Women Autobiography Theory A Reader Wisconsin Studies In American Autobiography:

Women, Autobiography, Theory Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 1998 The first comprehensive guide to the burgeoning field of women's autobiography Essays from 39 prominent critics and writers explore narratives across the centuries and from around the globe A list of more than 200 women's autobiographies and a comprehensive bibliography provide invaluable information for scholars teachers and readers

Edith Stein's Life in a Jewish Family, 1891-1916 Joyce Avrech Berkman, 2023-04-04 Edith Stein's Life in a Jewish Family 1891 1916 is a treasure trove for the study of Stein's youth and early adulthood her approach to writing autobiographically and her intricate relationship with historical influences of her time and place Through intellectual mining Stein's narrative and conducting a comprehensive historical analysis of Stein's achievement as a distinct type of autobiography Joyce Avrech Berkman argues that a key axis of Stein's consciousness values philosophical ideas and life choices is a deep tense unresolved philosophical and spiritual struggle to both uphold traditional societal and cultural values and practices and also critiquing them to pioneer new patterns of thought Berkman further probes the sharply controversial nature of Stein's autobiography for her family members and Stein scholars in the decades after her death Edith Stein's Life in a Jewish Family 1891 1916 A Companion serves as an important guide to scholars in autobiographical studies history philosophy and theology as well as to a broader readership interested in Stein's life for religious and cultural reasons

African American Journalists Calvin L. Hall, 2009-07-01 In the last decade of the 20th century during a time when African Americans were starting to take inventory of the gains of the civil rights movement and its effects on the lives of black professionals in the public sphere the memoirs of several journalists were published a number of which became national bestsellers African American Journalists examines select autobiographies written by African American journalists in order to explore the relationship between race class gender and journalism practice At the heart of this study is the contention that contemporary memoirs written by African American journalists are quasi political documents_ manifestos written in reaction to and against the forces of institutionalized racism in the newsroom The memoirs featured in this study include Jill Nelson's Volunteer Slavery My Authentic Negro Experience Nathan McCall's Makes Me Wanna Holler A Young Black Man in America Jake Lamar's Bourgeois Blues An American Memoir and Patricia Raybon's My First White Friend Confessions on Race Love and Forgiveness The exploration of these works increases our understanding of the problems that members of other underrepresented groups may face in the workplace

Telling Political Lives Brenda DeVore Marshall, Molly A. Mayhead, 2008-01-01 Using a variety of critical methods the contributing authors of Telling Political Lives demonstrate the ways in which the autobiographies of U S women leaders provide arguments that both reveal and shape perceptions of politics empowerment and ideology in the United States

A History of African American Autobiography Joycelyn Moody, 2021-07-22 This History explores innovations in African American autobiography since its inception examining the literary and cultural history of Black self representation amid life writing studies By analyzing the different forms of autobiography including pictorial and personal essays editorials oral histories testimonials diaries personal and open letters and even poetry performance media of autobiographies this book extends the definition of African American autobiography revealing how people of African descent have created and defined the Black self in diverse print cultures and literary genres since their arrival in the Americas It illustrates ways African Americans use life writing and autobiography to address personal and collective Black experiences of identity family memory fulfillment racism and white supremacy Individual chapters examine scrapbooks as a source of self documentation African American autobiography for children readings of African American persona poems mixed race life writing after the Civil Rights Movement and autobiographies by African American LGBTQ writers

