Trace Memory History Race And The American Landscape:

Trace Lauret Savoy, 2015-11-01 Winner of the American Book Award PEN Literary Award Finalist These essays blending memoir history and landscape will create seismic shifts in readers perspectives on race gender and nature as they explore how America s ideas of race have marked its people and the land BuzzFeed Sand and stone are Earth s fragmented memory Each of us too is a landscape inscribed by memory and loss One life defining lesson Lauret Savoy learned as a young girl was this the American land did not hate As an educator and Earth historian she has tracked the continent s past from the relics of deep time but the paths of ancestors toward her paths of free and enslaved Africans colonists from Europe and peoples indigenous to this land lie largely eroded and lost A provocative and powerful mosaic that ranges across a continent and across time from twisted terrain within the San Andreas Fault zone to a South Carolina plantation from national parks to burial grounds from Indian Territory and the U S Mexico Border to the U S capital Trace grapples with a searing national history to reveal the often unvoiced presence of the past In distinctive and illuminating prose that is attentive to the rhythms of language and landscapes she weaves together human stories of migration silence and displacement as epic as the continent they survey with uplifted mountains braided streams and eroded canyons Gifted with this manifold vision and graced by a scientific and lyrical diligence she delves through fragmented histories natural personal cultural to find shadowy outlines of other stories of place in America Every landscape is an accumulation reads one epigraph Life must be lived amidst that which was made before Courageously and masterfully Lauret Savoy does so in this beautiful book she lives there making sense of this land and its troubled past reconciling what it means to inhabit terrains of memory and to be one To Know the World Mitchell Thomashow, 2020-11-03 Why environmental learning is crucial for understanding the connected challenges of climate justice tribalism inequity democracy and human flourishing How can we respond to the current planetary ecological emergency In To Know the World Mitchell Thomashow proposes that we revitalize revisit and reinvigorate how we think about our residency on Earth First we must understand that the major challenges of our time migration race inequity climate justice and democracy connect to the biosphere Traditional environmental education has accomplished much but it has not been able to stem the inexorable decline of global ecosystems Thomashow the former president of a college dedicated to sustainability describes instead environmental learning a term signifying that our relationship to the biosphere must be front and center in all aspects of our daily lives In this illuminating book he provides rationales narratives and approaches for doing just that Mixing memoir theory mindfulness pedagogy and compelling storytelling Thomashow discusses how to navigate the Anthropocene s rapid pace of change without further separating psyche from biosphere why we should understand migration both ecologically and culturally how to achieve constructive connectivity in both social and ecological networks and why we should take a cosmopolitan bioregionalism perspective that unites local and global Throughout Thomashow invites readers to participate as educational explorers encouraging them to better understand how and why environmental learning is crucial to human flourishing Unsettling Elizabeth Weinberg, 2022 Unsettling explores human impacts on the environment through science popular culture personal narrative and landscape Elizabeth Weinberg argues that climate change is a direct result of white supremacy colonialism sexism and heteronormativity The time has come to reimagine our relationship to the environment before it is too late Valley of Heart's Delight Anne Marie Todd, 2022-10-25 This agricultural history explores the transformation of the Santa Clara Valley over the past one hundred years from America's largest fruit producing region into the technology capital of the world In the latter half of the twentieth century the region's focus shifted from fruits such as apricots and prunes to computers Both personal and public rhetoric reveals how a sense of place emerges and changes in an evolving agricultural community like the Santa Clara Valley Through extensive archival research and interviews Anne Marie Todd explores the concepts of place and placelessness arguing that place is more than a physical location and that exploring a community's sense of place can help us to map how individuals experience their natural surroundings and their sense of responsibility towards the local environment Todd extends the concept of sense of place to describe Silicon Valley as a non place where weakened or disrupted attachment to place threatens the environment and community The story of the Santa Clara Valley is an American story of the development of agricultural lands and the transformation of rural regions Healing Haunted Histories Elaine Enns, Ched Myers, 2021-02-01 Healing Haunted Histories tackles the oldest and deepest injustices on the North American continent Violations which inhabit every intersection of settler and Indigenous worlds past and present Wounds inextricably woven into the fabric of our personal and political lives And it argues we can heal those wounds through the inward and outward journey of decolonization The authors write as and for settlers on this journey exploring the places peoples and spirits that have formed and deformed us They look at issues of Indigenous justice and settler response ability through the lens of Elaine's Mennonite family narrative tracing Landlines Bloodlines and Songlines like a braided river From Ukrainian steppes to Canadian prairies to California chaparral they examine her forebearers immigrant travails and trauma settler unknowing and complicity and traditions of resilience and conscience And they invite readers to do the same Part memoir part social historical and theological analysis and part practical workbook this process invites settler Christians and other people of faith into a discipleship of decolonization How are our histories landscapes and communities haunted by continuing Indigenous dispossession How do we transform our colonizing self perceptions lifeways and structures And how might we practice restorative solidarity with Indigenous communities today The Cambridge Companion to Environmental Humanities Jeffrey Cohen, Stephanie Foote, 2021-09-02 Offers a comprehensive introduction to the environmental humanities It addresses the 21st century recognition of an environmental crisis New Forms of Environmental Writing Timothy C. Baker, 2022-05-19 Surveying a wide range of contemporary poetry fiction and memoir by women writers this book explores our most pressing environmental concerns and shows how these texts find innovative new ways to respond to our environmental crisis Arguing for the centrality of individual encounter and fragmentary form in 21st century literature as well as themes of attention care and loss Baker highlights the ways that fragmentary texts can be seen as a mode of resistance These texts provide new ways to consider the role of individual agency and enmeshment in a more than human world The author proposes a new model of gleaning to encompass ideas of collection assemblage and relinquishment and draws on theoretical perspectives such as ecofeminism new materialism and posthumanism Examining works by writers including Sara Baume Ali Smith Elizabeth Jane Burnett Bhanu Kapil and Kathleen Jamie Baker provides important new insights into understanding our planetary predicament Ecocriticism Greg Garrard,2023-03-29 Ecocriticism explores the ways in which we imagine and portray the relationship between humans and the environment across many areas of cultural production including Romantic poetry wildlife documentaries climate models the Hollywood blockbuster The Day After Tomorrow and novels by Margaret Atwood Kim Scott Barbara Kingsolver and Octavia Butler Greg Garrard s animated and accessible volume responds to the diversity of the field today and explores its key concepts including pollution pastoral wilderness apocalypse animals Indigeneity the Earth Thoroughly revised to reflect the breadth and diversity of twenty first century environmental writing and criticism this edition addresses climate change and justice throughout and features a new chapter on Indigeneity It also presents a glossary of terms and suggestions for further reading Concise clear and authoritative Ecocriticism offers the ideal introduction to this crucial subject for students of literary and cultural studies

