

Trauma Symptom Inventory-2 (TSI™-2)

The Trauma Symptom Inventory-2 (TSI-2) is a revised version of the Trauma Symptom Inventory (TSI™; Briere, 1995), a widely used test of trauma-related symptoms and behaviors.

This measure evaluates acute and chronic symptomatology, including, but not limited to, the effects of:

• Sexual and physical assault	• Intimate partner violence
• Combat	• Torture
• Motor vehicle accidents	• Mass casualty events
• Medical trauma	• Witnessing violence or other trauma
• Traumatic losses	• Early experiences of child abuse or neglect

It evaluates symptomatology associated with trauma at any point in the respondent's lifespan; it does not link symptoms to a single stressor or specific point in time.

TSI-2 John Briere, 2020 Trauma Symptom Inventory-2 (TSI-2) John Briere, 2011 Clinician's Guide to Validity Assessment and Management in Neuropsychology Ryan W. Schroeder, Phillip K. Martin, 2025-06-30

This unique hands on guide walks neuropsychologists through the process of validity assessment and management in real world clinical settings. Emphasizing the medical necessity of evaluating validity, the authors provide detailed examples, procedural tips, and downloadable practical tools. Step by step guidelines are presented for managing potentially complicated referrals using the clinical interview to gain awareness of possible concerns, choosing and administering performance and symptom validity tests, and providing feedback and treatment recommendations when invalidity is identified. Clinician/patient relationship issues are sensitively addressed. The book concludes with a chapter length case example.

Trauma Counseling, Second Edition Lisa López Levers, 2022-02-24

The only comprehensive text to focus on trauma, stress, crisis, and disaster counseling from a clinical practice perspective. This overarching text, intended both for mental health practitioners in training and for practicing clinicians, focuses on the impact of stress, crisis, trauma, and disaster on diverse populations across the lifespan, as well as on effective treatment strategies. The second edition is newly grounded in a trauma scaffold, providing foundational information that therapists can build upon, step by step, to treat individuals affected by more complex trauma events. This resource newly addresses the mental health implications of COVID 19, which has had an enormous impact on multitudes of people since the beginning of the pandemic; its repercussions likely to continue for some time into the future. The text also is updated to provide the most recent diagnostic information regarding trauma in the DSM 5. Two new chapters address the confluence of crises related to anthropogenic climate change and the effects of mass violence. This unrivalled resource emphasizes stress management and crisis intervention skills as important building blocks for working with more complex issues of trauma and disaster. It underscores the idea that trauma must be approached from multiple perspectives and in multiple dimensions, encompassing individual, community, societal, and systemic implications, along with multicultural and diversity frames of reference. The text integrates the latest findings from neuropsychology and psychopharmacology, with an emphasis on Polyvagal Theory. Additionally, the text highlights the importance of clinical supervision in trauma care and examines ethical dimensions and the need for self care among trauma counselors. Purchase includes digital access for use on most mobile devices or computers.

New to the Second Edition: Reconceptualizes the text with the concept of a Trauma Scaffold as a foundation upon which to understand and develop treatment for increasingly complex trauma events. Addresses the COVID 19 pandemic and its profound effect on the mental health of vast numbers of people. Includes two new chapters on the confluence of crises related to anthropogenic climate change and the effects of mass violence. Includes PowerPoint slides to accompany an updated Instructor's Manual. Key Features: Delivers both introductory and advanced clinical information addressing complex trauma. Addresses trauma from a bioecological framework with emphasis on trauma informed practices.

multicultural pluralism diversity and social justice Considers neurobiological responses to trauma with new research and the contributions of Polyvagal Theory Examines individual familial community society and systemic understandings of stress crisis trauma and disaster Includes a wealth of resources for further study text boxes and case studies to reinforce learning

Malingering, Feigning, and Response Bias in Psychiatric/ Psychological Injury Gerald Young, 2014-02-11 This book is a comprehensive analysis of the definitions concepts and recent research on malingering feigning and other response biases in psychological injury forensic disability populations It presents a new model of malingering and related biases and develops a diagnostic system based on it that is applicable to PTSD chronic pain and TBI Included are suggestions for effective practice and future research based on the literature reviews and the new systems which are useful also because they can be used readily by psychiatrists as much as psychologists In Malingering Feigning and Response Style Assessment in Psychiatric Psychological Injury Dr Young ambitiously sets out to articulate and synthesize the polarities involved in the assessment of response styles in psychological disabilities including PTSD pain and TBI He does so thoroughly and very even handedly neither minimizing the degree that outright faking can be found in substantial numbers of examinees nor disregarding the possibility that there can be causes for validity test failure other than malingering He reviews the prior systems for classifying evidence of malingering and proposes his own criteria for feigned PTSD These are conservative and well grounded in the prior literature Finally the book contains dozens of very
