Vitamin C And The Common Cold:

Vitamin C Linus Carl Pauling,1976 Vitamin C, the Common Cold and the Flu Linus Pauling,1983-04-15 There is a Cure for the Common Cold Edmé Régnier,1971 Vitamin C in Health and Disease Anitra C. Carr,Jens Lykkesfeldt,2018-08-09 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Vitamin C in Health and Disease that was published in Nutrients Vitamin C Len Mervyn,Leonard Mervyn,1981 Vitamin C and Treating the Common Cold Gillean Osterday,2012 The antioxidant antihistamine and chemotactic properties of vitamin C provide the theoretical basis linking vitamin C supplementation to combating the common cold yet the clinical evidence is mixed To date vitamin C intervention trials have not systematically recorded cold symptoms daily or looked at fluctuations in plasma histamine over an extended period Also trials have not been conducted in individuals with marginal vitamin C status This study examined the impact of vitamin C supplementation during cold season on specific cold symptoms in a population with low plasma vitamin C concentrations Healthy young males who were not regular smokers or training for competitive sports between the ages of 18 and 35 with below average plasma vitamin C concentrations were stratified by age body mass index and vitamin C status into two groups VTC 500 mg vitamin C capsule ingested twice daily or CON placebo capsule ingested twice daily Participants were instructed to fill out the validated Wisconsin Upper Respiratory Symptom Survey 21 daily for 8 weeks Blood was sampled at trial weeks 0 4 and 8 Plasma vitamin C concentrations were significantly different by groups at study week 4 and 8 Plasma histamine decreased 4 2% in the VTC group and increased 17 4% in the CON group between study weeks 0 and 8 but these differences were not statistically significant p 0 05 Total cold symptom scores averaged 43 15 for the VTC group compared to 148 36 for the CON group a 244% increase in symptoms for CON participants versus VTC participants p 0 014 Additionally recorded symptom severity and functional impairment scores were lower in the VCT group than the CON group p 0 031 and 0 058 respectively Global perception of sickness was 65% lower in the VTC group compared to the CON group p 0 022 These results suggest that 1000 mg of vitamin C in a divided dose daily may lower common cold symptoms cold symptom severity and the perception of sickness More research is needed to corroborate these findings Vitamin C S. Nobile,J.H. Woodhill,2012-12-06 Parents and ancestors are always important they endow us with a genetic inheritance for better or for worse for the balanced diet for overfeeding or for starvation Some of us die young some succumb in middle age to chronic disease others join the gero cracy the healthy happy people in their 70s 80s or even 90s Genetic inheritance nurture and nutrition all play their part The nurture and nutrition are our own responsibility we make our choices and live with the consequences This book is dedicated to the students of nutrition who may be interested in the subject for themselves alone for their families for teaching and counselling others and for research and investi gations We found it necessary to include basic information in order to support some of the statements we make or advice we give this material appears either in the main body of the text or as footnotes If the student of nutrition is familiar with the basic con cepts these sections can be skipped At the end of the book we have included appendices with examples of daily menus providing adequate vitamin C an extensive bibliography a glossary and an index We have drawn up a food table of the vitamin C content of specific foods and described the point system which is a ready reckoner for approximate calculation of the vitamin C content of foods and diets
