditions for example South and East Asian cultures Latin American perspectives and religions including Islam and Christianity and considers how assisted dying has both shaped and been shaped by the emergence of professionalized bioethics Readers will also learn about the most controversial issues related to assisted dying such as pediatric euthanasia assisted dying for organ transplantation and suicide tourism and examine concerns relating to assisted dying for racial minorities children and the disabled The Seductiveness of Virtue John J. Fitzgerald, 2016-12-15 John J Fitzgerald addresses here one of life's enduring questions how to achieve personal fulfillment and more specifically whether we can do so through ethical conduct He focuses on two significant twentieth century theologians Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel and Pope John Paul II seeing both as fitting dialogue partners given the former's influence on the Second Vatican Council's deliberations on the Jews and the latter's groundbreaking overtures to the Jews in the wake of his experiences in Poland before and during World War II Fitzgerald demonstrates that Heschel and John Paul II both suggest that doing good generally leads us to growth in various components of personal fulfillment such as happiness meaning in life and freedom from selfish desires There are however some key differences between the two theologians John Paul II emphasizes more strongly the relationship between acting well and attaining eternal life whereas Heschel wrestles more openly with the possibility that religious commitment ultimately involves anxiety and sadness By examining historical and contemporary analyses including the work of the Fourteenth Dalai Lama the philosopher Peter Singer and some present day psychologists Fitzgerald builds a narrative that shows the promise and limits of Heschel's and John Paul II's views Comparative Religious Ethics Christine E. Gudorf, 2013-01-01 Unlike other texts Gudorf's work focuses on common everyday issues including food and diet work sex and marriage proper dress anger and violence charity family and infirmity and the elderly while drawing out ethical implications of each and demonstrating how different religious traditions prescribe rules for action An introductory chapter reviews standard ethical theory and core elements of comparative religious analysis Each chapter opens with a riveting real life case and shows how religious ethics can shed light on how to handle the larger issues without determining for the reader what a proper ethical response might be Everyday Ethics Michael Lamb, Brian A. Williams, 2019-10-01 What might we learn if the study of ethics focused less on hard cases and more on the practices of everyday life In Everyday Ethics Michael Lamb and Brian Williams gather some of the world's leading scholars and practitioners of moral theology including some GUP authors to explore that question in dialogue with anthropology and the social sciences Inspired by the work of Michael Banner these scholars cross disciplinary boundaries to analyze the ethics of ordinary practices from eating learning and loving thy neighbor to borrowing and spending using technology and working in a flexible economy Along the way they consider the moral and methodological questions that emerge from this interdisciplinary dialogue and assess the implications for the future of moral theology Religion and Morality Paul W. Diener, 1997-01-01 Some people see religion and morality as undeniably connected others see them as irreconcilably separate Paul Diener's accessible new book looks at the connection between these two concepts and examines how various religious and philosophical systems understand morality Evolution Science and Ethics in the Third Millennium Robert

Cliquet, Dragana Avramov, 2018-01-10 The book aims to revitalise the interdisciplinary debate about evolutionary ethics and substantiate the idea that evolution science can provide a rational and robust framework for understanding morality It also traces pathways for knowledge based choices to be made about directions for future long term biological evolution and cultural development in view of adaptation to the expected probable and possible future and the ecological sustainability of our planetary environment The authors discuss ethical challenges associated with the major biosocial sources of human variation individual variation inter personal variation inter group variation and inter generational variation This book approaches the long term challenges of the human species in a holistic way Researchers will find an extensive discussion of the key theoretical scientific aspects of the relationship between evolution and morality Policy makers will find information that can help them better understand from where we are coming and inspire them to make choices and take actions in a longer term perspective The general public will find food for thoughts Ontologized Ethics Elvis Imafidon, John Ayotunde Isola Bewaji, 2013-11-21 Ontologized Ethics New Essays in African Meta Ethics examines an often neglected meta ethical issue in African philosophical discourse the extent to which one's orientation of being or idea of what is as an individual or as a group of persons does or should determine one's concept of the good To what extent is ethics or our idea of what is permissible or impermissible grounded on ideas of what fundamentally exists or what it means to be The aim of this collection of essays with emphasis on an African philosophical context will be to establish more firmly and vigorously whether there is an intrinsic link between ontology and morality that is whether and if so how the proper norms for human actions can be explained and validated once we make lucid ideas about metaphysical topics such as human nature community relationality and spirituality The essays included in this volume focus rigorously on ethical issues such as communalism adultery environmental ethics and bioethics with the primary aim of showing whether the link between such issues and metaphysical beliefs is trivial or intrinsic
