Visual Theology Forming And Transforming The Community Through The Arts:

Visual Theology Robin Margaret Jensen, Kimberly J. Vrudny, 2009 At least since the time of Paul see Acts 18 Christians have wrestled with the power and danger of religious imagery in the visual arts It was not until the middle of the twentieth century that there emerged in Western Christianity an integrated academic study of theology and the arts Here one of the pioneers of that movement H Wilson Yates along with fourteen theologians examine how visual culture reflects or addresses pressing contemporary religious questions The aim throughout is to engage the reader in theological reflection mediated and enhanced by the arts This beautifully illustrated book includes more than fifty images in full color Art and the Church: A Fractious Embrace Jonathan Koestle-Cate, 2016-04-20 A vibrant critical exchange between contemporary art and Christianity is being increasingly prompted by an expanding programme of art installations and commissions for ecclesiastical spaces Rather than religious art reflecting Christian ideology current practices frequently initiate projects that question the values and traditions of the host space or present objects and events that challenge its visual conventions In the light of these developments this book asks what conditions are favourable to enhancing and expanding the possibilities of church based art and how can these conditions be addressed What viable language or strategies can be formulated to understand and analyse art's role within the church Focusing on concepts drawn from anthropology comparative religion art theory theology and philosophy this book formulates a lexicon of terms built around the notion of encounter in order to review the effective uses and experience of contemporary art in churches The author concludes with the prognosis that art for the church has reached a critical and decisive phase in its history testing the assumption that contemporary art should be a taken for granted element of modern church life Art and the Church A Fractious Embrace uniquely combines conceptual analysis critical case studies and practical application in a rigorous and inventive manner dealing specifically with contemporary art of the past twenty five years and the most recent developments in the church's policies for the arts ReVisioning James Romaine, Linda Stratford, 2014-05-20 ReVisioning Critical Methods of Seeing Christianity in the History of Art examines the application of art historical methods to the history of Christianity and art As methods of art history have become more interdisciplinary there has been a notable emergence of discussions of religion in art history as well as related fields such as visual culture and theology This book represents the first critical examination of scholarly methodologies applied to the study of Christian subjects themes and contexts in art ReVisioning contains original work from a range of scholars each of whom has addressed the question in regard to a well known work of art or body of work How have particular methods of art history been applied and with what effect The study moves from the third century to the present providing extensive treatment and analysis of art historical methods applied to the history of Christianity and art Spirit of the Arts Steven Félix-Jäger, 2017-11-01 A contribution to the field of theological aesthetics this book explores the arts in and around the Pentecostal and charismatic renewal movements It proposes a pneumatological model for creativity and the arts and discusses different art forms from the perspective of that model Pentecostals and other charismatic Christians have not sufficiently worked out matters of aesthetics or teased out the great religious possibilities of engaging with the arts With the flourishing of Pentecostal culture comes the potential for an equally flourishing artistic life As this book demonstrates renewal movements have participated in the arts but have not systematized their findings in ways that express their theological commitments until now The book examines how to approach art in ways that are communal dialogical and theologically cultivating

She who Imagines Laurie M. Cassidy, Maureen H. O'Connell, 2012 The idea and ideal of beauty has been used to oppress women of different ages body types skin color and physical ability The theoretical discussion of aesthetics has also been conditioned by these same dynamics of power and oppression In She Who Imagines a diverse set of scholars challenges the exclusion and false definitions while constructing capacious ideas that discover beauty in unexpected places In these essays the authors draw on a variety of arts media painting photography portraiture craftwork poetry and hip hop music thereby joining beauty to truth and in a richly defining way to the practice of justice In a variety of ways all the essays link women's definitions of beauty with experiences of suffering and hence with the yearning for justice All clearly prize resistance to degradation as an essential element of thought

Imaging the Story Karen Case-Green, Gill C. Sakakini, 2017-05-08 Tell all the Truth but tell it slant Emily Dickinson This course follows the contours of the salvation story through the lens of the arts Putting visual art and poetry in conversation with the Bible it seeks to engage the imagination Rather than analyzing the narrative the reader is invited to behold it and respond to it through making either verbally or visually At times the church has treated the imagination like an embarrassing relative Yet the Bible is image rich drawing widely on the imagination and we are each made in the image of the creator God It is time to bring the imagination out of the corner For we are God's handiwork created in Christ Jesus to do good works which God prepared in advance for us to do Eph 2 10 NIV Whether following it as a group or reading it alone this course book will appeal to anyone with an interest in the salvation story and the arts It is particularly for those who feel permission is needed to pick up a paintbrush or any other creative medium just for the love of it