Climate Change, Interrupted Barbara Leckie,2022-11-01 In this moment of climate precarity Victorian studies scholar Barbara Leckie considers the climate crisis as a problem of time Spanning the long nineteenth century through our current moment her interdisciplinary treatment of climate change at once rethinks time and illustrates that the time for climate action is now Climate Change Interrupted argues that linear progress inflected temporalities are not adequate to a crisis that defies their terms Instead this book advances a theory and practice of interruption to rethink prevailing temporal frameworks At the same time it models the anachronistic time blending and time layering temporality it advances In a series of experimental chapters informed by the unlikely trio of Walter Benjamin Donna Haraway and Virginia Woolf Leckie reinfects and cowrites the traditions and knowledges of the long nineteenth century and the current period in the spirit of climate action collaboration The current moment demands as many approaches as possible invites us to take risks and asks scholars and activists adept at storytelling to participate in the conversation Climate Change Interrupted accordingly invests in interruption to tell a different story of the climate crisis Grounding Religion Whitney A. Bauman,Richard

Bohannon,Kevin J. O'Brien,2023-09-29 Now in its third edition Grounding Religion explores relationships between the environment and religious beliefs and practices Established scholars introduce students to the ways religion shapes and is shaped by human earth relations surveying a series of key issues and questions with particular attention to issues of environmental degradation social justice ritual practices and religious worldviews Case studies discussion questions and further readings enrich students experience This third edition features updated content including revisions of every chapter and new material on religion and the environmental humanities sexuality and queer studies class ability privilege and power environmental justice extinction biodiversity and politics An excellent text for undergraduates and graduates alike it offers an expansive overview of the academic field of religion and ecology as it has emerged in the past fifty years and continues to develop today
