Bordered Cities and Divided Societies Scott A. Bollens, 2021-03-18 Bordered Cities and Divided Societies is a provocative moving and poetic encounter with the hearts and minds of individuals living in nine cities of conflict violence and healing Jerusalem Belfast Johannesburg Nicosia Sarajevo Mostar Barcelona Bilbao and Beirut Based on research spanning 25 years including 360 interviews and over two and a half years of in country field research this innovative work employs a series of concise reflective narrative essays grouped into four thematic sections to provide a humanistic on the ground understanding of divided cities conflict and peacemaking Incorporating both scholarly analyses based on empirical research and introspective essays Bollens digs underneath grand narratives of conflict to illuminate the complexities and paradoxes of living amid nationalistic political strife and the challenges of planning and policymaking in divided societies Richly illustrated the book includes informative synopses about the cities that provide access for general readers while extensive connections to recent literature enhance the book's research value to scholars

The Order of Victimhood Sarah E. Jankowitz, 2018-10-03 This book explores how the construction and contestation of victims in societies emerging from conflict impact processes of peacebuilding It locates its inquiry in Northern Ireland where highly politicized unresolved narratives of violence and a so called hierarchy of victims illuminate inherent paradoxes of victimhood in intergroup conflict The author critiques how mechanisms designed to address the legacy of conflict often reify exclusive victim and perpetrator identities and obscure complex harm Adopting an interdisciplinary lens the book examines how the image of the ideal victim interacts with intergroup processes in a polarizing and intractable victim perpetrator paradigm The analysis of these issues in Northern Ireland suggests that exclusive policies and mechanisms reinforce rather than repair societal divisions and that inclusive complex approaches to victimhood are necessary to build sustainable peace This book will be of particular interest to scholars of peace studies transitional justice and criminology

Painting History Tony Crowley, 2025-09-16 Painting History The Murals of Northern Ireland 1908 2024 is the first book length study of the oldest and most enduring tradition of political wall art Tony Crowley shows how muralism became an important medium for the unionist and loyalist community in its political domination of public space before and after Partition The text also demonstrates that nationalists and republicans painted few murals before the start of the 1981 Hunger Strike during which they painted wall art across republican areas of Northern Ireland as a way of publicizing their cause In the context of a divided society by the mid 1980s murals had become an established genre for the expression of political demands and aspirations In Painting History Tony Crowley provides a detailed analysis of the complex tradition of muralism in the context of the history that produced it with particular attention given to the cultural politics of this remarkable form The book also raises and discusses a series of theoretical questions about murals and muralism that transcend Northern Ireland issues of propriety and legality form and content authority and censorship The work ends with a consideration of the future of the murals in a still polarized but changing region

Unfinished Peace Brian Rowan, 2015 In this landmark book veteran journalist and commentator Brian Rowan explores a still unfinished peace examining the conflict period with the benefit of hindsight and highlighting the issues which still dominate our present He is assisted by a ground breaking collection of newly written accounts from key individuals including public figures loyalists and republicans those working behind the scenes and the ordinary people who have experienced loss and hurt Page 4 of cover Incomplete Secession after Unresolved Conflicts Ana Maria Albulescu, 2021-10-20 This book analyses cases of incomplete secession after separatist wars and what this means for relations between central governments and de facto states The work explores the interplay between violence and power by examining the micro dynamics inherent in the process of escalation between separatists and central governments These dynamics affect not only the security interactions between these entities but also the character of political and governance relations that are built in the aftermath of secessionist war The book provides comprehensive analyses of the evolution of post conflict relations between the Republic of Moldova and Transnistria and between Georgia and South Ossetia and Abkhazia Beyond these empirical and conceptual examples the book contributes to a key debate in International Relations that addresses the relationship between democratisation nationalism and violence and its applicability to the study of escalation in the post Soviet space This book will be of much interest to students of secession statehood conflict studies democratisation post Soviet politics and International Relations in general Chapter 2 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
