Flying for Her Country Amy Goodpaster Strebe, 2007-08-30 During the Second World War women pilots were given the opportunity to fly military aircraft for the first time In the United States famed aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran formed the Women Airforce Service Pilots program where over one thousand women flyers ferried aircraft from factories to airbases throughout the United States and Canada from 1942 to 1944 The WASP operated from 110 facilities and flew more than 60 million miles in 78 different types of aircraft from the smallest trainers to the fastest fighters and the largest bombers The WASP performed every duty inside the cockpit as their male counterparts except combat and 38 women pilots gave their lives in the service of their country Notwithstanding their outward appearance as official members of the U S Army Air Forces the WASP were considered civil servants during the war Despite a highly publicized attempt to militarize in 1944 the women pilots would not be granted veteran status until 1977 In the Soviet Union Marina Raskova Russia s Amelia Earhart famous for her historic Far East flight in 1938 formed the USSR s first all female aviation regiments that flew combat missions along the Eastern Front A little over one thousand women flew a combined total of more than 30 thousand combat sorties producing at least 30 Heroes of the Soviet Union Included in their ranks were at least two fighter aces More than 50 women pilots were killed in action Sharing both patriotism and a mutual love of aviation these pioneering women flyers faced similar obstacles while challenging assumptions of male supremacy in wartime culture Despite experiencing discrimination from male aircrews during the war these intrepid airwomen ultimately earned their respect The pilots exploits and their courageous story told so convincingly here continue to inspire future generations of women in aviation

The Women with Silver Wings Katherine Sharp Landdeck, 2021-03-30 With the fate of the free world hanging in the balance women pilots went aloft to serve their nation A soaring tale in which at long last these daring World War II pilots gain the credit they deserve Liza Mundy New York Times bestselling author of Code Girls A powerful story of reinvention community and ingenuity born out of global upheaval Newsday When the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor in December 1941 Cornelia Fort was already in the air At twenty two Fort had escaped Nashville s debutante scene for a fresh start as a flight instructor in Hawaii She and her student were in the middle of their lesson when the bombs began to fall and they barely made it back to ground that morning Still when the U S Army Air Forces put out a call for women pilots to aid the war effort Fort was one of the first to respond She became one of just over 1 100 women from across the nation to make it through the Army s rigorous selection process and earn her silver wings The brainchild of trailblazing pilots Nancy Love and Jacqueline Cochran the Women Airforce Service Pilots WASP gave women like Fort a chance to serve their country and to prove that women aviators were just as skilled as men While not authorized to serve in combat the WASP helped train male pilots for service abroad and ferried bombers and pursuits across the country Thirty eight WASP would not survive the war But even taking into account these tragic losses Love and Cochran s social experiment seemed to be a resounding success until with the tides of war turning Congress clipped the women s wings The program was disbanded the women sent home But the bonds they d forged never failed and over the next few decades they came together to fight for recognition as the military veterans they were and for their place in history

United States Air Force and Its Antecedents James T. Controvich, Martin Gordon, 2004-06-24 This expanded and revised edition of the bibliography originally compiled for the United States Air Force Historical Research Agency is the most comprehensive listing of unofficial published histories of the United States Air Force and its antecedents It covers the air force from its genesis as the US Army Signal Corps Aviation

Section to the present These titles are a rich source of information for anyone interested in the history of combat and peacetime operations of the Air Force Researchers and libraries will find the organization of titles easy to use Entries include private sponsored or unofficial histories often written by the unit historian personal narratives purely photographic or pictorial histories route of battle maps published or printed rosters officially produced titles This is an indispensable resource for military aviation historians libraries with strong collections in military and air force history and unit history collectors It is also of special interest to genealogists as many unit histories contain rosters and photos of personnel Women and War

Bernard A. Cook, 2006-05-19 In this unique encyclopedia 120 leading scholars from around the world provide comprehensive treatment of the role of women in war from the first written history to the present This authoritative encyclopedia presents the work of leading scholars from all over the world to give the first detailed coverage of the role of women in wars throughout history Histories of war are typically histories of men great leaders and heroic fighters Yet the roles of women often receive only limited coverage Except for such notables as Joan of Arc traditional histories give short shrift to women as leaders and fighters Similarly the direct victimization particularly sexual abuse as a weapon of terror and domination and cultural dislocations women suffer in war float as background without detailed coverage This work represents a first devoted in its entirety to thorough examination of all aspects of women in war For the first time readers have a single source for information on the scope of women's role in war and war's effects on them Stella's Girl Captain Evelyn Decker U.S.

Army, 2009-04-04 This book tells the story of Captain Evelyn Decker a pioneer as one of the first African American nurses to serve in the U S Army Having grown up in an integrated accepting community in upstate New York she was surprised and dismayed by the continual discrimination and segregation she faced as she served her country Her spirit and strength illuminate her narrative a history that should never be forgotten In this book Captain Decker details her early childhood young adulthood and her military career in this country and overseas covering her experiences from World II through the Korean era This autobiography explores Captain Decker's life and assesses her place in American military history The book traces her personal and career development her challenges and her climb over insurmountable obstacles to obtain many decorations Dr Brigadier General Carrie Nero USA Ret I feel honored to have read this book and I enjoyed it too I believe the English used in this book is appropriate for Middle and Junior High School students Good luck with the publication Ethleen B Stoute Social Studies Teacher Shaw Junior High School Washington DC Texas and Texans in World War II
