Queer Jewish Groups in Europe (1972-1990s) Jan Wilkens, 2025-03-31 In the 1970s queer Jews became excited by the developments of the Gay Liberation Movement in both the US and Europe Until then they were not able to express their queerness in Jewish communities and hoped for new inclusive spaces Yet they quickly realized that the movement was not as welcoming as anticipated Thus they started to organize in February 1972 the world's first queer Jewish group became publicly visible in London with its symposium The Jewish Homosexual in Society The Jewish Gay Group began tackling the exclusion of non heteronormative Jews in British Jewish and queer communities Soon after two more queer Jewish groups formed Beit Haverim House of Friends in Paris and Sjalhomo a neologism of shalom and homosexual in Amsterdam Besides their goal of emancipation these groups brought together their members based on shared experiences as both Jewish and queer opening up much needed spaces for social encounters The groups also established a Europe wide support network that enabled international collaboration for more than a decade This study archives these groups histories and that of their network By doing so it broadens prevalent narratives of Europe's post World War II Jewry and queers the discipline of Jewish History writes about religious tolerance and pluralism in the Jewish state The former president of Hebrew Union College Jewish Institute of Religion the primary seminary of the Reform movement Ellenson is widely respected for his vision of advancing Jewish unity and of preparing leadership for a contemporary Judaism that balances tradition with the demands of a changing world Scholars and students of Jewish religious thought ethics and modern Jewish history will welcome this erudite collection by one of today s great Jewish leaders Jewish Women Katharina Galor,2023-12-15 Jewish Women Between Conformity and Agency examines the concepts of gender and sexuality through the primary lens of visual and material culture from antiquity through to the present day The backbone of this transhistorical and transcontextual study is the question of Jewish women s agency in four different geographical chronological and methodological contexts beginning with women s dress codes in Roman Byzantine Syro Palestine continuing with rituals of purity in medieval Ashkenaz worship in papal Avignon and the Comtat Venaissin and ending with marriage and divorce in Israeli film Each of these explorations is interested in creating a dialogue between the patriarchal legacy of the traditional texts and the chronologically corresponding visual and material culture The author challenges traditional approaches to the study of Jewish culture by employing tools from art history archaeology and film and media studies In each of these different contexts there is ample evidence that women despite persistent overall structural discrimination have found ways to challenge male constructs of gender norms Ultimately these examples from past and present times highlight women s eminence in shaping Jewish history and culture Bringing a new interdisciplinary lens to the study of the history of gender and sexuality the book will be of interest to students and researchers of Jewish history and culture art history archaeology and film studies
