Reinventing (with) Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies Andrea Alden, Kendall Gerdes, Judy Holiday, Ryan Skinnell, 2019-10-21 Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies collects original scholarship that takes up and extends the practices of inventive theorizing that characterize Sharon Crowley's body of work Including sixteen chapters by established and emerging scholars and an interview with Crowley the book shows that doing theory is a contingent and continual rhetorical process that is indispensable for understanding situations and their potential significance and for discovering the available means of persuasion For Crowley theory is a basic building block of rhetoric produced by and within specific times and locations as a means of opening other ways of believing or acting Doing theory in this sense is the practice of surveying the common sense of the community doxa and discovering the available means of persuasion invention The ultimate goal of doing theory is not to prescribe certain actions but to ascertain what options exist for rhetors to see the world differently to discover new possibilities for thought and action and thereby to effect change in the world The scholarship collected in Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies takes Crowley's notion of theory as an invitation to develop new avenues for believing and acting By reinventing the understanding of theory and its role in the field this collection makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetorical studies and writing studies It will be valuable to scholars teachers and students interested in diverse theoretical directions in rhetoric and writing studies as well as in race gender and disability theories religious

A Language and Power Reader Robert Eddy, Victor Villanueva, 2014-09-15 A Language and Power Reader organizes reading and writing activities for undergraduate students guiding them in the exploration of racism and cross racial rhetorics Introducing texts written from and about versions of English often disrespected by mainstream Americans A Language and Power Reader highlights English dialects and discourses to provoke discussions of racialized relations in contemporary America Thirty selected readings in a range of genres and from writers who work in alternative voices e g Pidgin African American Language discourse of international and transnational English speakers focus on disparate power relations based on varieties of racism in America and how those relations might be displayed imposed or resisted across multiple rhetorics The book also directs student participation and discourse Each reading is followed by comments and guides to help focus conversation Research has long shown that increasing a student s metalinguistic awareness improves a student s writing No other reader available at this time explores the idea of multiple rhetorics or encourages their use making A Language and Power Reader a welcome addition to writing classrooms Policy Regimes Tyler S.

Branson,2022-04-20 Engaging education policy from kindergarten to college Author Tyler S Branson argues that education reform initiatives in the twentieth century can be understood in terms of historical shifts in the ideas interests and governing arrangements that inform the teaching of writing Today policy regimes of accountability shape education reform programs such as Common Core in K 12 and Dual Enrollment in postsecondary institutions This book reopens the conversation between policy makers and writing teachers empirically describing the field s institutional historical relationship to policy and the ways teachers work on a daily basis to carry out policy Federal and state accountability policy significantly shapes classrooms before teachers even enter them but Branson argues the classroom is where teachers leverage disciplinary knowledge about writing to bridge partner with support and sometimes resist education policies Branson deftly blends policy critique archival analysis and participant observation to offer the first scholarly treatment of the National Council of Teachers of English NCTE Washington Task Force as well as a rare empirical study of a dual enrollment course offered in a high school This book s macro and micro level analysis of education policy reveals how writing teachers researchers and administrators can strengthen their commitments to successfully teaching their students across all levels of education while deepening their understanding of the ways education policy helps and hinders those commitments Re-Membering History in Student and Teacher Learning Joyce E. King, Ellen E. Swartz, 2014-03-05 What kind of social studies knowledge can stimulate a critical and ethical dialog with the past and present Re-Membering History in Student and Teacher Learning answers this question by explaining and illustrating a process of historical recovery that merges Afrocentric theory and principles of culturally informed curricular practice to reconnect multiple knowledge bases and experiences In the case studies presented K 12 practitioners teacher educators preservice teachers and parents use this praxis to produce and then study the use of democratized student texts they step outside of reproducing standard school experiences to engage in conscious inquiry about their shared present as a continuance of a shared past This volume exemplifies not only why instructional materials including most so called multicultural materials obstruct democratized knowledge but also takes the next step to construct and then study how re-membered student texts can be used Case study findings reveal improved student outcomes enhanced relationships between teachers and families and teachers and students and a closer connection for children and adults to their heritage Desegregation State Annie S. Mendenhall, 2022-04-15 The only book length study of the ways that postsecondary desegregation litigation and policy affected writing instruction and assessment in US colleges Desegregation State provides a history of federal enforcement of higher education desegregation and its impact on writing programs from

