Materials, Methods, and Masterpieces of Medieval Art Janetta Rebold Benton, 2009-08-27 A comprehensive and informed analysis explores the startlingly diverse and sophisticated fine arts in the Middle Ages Materials Methods and Masterpieces of Medieval Art provides a comprehensive and detailed analysis of the work done by artists in western Europe during the Middle Ages Art historian Janetta Rebold Benton uses examples such as the Book of Kells Bury Saint Edmunds Cross and the Bayeux Tapestry and the work of artists such as Jan van Eyck and Giotto to explore the various media available to medieval artists and the ways in which those media were used to create a stunning array of masterworks Although the visual arts of the Middle Ages were extremely colorful today much of that color has diminished or disappeared the pigments and threads faded the gold abraded the silver tarnished Materials Methods and Masterpieces of Medieval Art allows these works to sparkle once more The Use of Hereford William Smith, 2017-05-15 The Use of Hereford a local variation of the Roman rite was one of the diocesan liturgies of medieval England before their abolition and replacement by the Book of Common Prayer in 1549 Unlike the widespread Use of Sarum the Use of Hereford was confined principally to its diocese which helped to maintain its individuality until the Reformation This study seeks to catalogue and evaluate all the known surviving sources of the Use of Hereford with particular reference to the missals and gradual which so far have received little attention In addition to these a variety of other material has been examined including a number of little known or unknown important fragments of early Hereford service books dismembered at the Reformation and now hidden away as binding or other scrap in libraries and record offices This is the fullest examination of Hereford liturgical sources ever undertaken and may stimulate similar and much needed studies of other diocesan uses in particular Sarum and York As well as describing in detail the various manuscript sources the rare single edition printed Hereford texts the missals and breviaries are also discussed Unlike books of the Sarum and York rites these one offs were never revised and reissued In addition to the examination of these sources William Smith discusses the possible origins of the rite and provides an analysis of the Hereford liturgical calendar of the festa including those of the cathedral s patron St Ethelbert and the no less famous St Thomas Cantilupe that helped to make Hereford use so distinctive

Medieval Disability Sourcebook Cameron Hunt McNabb,2020

The field of disability studies significantly contributes to contemporary discussions of the marginalization of and social justice for individuals with disabilities However what of disability in the past The Medieval Disability Sourcebook Western Europe explores what medieval texts have to say about disability both in their own time and for the present This interdisciplinary volume on medieval Europe combines historical records medical texts and religious accounts of saints lives and miracles as well as poetry prose drama and manuscript images to demonstrate the varied and complicated attitudes medieval societies had about disability Far from recording any monolithic understanding of disability in the Middle Ages these contributions present a striking range of voices to from and about those with disabilities and such diversity only confirms how disability permeated and permeates every aspect of life The Medieval Disability Sourcebook is designed for use inside the undergraduate or graduate classroom or by scholars interested in learning more about medieval Europe as it intersects with the field of disability studies Most texts are presented in modern English though some are preserved in Middle English and many are given in side by side translations for greater study Each entry is prefaced with an academic introduction to disability within the text as well as a bibliography for further study This sourcebook is the first in a proposed series focusing on disability in a wide range of premodern cultures histories and geographies

From Codicology to Technology Stefanie Brinkmann,2009-01-01 Kongressakten Freiburg im Breisgau 2007

"Women, Manuscripts and Identity in Northern Europe, 1350?550 " JoniM. Hand,2017-07-05 Author Joni M Hand sheds light on the reasons women of the Valois courts from the mid fourteenth to the mid sixteenth century commissioned devotional manuscripts Visually interpreting the non text elements portraits coats of arms and marginalia as well as the texts Hand explores how the manuscripts were used to express the women s religious political and or genealogical concerns This study is arranged thematically according to the method in which the owner is represented Recognizing the considerable influence these women had on the appearance of their books Hand interrogates how the manuscripts became a means of self expression beyond the realm of devotional practice She reveals how noblewomen used their private devotional manuscripts as vehicles for self definition to reflect familial political and social concerns and to preserve the devotional and cultural traditions of their families Drawing on documentation of women s book collections that has been buried within the inventories of their fathers husbands or sons Hand explores how these women contributed to the cultural and spiritual character of the courts and played an integral role in the formation and evolution of the royal libraries in Northern Europe

