Youth Violence Sources And Solutions In South Africa:

Youth Violence Catherine Ward, Andrew Dawes, Amelia van der Merwe, 2012-01-25 Youth violence Sources and solutions in South Africa thoroughly and carefully reviews the evidence for risk and protective factors that influence the likelihood of young people acting aggressively. Layers of understanding are built by viewing the problem from a multitude of perspectives including the current situation in which South African youth are growing up, perspectives from developmental psychology, the influences of race, class and gender, and of the media. The book then reviews the evidence for effective interventions in the contexts of young people's lives, their homes, their schools, their leisure activities, with gangs in the criminal justice system in cities and neighbourhoods, and with sexual offenders. In doing so, thoughtful suggestions are made for keeping an evidence-based perspective while necessarily adapting interventions for developing world contexts such as South Africa. Youth violence in South Africa: Sources and solutions is a valuable addition to the library of anyone who has ever wondered about youth violence or wanted to do something about it.

Gender Violence in Poverty Contexts Jenny Parkes, 2015-03-27 This book is concerned with understanding the complex ways in which gender violence and poverty impact on young people's lives and the potential for education to challenge violence. Although there has been a recent expansion of research on gender violence and schooling, the field of research that brings together thinking on gender violence, poverty and education is in its infancy. This book sets out to establish this new field by offering innovative research insights into the nature of violence affecting children and young people, the sources of violence including the relationship with poverty and inequality, the effects of violence on young subjectivities and the educational challenge of how to counter violence. Authors address three interrelated aims in their chapters: to identify theoretical and methodological framings for understanding the relationship between gender violence, poverty and education; to demonstrate how young people living in varying contexts of poverty in the Global South learn about, engage in, respond to and resist gender violence; to investigate how institutions including schools, families, communities, governments, international and non-governmental organisations, and the media constrain or expand possibilities to challenge gender violence in the Global South. Describing a range of innovative research projects, the chapters display what scholarly work can offer to help meet the educational challenge and to find ways to help young people and those around them to understand, resist and rupture the many faces of violence. Gender Violence in Poverty Contexts will appeal to an international audience of postgraduate students, academics and researchers in the fields of international and comparative education, gender and women's studies, teacher education, poverty development and conflict studies, African and Asian studies, and related disciplines. It will also be of interest to professionals in NGOs and other organisations and policy makers keen to develop research-informed practice. Winner of the 2016 Jackie Kirk Outstanding Book Award.
