Uniting Africa David J. Francis, 2017-05-15 Plagued by bloody wars and armed conflicts political instability communal violence and displaced persons and at the mercy of natural catastrophes such as drought and famine it is not surprising that the Western press has long dismissed Africa as the hopeless continent In the face of these challenges Africa today is faced with a stark choice either unite or perish The debate on why and how the continent should unite in terms of co operative peace security and development is more urgent than at any other time in Africa s post colonial history Moving forward from the failure of the earlier typically idealistic Africa unity project David Francis demonstrates how peace and security challenges have created the imperative for change He argues that a series of regional peace and security systems are emerging and that states that have participated in practical experiments in regional peacekeeping peace support operations conflict stabilization management and preventive diplomacy are building de facto systems of peace and security that could be institutionalized and extended

Regional Security Rodrigo

Tavares,2009-12-16 Regional organizations are an inescapable feature of global politics Virtually all countries in the world are members of at least one regional or other intergovernmental organization The involvement of international organizations in the realm of regional peace and security and their cooperation in this domain with the United Nations has reached an unprecedented level Regional organizations have traditionally been formed around economic political or environmental objectives however over the last decades these organizations have gradually penetrated into the security sphere and developed their capacities in conflict prevention peacekeeping or post war reconstruction In Europe Africa Asia or the Americas regional and other intergovernmental organizations have been concurrently empowered by the UN and their own member states to maintain peace and security Despite suffering from important discrepancies in both their mandates and capacities regional organizations have become indisputable actors that play a role from the outbreak of a crisis to the reconstruction efforts in the aftermath of a conflict Presenting the most up to date critical and comparative analysis of the major regional security institutions assessing a wide range of regional organizations and providing an accessible and comprehensive guide to 11 key organizations this book is the first systematic study of the capacities of the most recognized intergovernmental organizations with a security mandate Regional Security is essential reading for all students of international organizations peace and security studies and global governance Africa's New Peace and Security Architecture J. and capabilities can conduct complicated multinational peacekeeping operations He shows how regional peacekeeping training centres provide an environment for African elites predominately military to interact with each other through shared training and experiences This process of interaction or socialisation improves skills but also encourages cohesion so that future African led missions will be managed by well trained officers who are comfortable and willing to work within a regional or Pan African framework Jowell shows that part of the aim of peacekeeping training centres is to foster a Pan African outward looking ideology or disposition as well as improving technical ability This book will be essential reading for all involved with African military and security studies and analysts of peacekeeping training and operations
