Visioning And Visualization People Pixels And Plans:

Visioning and Visualization Michael Kwartler, Gianni Longo, 2008 This book will assist urban professionals public sector leaders and the public to navigate two complex and evolving fields public involvement and digital visualization as applied to planning It suggests ways that digital visualization tools can be integrated in a public process to present participants with clear choices and help them make informed planning decisions Based on the authors experiences in developing sophisticated public involvement processes and applying 3D GIS based simulation and visualization tools to planning and design the book features more than 100 color illustrations and case studies of four communities Santa Fe Houston Kona Hawaii and Baltimore Planning Support Systems and Smart Cities Stan Geertman, Joseph Ferreira, Jr., Robert Goodspeed, John Stillwell, 2015-05-22 This book is a selection of the best and peer reviewed articles presented at the CUPUM Computers in Urban Planning and Urban Management conference held in the second week of July 2015 at MIT in Boston USA The contributions provide state of the art overview of the availability and application of Planning Support Systems PSS in the framework of Smart Cities

Technologies for Urban and Spatial Planning: Virtual Cities and Territories Pinto, Nuno Norte, 2013-07-31 This book covers a multitude of newly developed hardware and software technology advancements in urban and spatial planning and architecture drawing on the most current research and studies of field practitioners who offer solutions and recommendations for further growth specifically in urban and spatial developments Visualizing Climate Change Stephen R.J. Sheppard, 2012-03-29 Carbon dioxide and global climate change are largely invisible and the prevailing imagery of climate change is often remote such as ice floes melting or abstract and scientific charts and global temperature maps Using dramatic visual imagery such as 3D and 4D visualizations of future landscapes community mapping and iconic photographs this book demonstrates new ways to make carbon and climate change visible where we care the most in our own backyards and local communities Extensive color imagery explains how climate change works where we live and reveals how we often conceal misinterpret or overlook the evidence of climate change impacts and our carbon usage that causes them This guide to using visual media in communicating climate change vividly brings to life both the science and the practical solutions for climate change such as local renewable energy and flood protection It introduces powerful new visual tools from outdoor signs to video games for communities action groups planners and other experts to use in engaging the public building awareness and accelerating action on the world s greatest crisis

The Politics and Power of Tourism in Palestine Rami K. Isaac, C. Michael Hall, Freya Higgins-Desbiolles, 2015-12-14 Tourism in Palestine has been receiving an increasingly important profile given its economic and religious importance and the significant role it plays in Israeli Palestinian relations representation of Palestinian statehood and identity and wider Middle Eastern politics Nevertheless Palestine like much of the Middle East as a whole remains extremely underrepresented in tourism literature This title aims to fill this void by being the first book dedicated to exploring the significance of tourism in relationship to Palestine The book examines the role of tourism in Palestine at three main levels First it provides an overview of destination management and marketing issues for the tourism industry in Palestine and addresses not only the visitor markets and the economic significance of tourism but also the realities of the difficulties of destination management marketing and promotion of the Palestinian state Second it provides a series chapters and case studies that interrogate not only the various forms of tourism in Palestine but also its economic social environmental and spiritual importance This section also conveys a dimension to tourism in Palestine that is not usually appreciated in the Western mainstream media The third section indicates the way in which tourism in Palestine highlights broader questions and debates in tourism studies and the way in which travel in the region is framed in wider discourses A significant dimension of the book is the attention it gives to the different voices of stakeholders in Palestinian tourism at varying levels of scale This timely volume will offer the reader significant insight into the challenges and issues of tourism in this area now and in the future It will benefit those interested in tourism Middle East studies politics economics development studies and geography

Landscape Planning with Ecosystem Services Christina von Haaren, Andrew A. Lovett, Christian Albert, 2019-06-25 Human well being depends in many ways on maintaining the stock of natural resources which deliver the services from which human s benefit However these resources and flows of services are increasingly threatened by unsustainable and competing land uses Particular threats exist to those public goods whose values are not well represented in markets or whose deterioration will only affect future generations As market forces alone are not sufficient effective means for local and regional planning are needed in order to safeguard scarce natural resources coordinate land uses and create sustainable landscape structures This book argues that a solution to such challenges in Europe can be found by merging the landscape planning tradition with ecosystem services concepts Landscape planning has strengths in recognition of public benefits and implementation mechanisms while the ecosystem services approach makes the connection between the status of natural assets and human well being more explicit It can also provide an economic perspective focused on individual preferences and benefits which helps validate the acceptability of environmental planning goals Thus linking landscape planning and ecosystem services provides a two way benefit creating a usable science to meet the needs of local and regional decision making The book is structured around the Driving forces Pressures States Impacts Responses framework providing an introduction to relevant concepts methodologies and techniques It presents a new ecosystem services informed approach to landscape planning that constitutes both a framework and toolbox for students and practitioners to address the environmental and landscape challenges of 21st century Europe

Recent Advances and Prospects in Urban E-Planning Nunes Silva, Carlos, 2024-12-31 The increasing integration of digital technologies in urban planning offers transformative opportunities for improving governance citizen engagement and operational efficiency However it also presents significant challenges including ethical concerns data bias and potential inequalities in access and outcomes Understanding these dynamics is crucial as governments and planners strive to balance innovation with inclusivity and accountability Ultimately it highlights the critical role of urban e planning in addressing the complexities of modern cities while fostering equitable and sustainable development Recent Advances and Prospects in Urban E Planning comprises empirical findings and insights on the ongoing transformation of the field of urban planning due to the extensive use of information and communication technologies in the planning process its recent advancements and the prospects for the next years By examining global case studies and reflecting on technological advancements this book underscores the importance of equipping urban planning processes with tools that enhance transparency effectiveness and responsiveness to societal needs Covering topics such as 3D models healthcare access and waste governance this book is an excellent resource for urban planners policymakers academicians researchers technology developers data scientists postgraduate students and more
