Impress Them on Your Children Charleton D. King, 2023-12-19 It was a slow realization over many years that I had been living a divided life as a Christian teaching in the public school system I had no problem teaching at a public school myself but I simultaneously refused to send my children to the same school because I didn't want them exposed to what was taught there. The inconsistency was clear in the minds of others when they found out that I homeschooled my children but it took years for it to become clear to me. After a decade in teaching I felt convicted to resign. This book recounts the several moments and realizations that led up to my decision to leave public education.

Justification as the Speech of the Spirit Jeffrey K. Anderson, 2021-08-10

In the past few decades there have been an increasing number of authors and movements that reject the classic Protestant understanding of justification e.g. the New Perspective on Paul, Auburn Avenue Theology, the Renewal Movement etc. While the various proposals differ in many respects they are generally united in their rejection of justification as a legal declaration made by the Father about the believer based on the work of the Son. In particular among renewal, Pentecostal, Charismatic authors there have been several attempts to redefine justification insisting that it is an umbrella term incorporating numerous redemptive ideas rather than a declaration of the believer's righteousness. These attempts are in part rooted in the absence of any overt pneumatology in the doctrine's typical formulation. One need only read the above sentences to see that there is no mention of the Holy Spirit. This book addresses these and other concerns especially by renewal authors and demonstrates that the doctrine is in fact pneumatologically informed albeit latently rather than blatantly. As a result there is no need to redefine the theology of the Reformers and their successors.
