Chinese Esoteric Buddhism Geoffrey C. Goble, 2019-10-08 Chinese Esoteric Buddhism is generally held to have been established as a distinct and institutionalized Buddhist school in eighth century China by the Three Great Masters of Kaiyuan ubh karasi ha Vajrabodhi and Amoghavajra Geoffrey C Goble provides an innovative account of the tradition's emergence that sheds new light on the structures and traditions that shaped its institutionalization Goble focuses on Amoghavajra 704-774 contending that he was the central figure in Esoteric Buddhism's rapid rise in Tang dynasty China and the other two patriarchs are known primarily through Amoghavajra's teachings and writings He presents the scriptural mythological and practical aspects of Chinese Esoteric Buddhism in the eighth century and places them in the historical contexts within which Amoghavajra operated By telling the story of Amoghavajra's rise to prominence and of Esoteric Buddhism's corresponding institutionalization in China Goble makes the case that the evolution of this tradition was predicated on Indic scriptures and practical norms rather than being the product of conscious adaptation to a Chinese cultural environment He demonstrates that Esoteric Buddhism was employed by Chinese rulers to defeat military and political rivals Based on close readings of a broad range of textual sources previously untapped by English language scholarship this book overturns many assumptions about the origins of Chinese Esoteric Buddhism

Sacred Objects in Secular Spaces Bruce M. Sullivan, 2015-10-22 We have long recognized that many objects in museums were originally on display in temples shrines or monasteries and were religiously significant to the communities that created and used them How though are such objects to be understood described exhibited and handled now that they are in museums Are they still sacred objects or formerly sacred objects that are now art objects or are they simultaneously objects of religious and artistic significance depending on who is viewing the object These objects not only raise questions about their own identities but also about the ways we understand the religious traditions in which these objects were created

Religion and the Arts: History and Method Diane Apostolos-Cappadona, 2017-11-06 In Religion and the Arts: History and Method Diane Apostolos Cappadona presents an overview of the 19th century origins of this discrete field of study and its methodological journey to the present day through issues of repatriation museum exhibitions and globalization Apostolos Cappadona suggests that the fluidity and flexibility of the study of religion and the arts has expanded like an umbrella since the 1970s and the understanding that art was simply a visual exegesis of texts to now support the study of material popular and visual culture as well as gender She also delivers a careful analysis of the evolution of thought from traditional iconographies to the transformations once scholars were influenced by response theory and challenged by globalization and technology Religion and the Arts: History and Method offers an indispensable introduction to the questions and perspectives essential to the study of this field