1970 to 1988 Focusing on the University System of Georgia and two of its public colleges in Savannah one a historically segregated white college and the other a historically Black college Annie S Mendenhall shows how desegregation enforcement promoted and shaped writing programs by presenting literacy remediation and testing as critical to desegregation efforts in southern and border states Formerly segregated state university systems crafted desegregation plans that gave them more control over policies for admissions remediation and retention These plans created literacy requirements admissions and graduation tests remedial classes and even writing centers and writing across the curriculum programs that reshaped the landscape of college writing instruction and denied the demands of Black students civil rights activists and historically Black colleges and universities for major changes to university systems This history details the profound influence of desegregation and resistance to desegregation on the ways that writing is taught and assessed in colleges today Desegregation State provides WPAs and writing teachers with a disciplinary history for understanding racism in writing assessment and writing programs Mendenhall brings emerging scholarship on the racialization of institutions into the field showing why writing studies must pay more attention to how writing programs have institutionalized racist literacy ideologies through arguments about student placement individualized writing instruction and writing assessment

Toward Critical Multimodality Katarina Silvestri, Nichole Barrett, Tiffany M. Nyachae, 2023-06-01 This edited volume seeks to answer the question What does it mean to be a critical multimodal scholar in educational spaces Toward Critical Multimodality highlights how choices made throughout multimodal design and research processes are critically oriented and inextricably linked to power We show how social semiotics and multimodality inform engagement with criticality in educational spaces through questioning dominant narratives e g white cisheteropatriarchal ableist classist perspectives exploring relationships between selves and space problematizing and reimagining educational practices and dreaming of educational futures that are just anti oppressive and with room for all to thrive while learning These chapters demonstrate how studying multiple modalities in interaction e g image writing color spatial layout gaze proxemics gestures can reveal how power operates provide students with opportunities to explore themselves and their identities with respect to power and provide a vehicle for scholars to disrupt and transform oppressive educational practices Furthermore multiple chapters show alternative ways to display construct and share knowledge as transformative pedagogical practice in learning environments We reframe social semiotics and multimodality as an integral part of decentering dominant ideas of power and what counts as purposeful meaning making by highlighting how criticality and multimodality integrate theoretically and methodologically

Purposeful Teaching and Learning in Diverse Contexts Darrell Hucks, Yolanda Sealey-Ruiz, Victoria Showunmi, Suzanne C. Carothers, Chance W. Lewis, 2022-01-01 Teachers have faced serious public critique regarding their effectiveness and professionalism in classrooms At every level their work is often measured solely against student achievement outcomes often on standardized tests Darling Hammond Ravitch 2010 Unfortunately students who are coming from culturally economically and linguistically diverse backgrounds are often occupying the bottom rungs regarding academic achievement Ladson Billings 1995 Milner 2010 Hucks 2014 What are the obstacles and challenges teachers and students face in their respective school settings and how do they grapple with and overcome them Finally what do these teachers and students know that motivates and informs their work The scholars in this volume will take up these questions and share the findings of their research in the field of leadership teacher education and achievement These concerns are not limited to the geographic boundaries of the United States of America Engaging purposeful teaching is an imperative that concerns students teachers teacher educators educational leaders and education policy makers around the globe There are many educators worldwide who are committed to delivering this type of teaching and promoting learning that is engaged and active The four sections of the book capture the work of educators in teaching in diverse global settings such as the Australia United Kingdom Jamaica Turkey and across America As diverse populations of students enter American classrooms it is important for their teachers to have relatable examples of purposeful teaching that are culturally responsive and culturally relevant