Spiritual Traces Aaron Rosen, 2025-09-23 Some of the most compelling spiritual insights today come from artists both through their art and what they say about it Yet interviewers and critics rarely ask artists searching questions about their spiritual interests missing a key feature in the landscape of contemporary art With a fresh jargon free style Aaron Rosen a leading scholar writer and curator addresses this gap He takes readers into studios galleries and worship spaces as he paints a compelling picture of art and spirituality today through essays and interviews As the title suggests Rosen pays special attention to places where spiritual traces might appear hidden fleeting or on the edge of possibility which creates room for readers to ruminate on their own spiritual leanings and interests Rosen focuses on close engagements with individual artists from established names to emerging talents drawing upon close relationships with artists from across the globe and many traditions With more than sixty color images of works ranging from paintings to performances this volume is essential reading for those looking to see art today in a new light

Teaching for a Multifaith World Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2017-05-05 When religious diversity is our reality radical hospitality to people of other faiths is not a luxury but a necessity More than necessary for our survival radical hospitality to religious diversity is necessary if we are to thrive as a global society By no means does the practice of hospitality in a multifaith world require that we be oblivious of our differences On the contrary it demands a respectful embrace of our differences because that is who we are Neither does radical hospitality require that we water down our commitment because faithfulness and openness are not contradictory We must be able to say with burning passion that we are open to the claims of other faiths because we are faithful to our religious heritage The essays in this book do not offer simply theological exhortations they offer specific ways of how we can become religiously competent citizens in a multifaith world Let us take the bold steps of radical openness with this book on our side

Redeeming Transcendence in the Arts Jeremy Begbie , 2018-06-30 How can the arts witness to the transcendence of the Christian God It is widely believed that there is something transcendent about the arts that they can awaken a profound sense of awe wonder and mystery of something beyond this world Many argue that this opens up fruitful opportunities for conversation with those who may have no use for conventional forms of Christianity Jeremy Begbie a leading voice on theology and the arts in this book employs a biblical trinitarian imagination to show how Christian involvement in the arts can and should be shaped by a vision of God's transcendence revealed in the person of Jesus Christ After critiquing some current writing on the subject he goes on to offer rich resources to help readers engage constructively with the contemporary cultural moment even as they bear witness to the otherness and uncontainability of the triune God of love

The Arts and the Bible Stanley E. Porter, Wendy J. Porter, 2024-01-04 Throughout its history the Christian church has had a troubled relationship with the arts whether literature poetry music visual arts or other forms of artistic expression This volume is not designed to resolve the issues but it is designed to present a number of different statements about various dimensions of the arts in their relationship to the Bible The Bible is the document that stands behind the Christian church as an inspiration to it and to its arts As a result we have divided this volume into six parts perspectives on the arts culture and art visual enactments contemporary interpretations music and the Bible and literature Many of the issues that the history of the interaction of the arts and the Bible within the Christian church has uncovered are insightfully and artfully addressed by this book The wide range of contributors runs the gamut from practicing artists of various media to scholars within varied academic fields

Art and Material Culture in the Byzantine and Islamic Worlds Evanthia Baboula, Lesley Jessop, 2021-04-19 Dedicated to Erica Cruikshank Dodd Art and Material Culture in the Byzantine and Islamic Worlds offers new perspectives on the Christian and Muslim communities of the east Mediterranean from medieval to contemporary times The contributors examine how people from diverse religious backgrounds adapted to their changing political landscapes and show that artistic patronage consumption and practices are interwoven with constructed narratives The essays consider material and textual evidence for painted media architecture and the creative process in Byzantium Crusader era politics the Ottoman empire and the modern Middle East thus demonstrating the importance of the past in understanding the present Contributors Evanthia Baboula Lesley Jessop Anthony Cutler Jaroslav Folda John Osborne Glenn Peers Annemarie Weyl Carr Mat Immerzeel Bas Snelders Angela Andersen May Farhat Marcus Milwright Rico Franses Introduction to Christian Worship James F. White, 2023-11-21 James White's classic Christian worship text revised and updated The book students of worship have read and re read is now revised and updated for the first time in more than twenty years Author Ed Phillips one of White's graduate students is joined by practitioners and teachers from emerging generations who contribute timely and well researched material from their own areas of expertise This new content brings the original up to date filling significant gaps since the original publication on topics like technology arts embodiment in and of worship pluralism and multiculturalism denominational changes and changes in the spaces and forms of worship including worship in the age of pandemics This new edition will take its place on the shelf of every student pastor and leader of Christian worship

Religion and Art in the Heart of Modern Manhattan Aaron Rosen, 2017-07-28 When you're in New York the sculptor Louise Nevelson once said you're in perpetual resurrection She might have said the same thing about St Peter's Lutheran Church set in the heart of midtown Manhattan In the 1970s the church made a radical move scrapping its neo gothic building for a sleek modern structure in the shadow of a skyscraper The transformation was not just architectural Inside Nevelson created a shimmering chapel while over the years artists and designers such as Willem de Kooning Kiki Smith and Massimo and Lella Vignelli produced works for the sanctuary This fusion of modern art architecture and design was complemented by an innovative jazz ministry including funerals for Billy Strayhorn and John Coltrane and performances by Duke Ellington and other jazz legends For the first time this volume examines the astounding cultural output of this single church Just as importantly the story of St Peter's serves as a springboard for wider reflections on the challenges and possibilities which arise when religion and art intersect in the modern city Working from a wide range of disciplines including art history theology musicology and cultural studies a distinguished group of scholars demonstrate that this church at the center of New York City deserves an equally central place in contemporary scholarship A Peculiar Orthodoxy Jeremy S.