Toward a Literary Ecology Karen E. Waldron, Rob Friedman, 2013-07-29 Scholarship of literature and the environment demonstrates myriad understandings of nature and culture While some work in the field results in approaches that belong in the realm of cultural studies other scholars have expanded the boundaries of ecocriticism to connect the practice more explicitly to disciplines such as the biological sciences human geography or philosophy Even so the field of ecocriticism has yet to clearly articulate its interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary nature In Toward a Literary Ecology Places and Spaces in American Literature editors Karen E Waldron and Robert Friedman have assembled a collection of essays that study the interconnections between literature and the environment to theorize literary ecology The disciplinary perspectives in these essays allow readers to comprehend places and environments and to represent express or strive for that comprehension through literature Contributors to this volume explore the works of several authors including Gary Snyder Karen Tei Yamashita Rachel Carson Terry Tempest Williams Chip Ward and Mary Oliver Other essays discuss such topics as urban fiction as a model of literary ecology the geographies of belonging in the work of Native American poets and the literary ecology of place in new nature writing Investigating texts for the complex interconnections they represent Toward a Literary Ecology suggests what such texts might teach us about the interconnections of our own world This volume also offers a means of analyzing representations of people in places within the realm of an historical cultural and geographically bounded yet diverse American literature Intended for students of literature and ecology this collection will also appeal to scholars of geography cultural studies philosophy biology history anthropology and other related disciplines

The Cambridge Companion to Native American Literature Joy Porter, Kenneth M. Roemer, 2005-07-21 Invisible marginal expected these words trace the path of recognition for American Indian literature written in English since the late eighteenth century This Companion chronicles and celebrates that trajectory by defining relevant institutional historical cultural and gender contexts by outlining the variety of genres written since the 1770s and also by focusing on significant authors who established a place for Native literature in literary canons in the 1970s Momaday Silko Welch Ortiz Vizenor achieved international recognition in the 1980s Erdrich and performance celebrity status in the 1990s Harjo and Alexie In addition to the seventeen chapters written by respected experts Native and non Native American British and European scholars the Companion includes bio bibliographies of forty authors maps suggestions for further reading and a timeline which details major works of Native American literature and mainstream American literature as well as significant social cultural and historical events An essential overview of this powerful literature

Women's Diaries from the Civil War South Sharon Talley, 2023-08-18 Traditionally narratives of war have been male Sharon Talley writes In the pages that follow she goes on to disrupt this tradition offering close readings and comparative studies of fourteen women s diaries from the Civil War era that illuminate women s experiences in the Confederacy during the war While other works highlighting individual diaries exist and Talley notes that there has been a virtual explosion of published primary sources by women in recent years this is the first effort of comprehensive synthesis of women s Civil War diaries to attempt to characterize them as a distinct genre Deeply informed by autobiographical theory as well as literary and social history Talley s presentation of multiple diaries from women of differing backgrounds illuminates complexities and disparities across female wartime experiences rather than perpetuating overgeneralizations gleaned from a single diary or preconceived ideas about what these diaries contain To facilitate this comparative approach Talley divides her study into six sections that are organized by location vocation and purpose diaries of elite planter women diaries of women on the Texas frontier diaries of women on the Confederate border diaries of espionage by women in the South diaries of women nurses near the battlefield and diaries of women missionaries in the Port Royal Experiment When read together these writings illustrate that the female experience in the Civil War South was not one but many Women s Diaries from the Civil War South A Literary Historical Reading is an essential text for scholars in women s studies autobiography studies and Civil War studies alike presenting an in depth and multifaceted look at how the Civil War reshaped women s lives in the South and how their diverse responses shaped the course of the war in return

Mapping the 'I', 2014-11-13 In Mapping the I Research on Self Narratives in Germany and Switzerland the contributors working with egodocuments autobiographies diaries family chronicles and related texts discuss various approaches to early modern concepts of the person and of personhood the place of individuality within this context genre and practices of writing The volume documents the cooperation between the Berlin and Basel self narrative research groups during its first phase 2000 2007 Next to addressing crucial methodological issues it also demonstrates the richness of egodocuments as historical sources in contributions concentrating for example on the body and illness on food as well as on the early modern economy group cultures and autobiographical considerations of one s own suicide Contributors include Andreas B hr Fabian Br ndle Lorenz Heiligensetzer Angela Heimen Gabriele Jancke Gudrun Piller Sophie Ruppel Thomas M Safley Claudia Ulbrich Kaspar von Greyerz and Patricia Zihlmann M rki
