The Angel in the Marketplace Ellen Wayland-Smith,2020-09-01 The popular image of a midcentury adwoman is of a feisty girl beating men at their own game a female Horatio Alger protagonist battling her way through the sexist workplace But before the fictional rise of Peggy Olson or the real life stories of Patricia Tierney and Jane Maas came Jean Wade Rindlaub a female power broker who used her considerable success in the workplace to encourage other women to stick to their kitchens The Angel in the Marketplace is the story of one of America s most accomplished advertising executives It is also the story of how advertisers like Rindlaub sold a postwar American dream of capitalism and a Christian corporate order Rindlaub was responsible for award winning mega sales generating advertisements for all things domestic including Oneida silverware Betty Crocker cake mix Campbell s soup and Chiquita bananas Her success largely came from embracing rather than subverting the cultural expectations of women She believed her responsibility as an advertiser was not to spring women from their trap but to make that trap more comfortable Rindlaub wasn t just selling silverware and cakes she was selling the virtues of free enterprise By following the arc of Rindlaub s career from the 1920s through the 1960s we witness how a range of cultural narratives advertising chief among them worked powerfully to shape women s emotional and economic behavior in support of the free market system Alongside Rindlaub s story Ellen Wayland Smith provides a riveting history of how women were repeatedly sold the idea that their role as housewives was more powerful and more patriotic than any outside the home And by buying into the image of morality through an unregulated market many of these women helped fuel backlash against economic regulation and socialization efforts throughout the twentieth century The Angel in the Marketplace is a nuanced portrayal of a complex woman one who both shaped and reflected the complicated cultural political and religious forces defining femininity in America at mid century This compelling account of one of advertising s most fervent believers is a tale of a Mad Woman we haven t been told

Obesity: Pathology and Therapy Dean H. Lockwood,Thomas G. Heffner,2012-12-06 Obesity is a serious medical problem that affects millions of people especially in Western societies Although long considered a complicating factor in a variety of diseases there is now widespread agreement that obesity itself should be classified and treated as a disease and that it has important consequences for personal health quality of life and cost to society Understanding obesity and the means of treating it have been hampered in the past There have been misperceptions that obesity is a behavioral disorder and that its treatments provides only cosmetic benefits Pharmacologic approaches to treatment have suffered from problems of limited efficacy reduced activity upon chronic use and serious side effects including abuse liability cardiac disease hypertension and respiratory complications Finally there has been a proliferation of consumer and natural products with unproven benefits This book attempts to address both the problems associated with obesity and the approaches to treating it In the first section devoted to pathology Drs DIGIROLAMO HARP and STEVENS elaborate in Chap 1 on how obesity and its medical complications develop As described by Dr PI SUNYER in Chap 2 obesity is a disease seen most often in affluent Western societies and is associated with the aforementioned medical problems as well as Type II diabetes mellitus and gallbladder disease Drs CHAGNON PERUSSE and BOUCHARD review the human genetics of obesity in Chap 3 and Drs Biotechnology, 1971 Biotechnological problems of man machine systems required for long duration space flights The Action Plan for Australian Mammals 2012 Andrew Burbidge, John Woinarski, Peter Harrison, 2014-06-02 The Action Plan for Australian Mammals 2012 is the first review to assess the conservation status of all Australian mammals It complements The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2010 Garnett et al 2011 CSIRO Publishing and although the number of Australian mammal taxa is marginally fewer than for birds the proportion of endemic extinct and threatened mammal taxa is far greater These authoritative reviews represent an important foundation for understanding the current status fate and future of the nature of Australia This book considers all species and subspecies of Australian mammals including those of external territories and territorial seas For all the mammal taxa about 300 species and subspecies considered Extinct Threatened Near Threatened or Data Deficient the size and trend of their population is presented along with information on geographic range and trend and relevant biological and ecological data The book also presents the current conservation status of each taxon under Australian legislation what additional information is needed for managers and the required management actions Recovery plans where they exist are evaluated The voluntary participation of more than 200 mammal experts has ensured that the conservation status and information are as accurate as possible and allowed considerable unpublished data to be included All accounts include maps based on the latest data from Australian state and territory agencies from published scientific literature and other sources The Action Plan concludes that 29 Australian mammal species have become extinct and 63 species are threatened and require urgent conservation action However it also shows that where guided by sound knowledge management capability and resourcing and longer term commitment there have been some notable conservation success stories and the conservation status of some species has greatly improved over the past few decades The Action Plan for Australian Mammals 2012 makes a major contribution to the conservation of a wonderful legacy that is a significant part of Australia's heritage For such a legacy to endure our society must be more aware of and empathetic with our distinctively Australian environment and particularly its marvellous mammal fauna relevant information must be readily accessible environmental policy and law must be based on sound evidence those with responsibility for environmental management must be aware of what priority actions they should take the urgency for action and consequences of inaction must be clear and the opportunity for hope and success must be recognised It is in this spirit that this account is offered Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1973-10 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the
