Targeting in International Law Amin Parsa, 2023-12-05 This book is about how distinctions are drawn between civilians and combatants in modern warfare and how the legal principle of distinction depends on the technical means through which combatants make themselves visibly distinguishable from civilians The author demonstrates that technologies of visualisation have always been part of the operation of the principle of distinction arguing that the military uniform sustained the legal categories of civilian and combatant and actively set the boundaries of permissible and prohibited targeting and so legal and illegal killing Drawing upon insights from the theory of legal materiality visual studies critical fashion studies and a dozen of military manuals he shows that far from being passive objects of regulation these technologies help to draw the boundaries of the legitimate target With its attention to the co productive relationship between law technologies of visualisation and legitimization of violence this book will be relevant to a large community of researchers in international law international relations critical military studies contemporary counterinsurgency operations and the sociology of law

Attachments to War Jennifer Terry, 2017-10-19 In Attachments to War Jennifer Terry traces how biomedical logics entangle Americans in a perpetual state of war Focusing on the Afghanistan and Iraq wars between 2002 and 2014 Terry identifies the presence of a biomedicine war nexus in which new forms of wounding provoke the continual development of complex treatment rehabilitation and prosthetic technologies At the same time the U S military rationalizes violence and military occupation as necessary conditions for advancing medical knowledge and saving lives Terry examines the treatment of war generated polytrauma postinjury bionic prosthetics design and the development of defenses against infectious pathogens showing how the interdependence between war and biomedicine is interwoven with neoliberal ideals of freedom democracy and prosperity She also outlines the ways in which military sponsored biomedicine relies on racialized logics that devalue the lives of Afghan and Iraqi citizens and U S veterans of color Uncovering the mechanisms that attach all Americans to war and highlighting their embeddedness and institutionalization in everyday life via the government media biotechnology finance and higher education Terry helps lay the foundation for a more meaningful opposition to war