New Approaches to the Archive in the Middle Ages Emily N. Savage, 2024-03-25 This volume brings together scholars of history manuscript studies and art and architectural history to examine in conversation the varieties of medieval archival acts the heterogeneity of collections and the motivations of collectors It is united by the historically flexible concept of the archive and contributors examine material from Seville to Prague from the early Christian period through the Reformation Premodern collections and archival practices are increasingly becoming the subject of academic inquiry Chapter authors investigate how institutional communal and familial identity accrued to material culture including illuminated manuscripts ecclesiastic vestments ancient sarcophagi and reliquaries Others examine the social impulses behind the documentation of such collections namely through the creation of inventories but also in the production management and use of parchment records including cartularies estate records and legal documents Finally contributors question how medieval people evaluated historical age and outmoded artistic styles shaped and promoted collective memory through preservation display and ritual and attached value both monetary and symbolic to their collections The volume is cross disciplinary and will appeal to a variety of readers both in and out of academia Curators librarians and archivists working with medieval collections will find it valuable as will heritage professionals and charities involved in the care of properties which presently or formerly contained medieval treasures libraries and archives

Re-using Manuscripts in Late Medieval England Hannah Ryley, 2022 A fresh appraisal of late medieval manuscript culture in England examining the ways in which people sustained older books exploring the practices and processes by which manuscripts were crafted mended protected marked gifted and shared During the long fifteenth century here 1375 1530 the demand for books in England flourished The fast developing book trade produced them in great quantity Fragments of manuscripts were often repurposed as flyleaves and other components such as palimpsests and alongside the creation of new books medieval manuscripts were also repaired recycled and re used This monograph examines the ways in which people sustained older books exploring the practices and processes by which manuscripts were crafted mended protected marked gifted and shared Drawing on the codicological evidence gathered from an extensive survey of extant manuscript collections in conjunction with historical accounts recipes and literary texts it presents detailed case studies exploring parchment production and recycling the re use of margins and second hand exchanges of books Its engagement with the evidence in and inscribed on surviving books enables a fresh appraisal of late medieval manuscript culture in England looking at how people went about re using books and arguing that over the course of this period books were made used and re used in a myriad of sustainable ways

Form and Power in Medieval and Early Modern Literature Daniel G. Donoghue, Daniel Donoghue, Sebastian Sobiecki, Nicholas Watson, 2024 New and exciting scholarship on medieval and early modern English culture in all its diversity This book honours James Simpson an enormously influential figure in English literary studies Known for championing once neglected writers such as Gower Hoccleve and Lydgate Simpson has also pioneered the field of Trans Reformation studies dismantling the barrier between the medieval and early modern periods He has written powerfully about the history of freedoms the relationship between literary and intellectual history and about the category of the literary itself in all its urgency Inspired by Simpson's interventions the essays collected here deal with texts and topics from the eighth to the seventeenth centuries Langland's Piers Plowman and Chaucer's Physician's Tale and Troilus and Criseyde rub shoulders with Old English riddles Saint Erkenwald The Digby Lyrics Lydgate's Dietary and Lodge's Robert the Devil Revisionist studies of two much debated genres allegory and romance join forces with chapters on neglected physical features of early books line fillers and catchwords as well as studies of iconoclasm and the histories of enemy love The volume begins with a piece by the honoree himself on recognition in literary texts The Harley Psalter William Noel, 1995 A study of the making of the Harley Psalter at Christ Church Canterbury c 1020-1130

Performing Manuscript Culture Elisabeth Kempf, 2016-12-19 This study conceives of Thomas Hoccleve's Regement of Princes 1410-1413 as an essentially performative text one that expresses its awareness of the manuscript culture in which it is so firmly rooted The openness of manuscripts is a recurring subject in the Regement and is not only expressed through mere descriptions of but through complex references to this manuscript context Performances of manuscript culture manifest themselves in several aspects of the text The first is the narrator persona and especially the question of how persona and text are intertwined The second is the constantly recurring interpretation of quotes from authoritative sources that pervades the Regement This urge to interpret is expressed both in the tradition of adding marginal glosses and in the process of subjecting the text to an exegetical reading The third aspect is the relation between text and images in the Regement's manuscripts which shows how mediality is performed and how the manuscript context is made the focus of this performance In this monograph all of these aspects are studied in a mindset that combines the concept of performativity with the postulations of Material Philology Illuminating the Border of French and Flemish Manuscripts, 1270-1310 Lisa Moore Hunt, 2013-10-14 This study first examines the marginal repertoire in two well known manuscripts the Psalter of Guy de Dampierre and an Arthurian Romance within their material and codicological contexts This repertoire then provides a template for an extended study of the marginal motifs that appear in eighteen related manuscripts which range from a Bible to illustrated versions of the encyclopedias of Vincent de Beauvais and Brunetto Latini Considering the manuscript as a whole work of art the marginalia's physical relationship to nearby texts and images can shed light on the reception of these illuminated books by their medieval viewers Women of the Bible Guadalupe Seijas, 2022-06-16 The Hebrew Bible and art reside at the core of this book which analyzes the iconographic representation of several women of the Bible The contributors consider the ways in which the biblical texts regarding these women had been read and understood throughout time and the means by which they were represented Each study also explores the different values associated with these representations according to the problems worries and concerns of each period Drawing upon disciplines such as theology philology or history of art the essays within this volume provide a cross sectional plural and rich approach In focusing upon iconographic representation numerous visual cultures of the last millennium are explored and special emphasis is placed upon several integral biblical women such as Bathsheba Moses mother the Pharaoh s Daughter Ruth Naomi and Deborah and their lasting influence upon Western art and culture This book pursues an understanding of the history of the transmission and reception of the Bible in general and of the women of the Old Testament in particular

