Ttip The Truth About The Transatlantic Trade And Investment Partnership:

TTIP Ferdi De Ville, Gabriel Siles-Brügge, 2015-11-20 The Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership TTIP has stirred passions like no other trade negotiation in recent history Its supporters maintain that TTIP will produce spectacular growth and job creation claims that are wholeheartedly rejected by its critics who regard TTIP as a direct assault on workers rights health and safety standards and public services In this incisive analysis Gabriel Siles Brugge and Ferdi de Ville scrutinize the claims made by TTIP s cheerleaders and scaremongers to reveal a far more nuanced picture behind the headlines TTIP will not provide an economic cure all nor will it destroy the European welfare state in one fell swoop Thanks to unprecedented levels of protest and debate around TTIP however neoliberal trade negotiations are well and truly back in the spotlight In this respect TTIP could well prove to be a game changer just not in the way imagined by its backers The EU and the New Trade Bilateralism Finn Laursen, Christilla Roederer-Rynning, 2020-05-21 International trade policy including the trade policies of the European Union EU has become controversial in recent years This book illuminates the politicised process of the EU s contemporary trade negotiations The book uses the notion of contentious market regulation to examine contemporary EU Free Trade Agreements FTAs with industrialised countries the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership with the USA TTIP the Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement with Canada CETA the EU South Korea Agreement KOREU and the EU s agreement with Japan EU Japan It also analyses cross cutting issues affecting trade policy such as business dimensions social mobilisation parliamentary assertion and investment This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of European Integration Handbook on the EU and International Trade Sangeeta Khorana, María García, 2018-08-31 The Handbook on the EU and International Trade presents a multidisciplinary overview of the major perspectives actors and issues in contemporary EU trade relations Changes in institutional dynamics Brexit the politicisation of trade competing foreign policy agendas and adaptation to trade patterns of value chains and the digital and knowledge economy are reshaping the European Union s trade policy The authors tackle how these challenges frame the aims processes and effectiveness of trade policy making in the context of the EU s trade relations with developed developing and emerging states in the global economy Institutionalisation beyond the Nation State Elaine Fahey, 2018-04-26 This volume collects papers that explore institutionalisation in contemporary transatlantic relations Policymakers lawyers and political scientists reflect on contemporary understandings of the process as an integration of regimes and orders from an EU perspective The papers assess whether contemporary transatlantic relations call for a different approach to global governance with a heightened emphasis on institutionalisation The book explores a diverse range of case studies of interest to a broad readership In particular it focuses upon two cutting edge issues transatlantic data privacy rules that are emerging after the post Edward Snowden NSA PRISM revelations and trade aspects especially the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership TTIP Agreement The contributors consider these case studies from a variety of perspectives honing in on the dynamism method and high politics of transatlantic relations as they have recently evolved. They critically explore the commonly held assumption that transatlantic relations have historically been considered quasi-institutionalised at best or at worst lacking in terms of laws and institutions. Is institutionalisation a useful meeting point for all disciplines? Does it explain regional integration meaningfully across subjects? Can institutionalisation serve to promote accountability and good governance? Contributors across disciplines and subjects address these increasingly challenging and salient questions.

The Democratisation of EU International Relations Through EU Law Juan Santos Vara, Soledad Rodríguez Sánchez-Tabernero, 2018-07-27 Since the entry into force of the Treaty of Lisbon key improvements have occurred in the democratisation of EU international relations through the increased powers of the European Parliament. Nevertheless a comprehensive legal analysis of the new developments in democratic control of EU external action has not yet been performed. This book aims to improve the understanding of the set of mechanisms through which democratic control is exerted over EU external action in times of profound transformations of the legal and political architecture of the European integration process. It analyses the role of the Court of Justice in the democratisation of international relations through EU law and further provides a legal overview of the role of the European Parliament in the conduct of the EU's international relations. In those areas where the powers of the Parliament have greatly increased the book aims to raise questions as to whether this enhanced position has contributed to a more consistent external action. At the same time the book aims to contribute to the debate on judicial activism in connection with the democratisation of EU external action. It offers the reader a detailed and topical analysis of the recent developments in democratic control of external action which are of relevance in the daily practice of EU external relations lawyers including the topic of mixed agreements. This text will be of key interest to scholars and students working on EU external relations law, EU institutional law, European Union studies, politics, international relations and more broadly to policy makers and practitioners particularly to those with an interest on the European Parliament and the Court of Justice of the European Union.

