Andhra Pradesh India Education and Hegemony Nagaraju Gundemeda,2014-10-02 Globalization is a multidimensional concept that encompasses the politico economic socio cultural and educational spheres of contemporary societies across time and space The ideological convictions and methodological subscriptions of social scientists guide the discourse on globalization to unravel the meanings and implications for institutions individuals and social groups in shaping and changing their everyday life experiences Globalization unleashed major lessons and has played a key role in shaping the educational systems of developing countries including India In this context this book 1 maps the multiple epistemological traditions to approach the conceptual formulations of the globalization of education 2 examines the socioeconomic context of the globalization of education in India 3 analyzes the local responses to processes associated with the knowledge discourse and 4 examines the relation between the globalization of education and its implications on the functioning of institutional structures such as caste class gender marriage in general and the education system in particular The book proposes various secondary readings and empirical observations of the global political and regional social economies that have in fact been guiding the Indian education system The institutional engagement with globalization needs to be located within the framework of social mobility either to extend or retain the social position of groups within the current social hierarchy This book proposes that the globalization of education not only hegemonizes the nature and direction of education but also hierarchizes the production and consumption of knowledge systems The hierarchical knowledge system tends to legitimize market driven education by simultaneously marginalizing the other multiple streams of knowledge systems The marginalisation of liberal knowledge creates a one dimensional pedagogy which tends to erase the tradition of critical reasoning which questions the oppressive elements of the state and suppressive values of the civil society Not Very Far Jinnat Saberlin, Fate the most fluctuating element of life At times it dissembles to be your best friend your helping hand your guardian But the moment you trust it it shatters you and your trust into pieces It breaks you builds you up so that it can break you again Fate binds the two budding teenagers Ashik and Sakshi This pair of complete strangers belonging to two different corners of India seems to share an innumerable number of surprising similarities It went from having the same letters in their names to having similar hobbies The similarities never ceased to amaze them both Back at the time when Facebook and Orkut weren't the basic needs of the teens there were those ridiculous chat rooms on channel V Those that appear at the bottom of your TV screen That's where they talked for the first time Who knew a real relationship would take birth there Who knew they'd even fall in love That's fate But the age was wrong and the distance was long Mistakes were inevitable and trust was easy to lose Ashik makes a mistake A mistake so bad that Sakshi finds it hard to ever trust him again She leaves They say you realise you love someone when you let them go That's what happened to Ashik too Determined he would bring her back to his life he heads off to Hyderabad from Assam resisting all sorts of parental oppositions to study BBA a course he was never interested in Sakshi's decisions were mostly governed by her emotions and not on logic As a result of which she's either very right or very wrong Their relationship blooms yet again But too much of dependency and an uncertain career isn't a very pretty condition for a relationship India Today ,2009 Muslim India ,2006
