Congressional Record United States. Congress,1956 Shades of Gray L. Parker Temple,2005 In this work Temple tracks the evolution of space reconnaissance systems from their seeds in the painful lessons of Pearl Harbor through the challenges of today book cover Hearings Before the Subcommittee on Public Buildings and Grounds of the Committee on Public Works, House of Representatives ... United States. Congress. House. Committee on Public Works,1947 The Benign Aristocrats David Potter,2022-10-31 The years 1951 to 1964 were years of undeniable prosperity and progress They were the years in which Conservative Governments decided not to dismantle Labour s National Health Service and Welfare State and for this they must be given a certain amount of credit The four prime ministers concerned were all from an aristocratic background but they had learned very quickly that times had changed and that they had to change with them The result was that these years and the periods of Labour rule before and after saw possibly the best governance that Britain has ever experienced This book written from an uncompromising Socialist and working class background gives a great deal of credit to the benign aristocrats but does not minimise their failures in particular the Suez affair of 1956 People v. Milhem, 350 MICH 497 (1957) ,1957 68 New York Court of Appeals. Records and Briefs. New York (State). Dienesch,2016-04 In 1954 the U S Air Force launched an ambitious program known as WS 117L to develop the world s first reconnaissance satellite The goal was to take photographic images from space and relay them back to Earth via radio Because of technical issues and bureaucratic resistance however WS 117L was seriously behind schedule by the time Sputnik orbited Earth in 1957 and was eventually cancelled The air force began concentrating instead on new programs that eventually launched the first successful U S spy satellites Eyeing the Red Storm examines the birth of space based reconnaissance not from the perspective of CORONA the first photo reconnaissance satellite to fly but rather from that of the WS 117L Robert M Dienesch s revised assessment places WS 117L within the larger context of Dwight D Eisenhower s presidency focusing on the dynamic between military and civilian leadership Dienesch demonstrates how WS 117L promised Eisenhower not merely military intelligence but also the capacity to manage national security against the Soviet threat As a fiscal conservative Eisenhower believed a strong economy was the key to surviving the Cold War and saw satellite reconnaissance as a means to understand the Soviet military challenge more clearly and thus keep American defense spending under control Although WS 117L never flew it provided the foundation for all subsequent satellites breaking theoretical barriers and helping to overcome major technical hurdles which ensured the success of America s first working reconnaissance satellites and their photographic missions during the Cold War Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary United States.
