Zen And The Modern World 3rd Sequel To Zen And Western Thought:

Zen and the Modern World Masao Abe, 2003-08-31 Written by one of Japan's foremost contemporary thinkers and scholars Zen and the Modern World is the third in a series of essay collections on Zen Buddhism as seen in the context of Western thought. As a leading representative of the Kyoto School which has sought a critical comparative linking of Eastern and Western thought, Abe has based his approach on constructive mutually respectful yet critical intellectual interaction and dialogue with some of the leading figures in the West including Paul Tillich, Hans Kng and Eugene Borowitz, as well as dozens of colleagues, students and disciples. Together with the previous volumes, this work examines and exemplifies some key features of Kyoto School thought. While the essays presented here should be read in light of the socio-political criticism that has since been lodged against the Kyoto School and more particularly its founder Nishida Kitaro, most of them were written prior to the recent discussions and focus on issues of comparative philosophy and religious thought outside the contours of the debate. This should not, however, limit their approach to the earlier historical context. Woman-killing in Juarez

Rafael Luévano, 2012 A startling analysis of the killing of over 500 women in Juarez to help readers understand the presence of suffering and evil. Making expert use of narrative theology, Prof. Luévano uses the killing of over 500 women since 1993 in Ciudad Juarez as a lens to examine and attempt to understand the role that suffering plays in God's love and relationship with humankind. The first three chapters that form Part I describe events in northern Mexico that provide the context for the killing of young women. The five chapters in the second part examine different themes within the broad context of theodicy: the nature of God, the traditional teaching of the church, and contemporary theological approaches to human suffering. e.g. Soelle, Wiesel, Moltman. Buddhisms and Deconstructions Robert Magliola, 2006-03-20 Buddhisms and Deconstructions considers the connection between Buddhism and Derridean deconstruction, focusing on the work of Robert Magliola. Fourteen distinguished contributors discuss deconstruction and various Buddhisms: Indian, Tibetan, and Chinese Chan, followed by an afterword in which Magliola responds directly to his critics. The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Christian Mysticism Julia A. Lamm, 2017-02-06 The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Christian Mysticism brings together a team of leading international scholars to explore the origins, evolution, and contemporary debates relating to Christian mystics' texts and the movements they inspired. Provides a comprehensive and engaging account of Christian mysticism from its origins right up to the present day. Draws on the best of current scholarship by bringing together a collection of newly commissioned readings by leading scholars. Considers examples of mysticism in both Eastern and Western Christianity. Offers a brilliant synthesis of the key figures and historical periods of mysticism, its core themes such as heresy, gender, or aesthetics, and its theoretical considerations, including theological, literary, social, scientific, and philosophical approaches. Features chapters on current debates such as neuroscience and mystical experience, and inter-religious dialogue. Buddhist-Christian Dialogue as Theological Exchange Ernest M. Valea, 2015-10-29 This book is intended to encourage the use of comparative theology in contemporary Buddhist Christian dialogue as a new approach that would truly respect each religious tradition's uniqueness and make dialogue beneficial for all participants interested in a real theological exchange. As a result of the impasse reached by the current theologies of religions exclusivism inclusivism and pluralism in formulating a constructive approach in dialogue this volume assesses the thought of the founding fathers of an academic Buddhist Christian dialogue in search of clues that would encourage a comparativist approach. These founding fathers are considered to be three important representatives of the Kyoto School: Kitaro Nishida, Keiji Nishitani and Masao Abe, and John Cobb, an American process theologian. The guiding line for assessing their views of dialogue is the concept of human perfection as it is expressed by the original traditions in Mahayana Buddhism and Orthodox Christianity. Following Abe's methodology in dialogue, an Orthodox contribution to comparative theology proposes a reciprocal enrichment of traditions not by syncretistic means but by providing a better understanding and even correction of one's own tradition when considering it in the light of the other while using internal resources for making the necessary corrections.

Globalizing Japanese Philosophy as an Academic Discipline Ching-yuen Cheung, Wing-keung Lam, 2017-04-03. The book is divided into two parts, namely Japanese Philosophy Teaching and Research in the Global World and Japanese Philosophy as an Academic Discipline. In the first part, there are reports of the situation of teaching and research of Japanese philosophy. The areas discussed are Japan, Canada, France, Spain, and English speaking regions. In the second part, there will be papers on various topics on Japanese philosophy such as papers on Nishida, Kitaro, Kuki, Shuzo, Tanabe, Hajime, to contemporary thinker such as Sakabe, Megumi. These papers not only show the topics on Japanese philosophical debates but also are the potential of Japanese philosophical thoughts.