Unintended Consequences of EU External Action Olga Burlyuk, Gergana Noutcheva, 2020-06-09 This book offers a conceptualisation of unintended consequences and addresses a set of common research questions highlighting the nature, what the causes, why and the modes of management, how of unintended consequences of the European Union's EU external action. The chapters in the book engage with conceptual and empirical dimensions of the topic as well as scholarly and policy implications thereof. They do so by looking at EU external action across various policy domains including trade, migration, development, state building, democracy promotion and rule of law reform and geographic areas including the USA, Russia, the Western Balkans, the southern and eastern European neighbourhood and Africa. The book contributes to the study of the EU as an international actor by broadening the notion of its impact abroad to include the unintended consequences of its in-actions and by shedding new light on the conceptual paradigms that explain EU external action. This book fills the gap in IR and EU scholarship concerning unintended consequences in an international context and will be of interest to anyone studying this important phenomenon It was originally published as a special issue of The International Spectator Italian Journal of International Affairs Chapters 1 3 7 8 and 9 are available Open Access at <https://www.routledge.com/products/9780367346492> NGOs and Global Trade Erin Hannah, 2016-01-29 In a deeply iniquitous world where the gains from trade are distributed unevenly and where trade rules often militate against progressive social values human health and sustainable development NGOs are widely touted as our best hope for redressing these conditions As a critical voice of the poor and marginalized many are engaged in a global struggle for democratic norms and social justice Yet the potential for NGOs to bring about meaningful change is limited This book examines whether improvements in participatory opportunities for progressive NGOs results in substantive and normative policy change in one of the major trading powers the European Union Hannah advances a constructivist account of the role of NGOs in the EU's trade policymaking process She argues that NGOs have been instrumental in providing education raising awareness and giving a voice to broader societal concerns about proposed trade deals both when they take advantage of formal participatory opportunities and when they protest from the streets and in the media However the book also highlights how NGO inputs are mediated by the social structure of global trade governance Epistemes the background knowledge ideological and normative beliefs and shared assumptions about how the world works determine who has a voice in global trade governance Showing how NGOs succeed only when their advocacy conforms broadly to the dominant episteme this book will be of value to scholars and students with an interest in NGOs and international trade negotiations It will also be of interest to policymakers national trade negotiators government departments and the trade policy community

Contesting Austerity and Free Trade in the EU Julia Rone, 2020-11-24 The book explores the diffusion of protest against austerity and free trade agreements in the wave of contention that shook the EU following the 2008 economic crisis It discusses how protests against austerity and free trade agreements manifested a wider discontent with the constitutionalization of economic policy and the way economic decisions have been insulated from democratic debate It also explores the differentiated politicization of these issues and the diffusion of protests across Western as well as Eastern Europe which has often been neglected in studies of the post crisis turmoil Julia Rone emphasizes that far from being an automatic spontaneous process protest diffusion is highly complex and its success or failure can be impacted by the strategic agency and media practices of key political players involved such as bottom up activists as well as trade unions political parties NGOs intellectuals and mainstream media This is an important resource for media and communications students and scholars with an interest in activism political economy social movement studies and protest movements The EU in International Negotiations Magdalena Frennhoff Larsén, 2023-02-24 This book which is aimed at scholars practitioners advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students seeks to contribute to the understanding of the EU as an international negotiator by analysing a number of external policy areas where the EU to a great extent engages internationally through negotiations including development trade enlargement and withdrawal Constitutionalism and Transnational Governance Failures ,2024-03-11 This book explores strategies for limiting transnational market failures governance failures and constitutional failures impeding protection of the universally agreed sustainable development goals like climate change mitigation and access to justice and transnational rule of law Can multilevel democratic and judicial protection of fundamental rights and public goods across frontiers be extended through plurilateral agreements Can transnational economic and environmental constitutionalism be reconciled with constitutional pluralism and with democratic constitutionalism depending on individual and democratic consent of free and equal citizens Will judicial challenges e g of EU carbon border adjustment measures and countermeasures lead to further disruption of UN and WTO law This innovative book provides convincing analyses by leading practitioners and academics of multilevel governance of transnational public goods It advocates the need for stronger involvement of civil society and democratic institutions It shows why constitutionalism and constitutional economics offer appropriate methodologies for limiting market failures government failures and constitutional failures It thereby offers a glimpse of much needed optimism Karl Ernst Brauner former Deputy Director General of the World Trade Organization WTO Civil Society, Rhetoric of Resistance, and Transatlantic Trade Leif Johan Eliasson,Patricia Garcia-Duran Huet,2019-03-20 This book investigates the politics of transatlantic trade specifically the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership negotiations Using a novel approach the authors analyze the rhetorical choices made by opponents and supporters of an agreement and the logical behind their arguments Opponents used emotive frames and strategically chosen issues to increase public opposition to the negotiations supporters countered but also accommodated parts of opponents rhetoric in hopes of quelling discontent The study also highlights the resulting changes to EU trade policy thus contributing to the literatures on trade policy politicization and rhetorical analysis The Political Economy of Normative Trade Power Europe Arlo Poletti,Daniela Sicurelli,2018-05-07 This book critically engages with a long tradition of scholarly work that conceives of the European Union as a peculiar international actor that pursues a value based normatively oriented and development friendly agenda in its relations with international partners The EU is a pivotal player in international trade relations holding formidable power in trade but also exercising substantial power through trade Trade policy therefore represents a strategic field for the EU to shape its image as a healthy economy and a global power In this field the EU has declared a twofold ambitious goal namely that of fostering economic growth in Europe while at the same time promoting development and growth abroad both in developed and developing countries In other words the EU aims to increase its competitiveness in world trade while acting as an ethical and normative power Here Poletti and Sicurelli explore the tension between these two roles Biosafety Measures, Technology Risks and the World Trade Organization Alessandra Guida,2022-12-23 This book examines the work of the World Trade Organization WTO with a focus on the capacity of its judiciary to strike a reasoned balance between free trade in biotechnology and biosafety as to promote the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and its Sustainable Development Goals By adopting an innovative interpretation of the precautionary principle and proportionality analysis the work offers normative suggestions to develop what the author terms a constructive bridge of knowledge between decision makers scientists social experts and expert witnesses which can support a judicial balance by design rather than by chance Biotechnology is sometimes regarded as a panacea for modern day challenges such as feeding a growing world population and counteracting climate change problems and a means of offering significant economic opportunities However biotechnology can present uncertain though serious risks to human health and the environment i e biosafety Trading biotech products magnifies these risks and benefits globally This book explores the topical though still underexplored question of how to find a point of equilibrium between the revolutionary advancement offered by technology and the need to safeguard biosafety from uncertain though potentially irreversible technology risks It offers a thorough analysis of normative judicial and epistemic issues hindering a reasoned balance between trade and non trade interests under the WTO The work offers practical relevance for the resolution of legal disputes in contexts of uncertainty as well as innovative theoretical contributions It will be a valuable resource for policymakers working on precautionary governance and management scholars in the areas of trade law human rights law and environmental law law students and practitioners as well as NGOs working in the field of new technologies biosafety sustainability and food safety

