The Unheard Voices Community Organizations And Service Learning:

The Unheard Voices Randy Stoecker, Elizabeth A. Tryon, 2009-08-21 Service learning has become an institutionalized practice in higher education. Students are sent out to disadvantaged communities to tutor, feed, and help organize communities. But while the students gain from their experiences, the contributors to The Unheard Voices ask: Does the community? This volume explores the impact of service learning on a community and considers the unequal relationship between the community and the academy. Using eye-opening interviews with community organization staff members, The Unheard Voices challenges assumptions about the effectiveness of service learning. Chapters offer strong critiques of service learning practices from the lack of adequate training and supervision to problems of communication and issues of diversity. The book's conclusion offers ways to improve service learning so that future endeavors can be better at meeting the needs of the communities and the students who work in them.

The SAGE Sourcebook of Service-Learning and Civic Engagement Omobolade Delano-Oriaran, Marguerite W. Service-Learning Essentials Barbara Jacoby, 2014-10-08 Service Learning Essentials is the resource you need to help you develop high-quality service learning experiences for college students. Written by one of the field's leading experts and sponsored by Campus Compact, the book is the definitive work on this high-impact educational practice. Service learning has been identified by the Association of American Colleges and Universities as having been widely tested and shown to be beneficial to college students from a wide variety of backgrounds. Organized in an accessible question-and-answer format, the book responds clearly and completely to the most common questions and concerns about service learning. Each chapter addresses issues related to individual practice as well as to the collective work of starting and developing a service learning center or program, with examples drawn from a variety of disciplines, situations, and institutional types. The questions range from basic to advanced and the answers cover both the fundamentals and complexities of service learning Topics include Determining what service learning opportunities institutions should offer How to engage students in critical reflection in academic courses and in cocurricular experiences Best practices for developing and sustaining mutually beneficial campus community partnerships Integrating service learning into the curriculum in all disciplines and at all levels as well as various areas of student life outside the classroom Assessing service learning programs and outcomes The dilemmas of service learning in the context of power and privilege The future of service learning in online and rapidly globalizing environments Service learning has virtually limitless potential to enable colleges and universities to meet their goals for student learning while making unique contributions to addressing unmet local national and global needs However in order to realize these benefits service learning must be thoughtfully designed and carefully implemented This easy to use volume contains everything faculty leaders and staff members need to know about service learning to enhance communities improve higher education institutions and educate the next generation of citizens scholars and leaders

Liberating Service Learning and the Rest of Higher Education Civic Engagement Randy Stoecker, 2016-05-23 This book questions the prioritization and theoretical philosophical underpinnings of the core concepts of service learning 1 learning 2 service 3 community and 4 change By liberating service learning the author suggests reversing the prioritization of the concepts starting with change then community then service and then learning In doing so the author clarifies the benefits and purpose of this work arguing that it will create greater pedagogical and community impact This book challenges and hopefully will change our thinking about higher education community engagement

Reflecting on Service-Learning in Higher Education M. Gail Hickey, 2016-05-12 Reflecting on Service Learning in Higher Education Contemporary Issues and Perspectives examines forms of pedagogy such as service learning experiential learning and problem based learning in order to determine how students make connections between and among abstract academic concepts and real life issues This edited collection is divided into three sections Reflecting on Community Partnerships Reflecting on Classroom Practice and Reflecting on Diversity so as to represent interdisciplinary subjects diverse student populations and differing instructional perspectives about service learning in higher education Contributors provide service learning programs and plans that can be replicated or adapted at other institutions of higher education This book is recommended for scholars and practitioners of education

Lund, 2018-10-30 A comprehensive guide to service learning for social justice written by an international panel of experts The Wiley International Handbook of Service Learning for Social Justice offers a review of recent trends in social justice that have been until recently marginalized in the field of service learning The authors offer a guide for establishing and nurturing social justice in a variety of service learning programs and show that incorporating the principles of social justice in service learning can empower communities to resist and disrupt oppressive power structures and work for solidarity with host and partner communities With contributions from an international panel of experts the Handbook contains a critique of the field's roots in charity a review of the problematization of Whitenormativity paired with the bolstering of diverse voices and perspectives and information on the embrace of emotional elements including tension ambiguity and discomfort This important resource Considers the role of the community in service learning and other community engaged models of education and practice Explores the necessity of disruption and dissonance in service learning Discusses a number of targeted issues that often arise in service learning contexts Offers a practical guide to establishing and nurturing social justice at the heart of an international service learning program Written for advanced undergraduate students graduate students scholars and educators The Wiley International Handbook of Service Learning for Social Justice highlights social justice as a conflict ridden struggle against inequality xenophobia and oppression and offers practical suggestions for incorporating service learning programs in various arenas

Using the Decoding The Disciplines Framework for Learning Across the Disciplines Janice Miller-Young, Jennifer Boman, 2017-06-22 Decoding the Disciplines a program designed to help instructors increase learning in their courses provides a framework for identifying and remedying course elements that are most problematic for students Decoding is a seven step process in which instructors 1 identify a bottleneck of learning 2 make explicit the mental operations required to overcome the obstacle 3 model the required steps for students 4 give them practice at these skills 5 deal with emotional bottlenecks that interfere with learning 6 assess the success of their efforts and 7 share the results Providing detailed information so that readers may develop effective models of practice this volume provides examples and evidence of the ways the framework has been applied across disciplines and used to inform teaching curriculum and pedagogical research initiatives It outlines how various communities of practice got started describes the analyses of three different collections of Decoding interviews extends the Decoding framework using different theoretical lenses and connects the learning to practical applications for teachers and scholars in higher education This is the 150th volume of this Jossey Bass higher education series It offers a comprehensive range of ideas and techniques for improving college teaching based on the experience of seasoned instructors and the latest findings of educational and psychological researchers Changing the Narrative Vivechkanand S. Chunoo, Kathy L. Guthrie, 2018-06-01 Social justice and leadership education are inextricably linked In order to move social justice forward we need to develop leaders with knowledge skills and values to engage effectively in the leadership process We need socially just leaders now more than ever At a time when our elected and appointed officials agree on very little our communities are divided and distrustful of one another and individual citizens struggle for fairness in the face of discrimination society is at a crossroad In one direction lies the reproduction of oppression and marginalization continued distrust and further fragmentation In the other a route toward healing compassion and fairness How then do we prepare our leaders of tomorrow to walk the path of justice rather than take the road to ruin Changing the dominant narratives in society involves preparing skilled social critics and knowledgeable advocates for positive and sustainable change through education However when leadership education fails to consider social justice issues or when social justice education omits leadership learning both fall short of their goals This texts links issues of social justice equity and equality to leadership knowledge skills and values with the intent of offering theoretical practical and policy recommendations to improve the work of educators charged with preparing undergraduates for the complexities of leadership in all its forms Collectively the contributors inform much needed practices and pedagogies toward socially just leadership education No single one of us can change the narrative alone but together we can amplify the voices of those leading toward justice The perspectives offered here are but a sample of the work being done to make the future a brighter place for all We invite you to be part of the conversation Journal of Higher Education Outreach and Engagement ,2010
