Farmers decry House rejection of aid bill

Stephenville farmers are expressing their disappointment over the House rejection of a bill that would have provided $1 billion in additional aid to the state's agricultural sector. The bill, which was introduced by Rep. [Name], was defeated by a vote of 215 to 207 in the House of Representatives.

The bill would have provided $1 billion in additional aid to the state's agricultural sector, which is currently facing significant challenges due to drought and low commodity prices. Farmers are concerned that the rejection of the bill will further exacerbate their financial difficulties.
