Peter Boag, 2022-05-24 On an autumn day in 1895 eighteen year old Loyd Montgomery shot his parents and a neighbor in a gruesome act that reverberated beyond the small confines of Montgomery s Oregon farming community The dispassionate slaying and Montgomery s consequent hanging exposed the fault lines of a rapidly industrializing and urbanizing society and revealed the burdens of pioneer narratives boys of the time inherited In Pioneering Death Peter Boag examines the Brownsville parricide as an allegory for the destabilizing transitions within the rural United States at the end of the nineteenth century While pioneer families celebrated and memorialized founders of western white settler society their children faced a present and future in frightening decline Connecting a fascinating true crime story with the broader forces that produced the murders Boag uncovers how Loyd s violent acts reflected the brutality of American colonizing efforts the anxieties of global capitalism and the buried traumas of childhood in the American West The Routledge International

Marianna Muravyeva, Phillip Shon, Raisa Maria Toivo, 2020-12-30 Parricide and Violence Against Parents takes a historical and criminological approach to the research on parricide and violence against parents placing the research in the context of social development from the 1500s to contemporary society and giving a global overview and comparison The book examines parricide and violence against parents as historically and culturally sensitive phenomena It offers evidence on a seemingly rare subject from different eras areas and cultures and then uses the cross disciplinary data to produce a new systematic insight for the reader Case studies shift the discussion from the contemporary focus on adolescent to parent abuse to examining the sources of conflict during life cycles of parents and their offspring A historical approach illuminates the variations in conflicts between parents and their offspring that are shaped by the life stages of the victims and offenders themselves across time The book argues that parental authority has been marked by property ownership and tax paying responsibilities throughout history The continued possession of property resulted in power the reluctance to part with it becoming a notable source of conflict across generations within families Parental authority was protected by means of heavy penalties and punishments and didactic teachings in almost every society at every stage of historical development It was also challenged constantly by children as a part of their coming into adulthood The abuse of parents has often been connected to situations where adult children were prevented from gaining the amount of independence appropriate to their position in life This led to disputes over authority and the legitimate grounds for that authority Offering an insight into complicated and interconnected histories of generational conflicts and how they affect modern families in different parts of the world this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of criminology history of crime history of the family family violence homicide studies gender studies history of emotions political violence and social work The Handbook of Homicide

Fiona Brookman, Edward R. Maguire, Mike Maguire, 2017-03-29 The Handbook of Homicide presents a series of original essays by renowned authors from around the world reflecting the latest scholarship on the nature causes and patterns of homicide as well as policies and practices for its investigation and prevention Includes comprehensive coverage of the complex phenomenon of homicide and its various forms Features original contributions from an esteemed team of global experts and scholars with chapters highlighting the authors original research Represents the first internationally focused collection of the latest research on the nature and causes of homicide Covers both the causes and dynamics of homicide as well as policies and practices intended to address it Male-Male Murder Russell P. Dobash, Rebecca Emerson

Dobash, 2020-06-09 In Male Male Murder Dobash and Dobash experienced researchers award winning authors and long time collaborators use evidence from their Murder Study to examine 424 men who murdered another man Using both quantitative and qualitative data drawn from a wider study of 866 homicide casefiles and 200 in depth interviews with murderers in prison they focus on Five Types of male male murder confrontational fighters murder for money financial gain murder between men in the family sexual murder between men murder of older men Each type is examined in depth and detail in a separate chapter that begins with a brief overview of relevant research and is followed by a comprehensive examination of the murder event including subtypes that illustrate the diversity within each type of murder Following the examination of the five types of male male murder the focus turns to the lifecourse of the perpetrators including childhood adulthood and their time in prison Lastly they reflect on the body of findings from the Murder Study and stress the importance of gender in understanding these lethal events The Dobashes bring their research skills and insights to the complex task of covering the entire scope of homicide cases in which men murder men This is an essential text for students professionals policy makers and researchers studying violence gender and homicide Miller's Children James Garbarino, 2018-02-27 Miller's Children is a comprehensive look at the consequences of the US Supreme Court's decision in the case of Miller v Alabama which outlawed mandatory life without parole sentences for juvenile murderers This book describes the author's fieldwork as a psychological expert witness in more than forty resentencing cases of juveniles affected by the Miller decision and follow up rulings providing a wide ranging review of research on human development in adolescence and early adulthood It focuses on how and why convicted teenage murderers have been able to accomplish dramatic rehabilitation and transformation emphasizing the role of spiritual development education reflection and mentoring in that process Provided by publisher

Domestic Homicide Marieke Liem, Frans Koenraadt, 2018-03-19 The literature on domestic violence will often treat homicide as its most extreme outcome The reality is more nuanced with many domestic homicides occurring within a history of abusive behaviour This book offers a much needed synthesis of the literature on domestic homicide covering its history the theories supporting it its various forms such as filicide intimate partner homicide parricide siblicide and familicide and its prevention The authors explore the predominant theories that have been used to explain domestic homicides in general as well as specific subtypes of domestic homicide Each chapter then takes a chronological approach in examining relationships between victim and perpetrator in the most prominent types of domestic homicide Drawing on the empirical evidence it offers a unique insight into the dynamics of domestic homicides and debunks some of the common stereotypes surrounding it The book concludes with an overview of the main areas of prevention of domestic homicide and offers recommendations for professionals working in domestic violence services medical practitioners and mental health services This book will be of interest to criminologists psychiatrists psychologists and sociologists alike and will be key reading for a range of courses on violence abuse and aggression