Begbie, 2018-08-21 World renowned theologian Jeremy Begbie has been at the forefront of teaching and writing on theology and the arts for more than twenty years Amid current debates and discussions on the topic Begbie emphasizes the role of a biblically grounded creedal orthodoxy as he shows how Christian theology and the arts can enrich each other Throughout the book Begbie demonstrates the power of classic trinitarian faith to bring illumination surprise and delight whenever it engages with the arts Documentary as Exorcism Robert Beckford, 2014-01-16 Documentary as Exorcism is an interdisciplinary study that builds upon the insights of postcolonial studies critical race theory theological and religious studies and media and film studies to showcase the role of documentary film as a system of signifying capable of registering complex theological ideas while pursuing the authentic aims of documentary filmmaking Robert Beckford marries the concepts of theology as visual practice and theology as political engagement to develop a new mode of documentary filmmaking that embeds emancipation from oppression in its aesthetic In various documentaries made for Channel 4 and the BBC Beckford narrates the complicit relationship of Christianity with European expansion slavery and colonialism as a historic manifestation of evil In light of the cannibalistic practices of colonialism that devoured black life and the church's role in the subjugation and theological legitimization of black bodies Beckford characterises this form of historic Christian faith as colonial Christianity and its malevolent or occult practices as a form of bewitchment that must be exorcised He identifies and exorcises the evil practices of colonialism and their present impact upon African Caribbean Christian communities in Britain in films such as Britain's Slave Trade and Empire Pays Back through a deliberate process of encoding decoding The emancipatory impact of this form of documentary filmmaking is demonstrated by its ability to bring issues such as reparations to the public square for debate and its capacity to change a corporation's trade policies for the good of Africans

Saints on Sunday Gail Ramshaw, 2018-07-02 How might Ambrose of Milan Hildegard of Bingen and Catherine of Siena inspire us to improve Sunday worship What about Lawrence John of Damascus Thomas Cranmer Johannes Kepler Margaret Fell and Dorothy Day Even Amy Carmichael can point our assemblies toward more profound worship In Saints on Sunday Lutheran laywoman Gail Ramshaw listening to twenty-four sainted voices proposes how our past might enliven our future Characterized by rigorous scholarship and no nonsense honesty her essays suggest ways to enrich the gathering word meal and sending of our assemblies on Sunday

Researching the Archaeological Past through Imagined Narratives Daniël van Helden, Robert Witcher, 2019-11-26 Archaeological interpretation is an imaginative act Stratigraphy and artefacts do not tell us what the past was like that is the task of the archaeologist The diverse group of contributors to this volume address the relationship between archaeology and imagination through the medium of historical fiction and fictive techniques both as consumers and as producers The fictionalisation of archaeological research is often used to disseminate the results of scholarly or commercial archaeology projects for wider public outreach Here instead the authors focus on the question of what benefits fiction and fictive techniques as inspiration and method can bring to the practice of archaeology itself The contributors a mix of archaeologists novelists and other artists advance a variety of theoretical arguments and examples to advance the case for the value of a reflexive engagement between archaeology and fiction Themes include the similarities and differences in the motives and methods of archaeologists and novelists translation empathy and the need to humanise the past and diversify archaeological narratives The authors are sensitive to the epistemological and ethical issues surrounding the influence of fiction on researchers and the incorporation of fictive techniques in their work Sometimes dismissed as distracting just so stories or even as dangerously relativistic narratives the use of fictive techniques has a long history in archaeological research and examples from the scholarly literature on many varied periods and regions are considered The volume sets out to bring together examples of these disparate applications and to focus attention on the need for explicit recognition of the problems and possibilities of such approaches and on the value of further research about them

The Old Testament in Eastern Orthodox Tradition Eugen J. Pentiuc, 2014-01-09 This study provides a general overview and a succinct analysis of the primary ways in which the Old Testament has been received interpreted and conveyed within Eastern Orthodox tradition filling a vacuum in scholarly literature on the history of biblical interpretation The book is divided into two parts Reception and Interpretation Under Reception issues such as unity and diversity of the Christian Bible text canon and Tradition are considered The second part Interpretation focuses on Eastern Orthodox modes of interpretation discursive and intuitive Among the discursive modes the patristic exegesis is chosen as a case study The intuitive modes representing the so called liturgical exegesis are subdivided into aural hymns psalmody lectionaries and visual portable icons frescoes mosaics A special emphasis is placed on the hallmarks of Eastern Orthodox reception and interpretation of the Old Testament including the centrality of Scripture within Tradition a blend of flexibility and strictness at all levels of the faith community integrative function and holistic use of the sacred text a tensed unity of discursive and intuitive modes of interpretation and a dynamic synergy between formative and informative goals in the use of Scripture