Literary Research and the Anglo-Saxon and Medieval Eras Dustin Booher, Kevin B. Gunn, 2020-02-20 Literary Research and the Anglo Saxon and Medieval Eras Strategies and Sources is a guide to scholarly research in the field of medieval English literature covering the period 450 CE to 1500 CE Graduate students and scholars researching this period face many challenges working in two distinct literary traditions comprehending multiple languages Old English Middle English Latin Anglo Norman and French knowing the manuscript tradition for a particular title and the research methodologies for discovering and locating primary sources in the print and digital realms and the awareness of the overlap and assimilation of literary themes with religious historical cultural and political perspectives The volume presents the best practices for building a foundation of sound scholarship practices in the field of medieval English literature This volume explores primary and secondary resources including general literary research guides types of library catalogs print and online bibliographies and indexes scholarly journals and series manuscripts archives and digital collections genres tools for understanding Old and Middle English such as dictionaries lexicons thesauri glosses etymologies palaeographies and text mining tools and Web resources The final chapter researches the shifting reputation of the poet Thomas Hoccleve Given the interdisciplinary nature of medieval studies an appendix of additional readings in art history music philosophy religion science social sciences and theater is provided

Instructional Writing in English, 1350-1650 Carrie Griffin, 2019-05-20 Exploring the nature of utilitarian texts in English transmitted from the later Middle Ages to c 1650 this volume considers textual and material strategies for the presentation and organisation of written knowledge and information during the period In particular it investigates the relationship between genre and material form in Anglophone written knowledge and information with specific reference to that which is usually classified as practical or utilitarian Carrie Griffin examines textual and material evidence to argue for the disentangling of hitherto mixed genres and forms and the creation of new texts as unexplored effects of the arrival of the printing press in the late fifteenth century Griffin interrogates the texts at the level of generic markers frameworks and structures and studies transmission and dissemination in print the nature of and attitudes to printed books and the audiences they reached in order to determine shifting attitudes to books and texts Learning and Information from Manuscript to Print makes a significant contribution to the study of so called non literary textual genres and their transmission circulation and reception in manuscript and in early modern printed books Cultural History of Reading Sara E. Quay,Gabrielle R. Watling,2008-11-30 What is it about some books that makes them timeless Cultural History of Reading looks at books from their earliest beginnings through the present day in both the U S and regions all over the world Not only fiction and literature but religious works dictionaries scientific works and home guides such as Mrs Beeton s all have had an impact on not only their own time and place but continue to capture the attention of readers today Volume 1 examines the history of books in regions throughout the world identifying both literature and nonfiction that was influenced by cultural events of its time Volume 2 identifies books from the pre colonial era to the present day that have had lasting significance in the United States History students and book lovers alike will enjoy discovering the books that have impacted our world Narrative Illustration in Persian Lithographed Books Ulrich Marzolph,2020-10-12 This study surveys a distinctive type of the Islamic book which has been largely neglected in previous scholarship the genre of illustrated lithographed books produced in nineteenth and early twentieth century Iran In addition to introducing the history of printing in Iran and surveying the investigated sources the study supplies basic data on genres of illustrated books artists active in lithographic illustration and aspects germane to this particular field of art The documentation includes bibliographical references for 116 illustrated books in a total of 351 particular editions and 150 plates with several hundred single illustrations Lithographic illustration in Iran constitutes the legitimate successor to manuscript illustration both in content and style Contrasting with the latter s refinement lithographed illustrations were produced in large numbers and served as a powerful medium of popular iconography Beyond the Monastery Walls Warren C. Brown,2022-12-29 Our understanding of life in the early Middle Ages is dominated by Christian churches and monasteries It is their records and libraries which have survived the centuries to tell us how the clerics monks and nuns who lived and worked within their walls experienced the world around them We thus see the lay inhabitants of that wider world mostly when they are interacting with the clergy However a few sources let us explore lay life in this period more broadly Beyond the Monastery Walls exploits perhaps the richest of these manuscript books containing formulas or models for documents that do not otherwise survive Through these books Warren C Brown explores the concerns and behavior of lay men and women in this period on their own terms and casts fresh light on a part of the medieval world that is usually hidden from view In the process he shows how early medievalists are winning fresh information from our sources by looking at them in new ways