Pluriversal Literacies Romeo Garcia, Ellen Cushman, Damián Baca, 2024-01-02 Decolonial projects can end up reinforcing dominant modes of thinking by shoehorning understandings of Indigenous and non Western traditions within Eurocentric frameworks The pluralization of literacies and the creation of so called alternative rhetorics accepts that there is a totalizing reality of rhetoric and literacy This volume seeks to decenter these theories and to engage Indigenous contexts on their own terms starting with the very tools of representation Language itself can disrupt normative structures and create pluriversal possibilities The volume editors and contributors argue for epistemic change at the level of the language and media that people use to represent meaning The range of topics covered includes American Indian and Indigenous representations literacies and rhetorics critical revisionist historiography and comparative rhetorics delinking colonial literacies of cartographic power and modernity northern and southern hemispheric relations and theorizations of from oceanic border spaces

CounterStories from the Writing Center Frankie Condon, Wonderful Faison, 2022-04-15 CounterStories from the Writing Center gathers emerging scholars of colour and their white accomplices to challenge some of the most cherished lore about the work of writing centres Writing within an intersectional feminist frame this volume s contributors name and critique the dominant role that white straight cis gendered women have played in writing centre administration as well as in the field of writing centre studies This work will shake the field s core assumptions about itself Practicing what Derrick Bell has termed creative truth telling these writers are not concerned with individual white women in writing centres but with the social political and cultural capital that is the historical birthright of white straight cis gendered women particularly in writing centre studies The essays collected in this volume test defy and overflow the bounds of traditional academic discourse in the service of powerful testimony witness and counterstory CounterStories from the Writing Center is a must read for writing centre directors scholars and tutors who are committed to antiracist pedagogy and

The Routledge Handbook of Digital Writing and Rhetoric Jonathan Alexander, Jacqueline Rhodes, 2018-04-27 This handbook brings together scholars from around the globe who here contribute to our understanding of how digital rhetoric is changing the landscape of writing Increasingly all of us must navigate networks of information compose not just with computers but an array of mobile devices increase our technological literacy and understand the changing dynamics of authoring writing reading and publishing in a world of rich and complex texts Given such changes and given the diverse ways in which younger generations of college students are writing communicating and designing texts in multimediated electronic environments we need to consider how the very act of writing itself is undergoing potentially fundamental changes These changes are being addressed increasingly by the emerging field of digital rhetoric a field that attempts to understand the rhetorical possibilities and affordances of writing broadly defined in a wide array of digital environments Of interest to both researchers and students this volume provides insights about the fields of rhetoric writing composition digital media literature and multimodal studies

Writing Across Cultures Robert Eddy, Amanda Espinosa-Aguilar, 2019-07-01 Writing Across Cultures invites both new and experienced teachers to examine the ways in which their training has or has not prepared them for dealing with issues of race power and authority in their writing classrooms The text is packed with more than twenty activities that enable students to examine issues such as white privilege common dialects and the normalization of racism in a society where democracy is increasingly under attack This book provides an innovative framework that helps teachers create safe spaces for students to write and critically engage in hard discussions Robert Eddy and Amanda Espinosa Aguilar offer a new framework for teaching that acknowledges the changing demographics of US college classrooms as the field of writing studies moves toward real equity and expanding diversity Writing Across Cultures utilizes a streamlined cross racial and interculturally tested method of introducing students to academic writing via sequenced assignments that are not confined by traditional and static approaches They focus on helping students become engaged members of a new culture namely the rapidly changing collegiate discourse community The book is based on a multi racial rhetoric that assumes that writing is inherently a social activity Students benefit most from seeing composing as an act of engaged communication and this text uses student samples not professionally authored ones to demonstrate this framework in action Writing Across Cultures will be a significant contribution to the field aiding teachers students and administrators in navigating the real challenges and wonderful opportunities of multi racial learning spaces
