The Trick is to Keep Breathing Janice Galloway, 1991 A young drama teacher in the West of Scotland suffers deep psychological problems which affect all areas of her life She fails to find meaning in anything around her but in her search she strips situations of their conventional values and sees them in a sharp new light Publisher's description

The Uncanny Nicholas Royle, 2003 This is the first book length study of the uncanny an important concept for contemporary thinking and debate across a range of disciplines and discourses including literature film architecture cultural studies philosophy psychoanalysis and queer theory Much of this importance can be traced back to Freud's essay of 1919 The uncanny where he was perhaps the first to foreground the distinctive nature of the uncanny as a feeling of something not simply weird or mysterious but more specifically as something strangely familiar As a concept and a feeling however the uncanny has a complex history going back to at least the Enlightenment Nicholas Royle offers a detailed historical account of the emergence of the uncanny together with a series of close readings of different aspects of the topic Following a major introductory historical and critical overview there are chapters on the death drive d j vu silence solitude and darkness the fear of being buried alive doubles ghosts cannibalism telepathy and madness as well as more applied readings concerned for example with teaching politics film and religion This is a major critical study that will be welcomed by students and academics but will also be of interest to the general reader

Possible Worlds Theory and Readers' Emotional Responses to Literature Megan Mansworth, 2025-09-18 This book develops a cognitive stylistic exploration of readers' emotional experiences of literature Adopting Possible Worlds Theory as a framework the volume constructs a stylistic analysis of some of the ways in which novels elicit readers' emotions A typology of past present and future textual actual and possible worlds is formulated to frame analysis of three novels A Fine Balance by Rohinton Mistry Revolutionary Road by Richard Yates and The Trick Is to Keep Breathing by Janice Galloway The author integrates close stylistic analysis with the use of empirical data drawn from reader interviews and online reader reviews The analysis of these diverse 20th century novels works to show the utility of the typology for analysis formulated for this book as well as to demonstrate the value of incorporating empirical reader data in analysis of the ways in which novels may affect readers' emotions

Reading the Material Theatre Richard Paul Knowles, 2004-05-13 Reading the Material Theatre develops and demonstrates a method of theatrical performance analysis that takes into account the entire theatre experience from production to reception Beginning with semiotic and cultural materialist theory Knowles quickly moves into detailed politicized analysis of the ways in which specific aspects of theatrical production and specific contexts of reception shape the audience's understanding of what they experience in the theatre It concludes with five case studies of the cultural work performed by a major Shakespearean repertory theatre a small nationalist theatre devoted to new play development a major New York based avant garde touring theatre company a British socialist company dedicated to the work of Shakespeare and a range of international festivals This accessible 2004 volume provides a first step introduction to key terms and areas of performance theory including reception history performance analysis and production analysis Janice Galloway's the Trick Is to Keep Breathing Gillian Sargent,2016-09-19 From Trocchi to Trainspotting - Scottish Critical Theory Since 1960 Michael Gardiner,2006-07-04 This book charts the course of Scottish Critical Theory since the 1960s It provocatively argues that French critical theoretical ideas have developed in tandem with Scottish writing during this period Its themes can be read as a breakdown in Scottish Enlightenment thinking after empire precisely the process which permitted the rise of theory The book places within a wider theoretical context writers such as Muriel Spark Edwin Morgan Ian Hamilton Finlay James Kelman Alexander Trocchi Janice Galloway Alan Warner and Irvine Welsh as well as more recent work by Alan Riach and Pat Kane who can be seen to take the post Enlightenment narrative forward In doing so it draws on the work of the Scottish thinkers John Macmurray and R D Laing as well as the continental philosophers Gilles Deleuze and Paul Virilio The Looking Glass Ricardo Perez,
