The Dog's Book of Verse (Classic Reprint) J. Earl Clauson, 2017-11-24 Excerpt from The Dog's Book of Verse Matthew Arnold explaining why those were his most popular poems which dealt with his canine pets Geist Kaiser and Max said that while comparatively few loved poetry nearly everyone loved dogs The literature of the anglo saxon is rich in tributes to the dog as becomes a race which beyond any other has understood and developed its four footed companions Canine heroes whose intelligence and faithfulness our prose writers have celebrated start to the memory in scores Bill Sykes's white shadow which refused to be separated from its master even by death Rab savagely devoted the immortal Bob son of battle true souls all with hardly a villain among them for artistic contrast Even Red Wull the killer we admire for his courage and loyalty Within these covers is a selection from a large body of dog verse It is a selection made on the principle of human appeal Dialect and the poems of the earlier writers whose diction strikes oddly on our modern ears have for the most part been omitted The place of such classics as may be missed is filled by that vagrant verse which is often most truly the power of inspiration About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