Shimmering Mirrors Patrick Laude, 2017-10-26. A study of comparative metaphysics that explores the concepts of Reality and Appearance and their relevance to contemporary religious consciousness. In this pioneering work of comparative metaphysics, Patrick Laude delves into Buddhist, Christian, Hindu, Islamic, and Jewish concepts of Reality and Appearance to offer a uniquely lucid exploration of metaphysical representations of reality, relativity, appearance, and illusion. Laude includes discussions of the Absolute and the Relative in Hindu Advaita Vedanta, Kashmiri Saivism, Sufi wahdat al wujūd, and Madhyamaka Buddhism; the metaphysics of salvation in Buddhist and Christian traditions; and the metaphysics of evil and the distinction between Reality and Appearance in the Jewish Kabbalah, Saivism, Christian mysticism, and the Sufi school of Ibn al Arab. The book explores how a discerning and subtle apprehension of the relationship between Reality and Appearance may help contemporary readers and seekers respond to the acute predicaments of contemporary religious and spiritual consciousness. I have rarely read a work that is so lucid in explaining complex philosophical theories across multiple traditions, so articulate in constructing concise ideas, and so strategic in assembling a framework for analysis. This is a unique and special work of comparative metaphysics rarely found in contemporary works on philosophies of religion. Lee Irwin, author of Alchemy of Soul: The Art of Spiritual Transformation.

Sociable Robots and the Future of Social Relations Raul Hakli, Marco

Nørskov,2014-12-15 The robotics industry is growing rapidly and to a large extent the development of this market sector is due to the area of social robotics the production of robots that are designed to enter the space of human social interaction both physically and semantically Since social robots present a new type of social agent they have been aptly classified as a disruptive technology i e the sort of technology which affects the core of our current social practices and might lead to profound cultural and social change Due to its disruptive and innovative potential social robotics raises not only questions about utility ethics and legal aspects but calls for robo philosophy the comprehensive philosophical reflection from the perspectives of all philosophical disciplines This book presents the proceedings of the first conference in this new area Robo Philosophy 2014 Sociable Robots and the Future of Social Relations held in Aarhus Denmark in August 2014 The short papers and abstracts collected here address questions of social robotics from the perspectives of philosophy of mind social ontology ethics meta ethics political philosophy aesthetics intercultural philosophy and metaphilosophy Social robotics is still in its early stages but it is precisely now that we need to reflect its possible cultural repercussions This book is accessible to a wide readership and will be of interest to everyone involved in the development and use of social robotics applications from social roboticists to policy makers Probing the Depths of Evil and Good Jerald D. Gort, Henry Jansen, H. M.

Vroom,2007 In the few years since the attack on the World Trade Center on September 11 2001 evil has become a central theme in the media and human consciousness the evil of terrorism the evil of secular culture concern for poverty and climate change Yet different cultures and religious traditions have different ideas of what evil is and what its root causes are Although there is no massive clash of cultures many disagreements and also conflicts in the world arise from the deep differences in views of evil This volume explores religious views of evil Scholars from different religions and from various parts of the world describe how people probe the depths of evil and by necessity that of good from their own background in various worldviews In their explorations almost all address the need to go beyond morality and beyond legalistic definitions of evil and of good They point to the radical depths of evil in the world and in human society and reinforce our intuition that there is no easy solution But if we can gain a better understanding of what people from other worldview traditions and cultures consider evil we are that much closer to a more peaceful world Marx and We Sun Zhengyu,2024-08-01 Marxist ideology is the only fully scientific ideology the only one able to guide mankind toward the settlement of fundamental social problems and to point out the royal road for the proletariat to take in its march toward socialism and communism Without Marxism modern people cannot establish true social ideals nor can they engage in the rational pursuit of values Without Marxism modern people cannot choose the correct path of development nor can they build up new forms of civilizations Without Marxism modern people would never base their commitments to schedule the consensus building effort and support the consensus building process on any irrefutably and sufficiently sound theoretical foundations
