essential reading for researchers and administrators in writing centers and writing across the curriculum or writing in the disciplines programs      The European Union and Its Eastern Neighbourhood Andriy Tyushka,Tobias

Schumacher,2021-11-29 This edited volume brings together some of the most important scholarly perspectives in the form of both journal article reprints and original contributions on the structure and dynamics of the EU's multi-layered relations with its Eastern neighbours within the Eastern Partnership EaP framework and beyond In May 2019 the EU's EaP an ambitious and sophisticated policy framework conjoining elements of cooperation and integration with the EU's six eastern neighbours i.e Ukraine Belarus Moldova Georgia Armenia and Azerbaijan turned ten years This anniversary in conjunction with repeatedly voiced critique by scholars and policy makers alike regarding the framework's effectiveness and utility led the EU to submit the EaP to a fundamental auditing and revision Structured around both enduring and emerging issues in the broader EU Eastern neighbourhood framework this book provides a retrospective analysis of key structural and relational challenges unfolding regional dynamics distinctive forms of bilateral multilateral engagement whilst also offering a critical perspective on the contested future relations between the EU and its Eastern neighbours Looking backwards and providing a critical and thorough assessment of the first ten years of the EaP in practice this book thinks forward and gauges its many potential future avenues This comes at a crucial moment as the EU and its six Eastern neighbours are in search of new and mutually acceptable forms of association      African Constructions of China Kwaku Opoku Dankwah,2023-12-12 Marking a constructivist turn in Africa China scholarship this book explores African constructions of China Using Ghana and Kenya as case studies the book outlines the role of diverse state and non state actors in defining what China represents to the region and how it compares to Western powers Resisting Sino and state centric analysis of China Africa relations this book emphasises the importance of African agency in shaping the discourse The book demonstrates that the identity construction of a foreign state such as China takes place both at the international level and at a domestic intrastate level Domestic constructions of China in Ghana and Kenya reflect internal tensions about future directions for African political and socioeconomic development and these constructions in turn help to justify government policies towards China The book concludes by questioning the idea of a straightforward win win relationship and suggests that exploitative hierarchical relations conventionally associated with North South interactions may continue in South South relations This book's important analysis of the role of domestic non state actors in shaping African policymaking extends much needed nuance to a sometimes polarised debate It will be of interest to researchers across the fields of politics international relations global development and African and Chinese Studies      Discourse and Affect in Foreign Policy Jakub Eberle,2019-05-01 Foreign and security policy have long been removed from the political pressures that influence other areas of policymaking This has led to a tendency to separate the analytical levels of the individual and the collective Using Lacanian theory which views the subject as ontologically incomplete and desiring a perfect identity which is realised in fantasies or narrative scenarios this book shows that the making of foreign policy is a much more complex process Emotions and affect play an important role even where hard security issues such as the use of military force are concerned Eberle constructs a new theoretical framework for analysing foreign policy by capturing the interweaving of both discursive and affective aspects in policymaking He uses this framework to explain Germany's often contradictory foreign policy towards the Iraq crisis of 2002-2003 and the emotional even existential public debate that accompanied it This book adds to ongoing theoretical debates in International Political Sociology and Critical Security Studies and will be required reading for all scholars working in these areas

Routledge Handbook of International Political Sociology Xavier Guillaume, Pinar Bilgin, 2016-12-01 This handbook presents in a comprehensive concise and accessible overview the emerging field of international political sociology It summarizes and synthesizes existing knowledge in the field while presenting central themes and methodologies that have been at the centre of its development providing the reader with a sense of the diversity and research dynamics that are at the heart of international political sociology as a field of study A wide range of topics covered include International political sociology and its cognate disciplines and fields of study Key themes including security mobility finance development gender religion health global elites and the environment Methodologies on how to engage with international political sociology including fieldwork archives discourse ethnography assemblage materiality social spaces and visibility Current and future challenges of international political sociology addressed by three key scholars Providing a synthetic reference point summarizing key achievements and engagements while putting forward future developments and potential fruitful lines of inquiry it is an invaluable resource for students academics and researchers from a range of disciplines particularly international relations political science sociology political geography international law international political economy security studies and gender studies

Educational Technology Beyond Content Brad Hokanson, Gregory Clinton, Andrew A. Tawfik, Amy Grincewicz, Matthew Schmidt, 2020-04-09 This book is the outcome of a research symposium sponsored by the Association for Educational Communications and Technology AECT Consisting of twenty four chapters including an introduction and conclusion it argues that informational content should not be the main element of education and that to provide more for learners it is necessary to go beyond content and address other skills and capabilities It also discusses the false premise that learning is complete when the information is known not when learners seek more their own directions answers and ideas The authors assert that the ability to synthesize solve problems and generate ideas is not based on specific content although education often focuses solely on teaching content Further they state that content can be separated from the learning process and that instructional design and educational technology must be about the skills habits and beliefs to be learned

Routledge Handbook of Foreign Policy Analysis Methods Patrick A Mello, Falk Ostermann, 2022-12-26 The disintegration and questioning of global governance structures and a re orientation toward national politics combined with the spread of technological innovations such as big data social media and phenomena like fake news populism or questions of global health policies make it necessary for the introduction of new methods of inquiry and the adaptation of established methods in Foreign Policy Analysis FPA This accessible handbook offers concise chapters from expert international contributors covering a diverse range of new and established FPA methods Embracing methodological pluralism and a belief in the value of an open discussion about methods assumptions and diverging positions it provides new state of the art research approaches as well as introductions to a range of established methods Each chapter follows the same approach introducing the method and its development discussing strengths requirements limitations and potential pitfalls while illustrating the method s application using examples from empirical research Embracing methodological pluralism and problem oriented research that engages with real world questions the authors examine quantitative and qualitative traditions rationalist and interpretivist perspectives as well as different substantive backgrounds The book will be of interest to a wide range of scholars and students in global politics foreign policy and methods related classes across the social sciences Chapters 4 25 and 32 of this book are available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
