Zooarchaeology Medieval Iberian Archaeological International:

Mediterranean Landscapes in Post Antiquity Sauro Gelichi, Lauro Olmo-Enciso, 2019-06-27 The study of landscape has in recent years been a field for considerable analytical archaeological experimentation Although the Mediterranean is the home of classicism it has seen the implementation of projects of this new kind and in regions of Spain and Italy after some delay the proliferation of landscape archaeology studies

The Archaeology of Peasantry in Roman Spain Jesús Bermejo Tirado, Ignasi Grau Mira, 2022-01-19 This volume aims to present an updated portrait of the Roman countryside in Roman Spain by the comparison of different theoretical orientations and methodological strategies including the discussion of textual and iconographic sources and the analysis of the faunal remains The archaeology of rural areas of the Roman world has traditionally been focused on the study of villae both as an architectural model of Roman otium and as the central core of an economic system based on the extensive agricultural exploitation of latifundia The assimilation of most rural settlements in provincial areas of the Roman Empire with the villa model implies the acceptance of specific ideas such as the generalization of the slave mode of production the rupture of the productive capacity of Late Iron Age communities or the reduction in importance of free peasant labor in the Roman economy of most rural areas However in recent decades as a consequence of the generalized extension of preventive or emergency archaeology and survey projects in most areas of the ancient territories of the Roman Empire this traditional conception of the Roman countryside articulated around monumental villae is undergoing a thorough revision New research projects are changing our current perception of the countryside of most parts of the Roman provincial world by assessing the importance of different types of rural settlements In the last years we have witnessed the publication of archaeological reports on the excavation of thousands of small rural sites farms farmsteads enclosures rural agglomerations of diverse nature etc One of the main consequences of all this research activity is a vigorous discussion of the paradigm of the slave mode of production as the basis of Roman rural economies in many provincial areas A similar change in the paradigm is taking place with some delay in the archaeology of Roman Spain After decades of preventive emergency interventions there is a considerable quantity of unpublished data on this kind of rural settlements However unlike the cases of Roman Britain or Gallia Comata no synthesis or national projects are undertaking the task of systematizing all these data With the intention of addressing this current situation the present volume discusses the results and methodological strategies of different projects studying peasant settlements in several regions of Roman Spain

People and Agrarian Landscapes: An Archaeology of Postclassical Local Societies in the Western Mediterranean Juan Antonio Quirós Castillo, Josu Narbarte Hernández, 2023-04-06 This book provides an overview of the driving theories methodologies and main topics that have been addressed to date regarding agrarian archaeology The text is presented as an introduction for students a critical reading guide for other scholars and an informative instrument aimed at a wide audience

Agrarian Archaeology in Northwestern Iberia Juan Antonio Quirós Castillo, 2023-04-06 Devoted to the archaeological study of the societies and agrarian landscapes of Northwestern Iberia in the long run this book brings together the results of some of the main projects carried out in recent decades from off site records providing a fresh perspective for the understanding of historical landscapes

Islamization and Archaeology José C. Carvajal López, 2023-05-04 This fresh approach to the study of Islamization proposes an innovative conceptual framework that treats the subject as a particular case of cultural change The aim of the volume is to make Islamization amenable to archaeological and historical analyses of changes in material conditions of life without forsaking the specific history of Islam Islam and Islamization must be understood in their particular social context but also in relation to the conditions that hold them together over large geographical and chronological expanses Archaeologists and historians have considered Islamization from a range of different perspectives from conversion to cultural change though these studies have tended to be underpinned by a normativist conception of Islam In contrast Jos C Carvajal Lopez takes a hermeneutical stance wherein Islam is the result of exploration and adopts a New Materialist theoretical analysis to explore Islamization and its impact on identities communities and their material culture The consequences for the study of Islamization are examined through examples that include some of the author's own experiences This innovative take on Islamization is not exclusively interested in the spread of the religion or of the polity and therefore it overcomes the theoretical limits imposed by the concepts of religious conversion and ideological imposition This book will appeal to scholars interested in associating cultural and religious change and in particular those working on Islam whether within or outside the discipline of archaeology