Governance and Politics in the Post-Crisis European Union Ramona Coman,Amandine Crespy,Vivien A. Schmidt,2020-08-27 The European Union of today cannot be studied as it once was This original new textbook provides a much needed update on how the EU s policies and institutions have changed in light of the multiple crises and transformations since 2010 An international team of leading scholars offer systematic accounts on the EU s institutional regime policies and its community of people and states Each chapter is structured to explain the relevant historical developments and institutional framework presenting the key actors the current controversies and discussing a paradigmatic case study Each chapter also provides ideas for group discussions and individual research topics Moving away from the typical neutral account of the functioning of the EU this textbook will stimulate readers critical thinking towards the EU as it is today It will serve as a core text for undergraduate and graduate students of politics and European studies taking courses on the politics of the EU and those taking courses in comparative politics and international organizations including the EU

States, International Organizations and Strategic Partnerships Lucyna Czechowska,Andriy Tyushka,Agata Domachowska,Karolina Gawron-Tabor,Joanna Piechowiak-Lamparska,2019 In post Cold War international relations strategic partnerships are an emerging and distinct analytical and political category critical in understanding the dynamics of contemporary strategic cooperation between states and International Organizations However the idea of strategic partnerships has remained under theorized and overshadowed by the alliance theory Addressing this clear cut gap in the International Relations Foreign Policy Analysis literature this book originally endeavors to theorize and empirically test the analytical model of strategic partnerships as a new form of sustainable international cooperation in times of globalized interdependence and turbulence

The Contestation of Expertise in the European Union Vigjilence Abazi, Johan Adriaensen, Thomas Christiansen, 2020-11-16 This book examines the position and role of expertise in European policy making and governance At a time when the very notion of expertise and expert advice is increasingly losing authority the book addresses these challenges by empirically examining specific administrative processes and institutional designs in the European Union The first part of the volume theorizes expertise and its contestation by examining accounts of the legitimate institutional design of knowledge production processes and exploring the theoretical links of Europeanisation and expertise The second part of the book delves into empirical institutionalist accounts of expertise and maps the role of experts in a variety of EU institutions but also explains the implications when EU bodies themselves are in an expert position such as agencies The book offers insights into how individual experts deal with the challenge of producing reports that will be heard by policy makers while at the same time preserving their independence Broadening its scope the book then expands the analysis to the role of advisory committees in light of the shift from a reliance primarily on in house expertise to including more external experts in advisory groups in the European Commission and European Parliament as well as at the European External Action In the third part the book opens the lens to developments beyond the EU by taking into account two highly pertinent fields climate change and trade These fields are highly complex fast developing and politicised issues and the book engages with them in order to provide an outside in perspective on expertise Chapter 6 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com
